BLACK TAKES NO PART IN DENYING NEGRO'S APPEAL

Withdraws in Noted Scottsboro Case.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 25.—[Special.]—By withdrawing from consideration of the Scottsboro Negro rape case, Associate Justice Hugo L. Black, former Ku Klux Klansman, forestalled a threatened challenge of the validity of his appointment to the Supreme court.

This was disclosed today when the court announced its refusal to review a 75 year sentence to the Alabama penitentiary imposed on Haywood Patterson for raping a white woman in the celebrated Scottsboro affair. Appended to the typewritten order denying Patterson's petition was this sentence:

Not Identified with Case.

After President Roosevelt had appointed him to the court as an outstanding liberal and after his appointment had been confirmed by the senate, Justice Black was exposed as a member of the Alabama klan—a life member, according to the evidence. In his answer to the charges Justice Black admitted he had joined the klan, but asserted he had resigned and had not accepted the life membership conferred upon him later.

In that same defense Justice Black repudiated the tenets of the klan when he asserted that Negroes "are entitled to the full measure of protection accorded to the citizenship of our country by our constitution and our laws."

During the six years that the Scottsboro case had been before the court Mr. Black uttered no reference thereto in the senate or in any other place and, so far as is known, never was identified with either side of the controversy. It, therefore, was not because of partisan interest that the justice withdrew from consideration of the Scottsboro case.

His Job in Danger.

There was, however, grave danger that if he should participate in the consideration of the case and the appeal should be denied he would find his $20,000 job seriously jeopardized as the result of an assault by the aggrieved parties on his constitutional right to the position he occupies. And the greatest danger was that his colleagues would entertain the challenge and proceed to pass on its merits.

The allegations of two white women that they had been raped by nine Negroes in a freight car stirred public indignation to a white heat in Alabama six years ago. Whether or not they were incited by any klan organization, mobs sought repeatedly to take the defendants from custody and lynch them. Even the Alabama courts were charged with acting under the influence of the racial intolerance fomented by the klan.

Reversed by High Court.

Eight of the defendants including Patterson were convicted and sentenced to death. Twice Patterson was saved from execution by the Supreme court and once by the Alabama Supreme court.

On the fourth trial Norris was sentenced to death and Patterson to 75 years in prison and two others received 75 and 99 year sentences. The others were freed on the rape charge.

Patterson appealed to the United States Supreme court on the ground that he was refused permission to be tried in a federal court and that the trial judge's charge allowed the jury to find him guilty of conspiracy to rape even though the assault was not committed. The court in refusing to review the case issued no opinion, but its action indicated its finding that Patterson's rights had not been infringed.

Might File Ouster Petition.

It has been bruited about, however, that if Patterson's appeal were denied with Justice Black participating, counsel for the Negro would petition the court to oust the justice on the ground of unconstitutional appointment to the tribunal.

That Justice Black looks forward to no interruption of his judicial career is indicated by his leasing of Cranford, a pretentious estate on the outskirts of Alexandria, Va. The house, owned by David Blackwell Smith, was built in the latter part of the 19th century on grounds that were once part of the George Washington estate.

BY EDMOND TAYLOR.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Oct. 25.—Vigorous measures to protect French trade routes are being prepared, it was officially announced tonight, following the sinking of a French submarine chaser by an unidentified plane, generally believed here to be Italian. It was the third act of "piracy" in the Mediterranean in the last forty-eight hours.

The French destroyer Milan was dispatched to Fornells, a port of Minorca, one of the Balearic islands, near which the attack took place. Unconfirmed reports from Marseilles said that in addition a squadron of destroyers has been ordered to the Balearics.

A gray seaplane marked with a black Maltese cross bombed the sub chaser No. 91, setting it afire. The crew of eight maneuvered the boat to shore and escaped unhurt, but later the boat sank.

Built in United States.

The No. 91 was built in the United States during the world war for the American navy, but the contracts were transferred to France. She was 105 feet long, displacing 77 tons. The chaser had been loaned to the Air France Aviation company which has an emergency landing field on Minorca.

Two other "piratical" incidents occurred yesterday. A mystery warship, flying no flag, halted the French freighter Procida ten miles off the French coast, but after protests allowed the vessel to proceed an hour later.

The 2,413 ton French freighter Oued Mellah was bombed between Barcelona and the Balearics and sank during the night. The French destroyers Milan and Mars rescued the crew and landed the sailors today at Toulon, the Milan later dashing off toward Minorca.

Captain Describes Attack.

The captain of the Oued Mellah described the attack on his ship. He said the attacking plane was marked with a black Maltese cross. He said two seaplanes flew high over the ship, one dropping down to do the bombing. He said the freighter was clearly marked with French colors painted on the hatch covers.

[Spanish government officials declared the Maltese insignia is used by Spanish rebel planes. Valencia dispatches said three Italian bombers flying for the Spanish rebels were shot down when they attempted to raid Barcelona yesterday. Unofficial and unconfirmed reports in Madrid said a French freighter sank after the bombardment.]

"Following attacks by airplanes, of which two French boats have been the objects, the government has taken urgently necessary dispositions to determine and identify the aggressors and adopt measures which are called for by such attacks. Already one warship has left for the scene. The government also is taking dispositions to assure protection for the Air France line between Marseilles and Algiers [North Africa]."

Warships to Convoy Vessel.

Air France service will not be interrupted, it was declared. As the first step for the protection of merchant shipping the government announced that destroyers will escort the steamer Koutoubia, which leaves Marseilles for Africa tomorrow.

Today's attack on the subchaser was in French eyes pretty clear evidence that the Nyon "anti-piracy" accord, despite the adherence of Italy, is a dead letter.

It was perhaps the gravest incident which has yet occurred in the

Bares Growth of 'Orgies' at British College

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Oct. 25.—Student "orgies" and spreading immorality in Great Britain's most famous university are disclosed by Keith Briant in a book entitled "Oxford Limited," which was published today.

Briant, who last year was the editor of the Oxford university journal, "Isis," asserts that many girl students have "sexual experience" during their university careers. He estimates the proportion at about one in five, and states that every year there are a few who become specially notorious.

Describes a Typical Party.

Briant describes what he calls a typical party in a dimly lit room. More than an ample supply of "booze" is stocked, he says, and adds that "if the males want to load the dice, some particularly potent drinks are ordered to which the girls are not likely to be accustomed."

One such party, he writes, ended in a "shambles," with most of the participants either lying drunk on the floor or having to be carried to bed. The windows were shattered, the floor bespattered with blood and whisky, and the noise was deafening, according to Briant's account.

Blames "Spinsterocracy."

The author attributes "furtive immorality" at Oxford to rigid restrictions maintained by university authorities on the mixing of sexes. "The chief cause of the trouble," he writes, "is the female don." He adds that girls' colleges are governed by "spinsterocracy" which among its mass of restrictions bans more than a bare minimum of public dances.

Claim Helicopter Record as Nazi Woman Flies 67 Miles

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Oct. 25.—A world distance record for helicopters is claimed by Germany for Aviatrix Hanna Reitsch, who today flew 67½ miles from Berlin to Stendal in the wingless helicopter FW61, built by the Socke Wulf works. Minister of Air Col. Gen. Hermann Wilhelm Goering awarded the title of air captain to the aviatrix.

EAST IS WEST; WEST IS EAST; THEY CAUSE A LOT OF TROUBLE

"This is a fine lot," Joseph H. O'Donnell, a North Shore Line motorman, told Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lickus, prospective purchasers, pointing to a piece of property in Belvidere street, Waukegan. "You can have it for $900." That was in November, 1935.

The Lickuses thought the lot to the east was more desirable for their automobile junk business. Mr. O'Donnell agreed, but couldn't sell it to them. It wasn't his. His was the west lot. The Lickuses shook their heads, but bought the west lot.

They graded it and cleaned it and etched out the rough spots. They built an auto lane through it, dug a deep well in it, and put up a building. Their trade in miscellaneous autos and parts thrived.

A few months ago the Lickuses dressed up the east lot. They dug a new well, built a new auto lane, and moved their building over. They abandoned the west lot. Then they sued O'Donnell in the Lake County Circuit court in Waukegan for $5,000 for selling them the wrong lot. The east one was O'Donnell's.

HOOVER, LANDON TELL G. O. P. THEY ARE NOT ENTRIES

Washington, D. C., Oct. 25.—[Special.]—Former President Hoover and ex-Gov. Landon, both aspiring to be the recognized leader of the Republican party, are understood to have assured party leaders that they will not seek the presidential nomination in 1940.

They are said to have made their position clear in discussing the proposal for a midterm conference in 1938. Both were represented to be definite and final in that determination.

The conference that probably will be held in Chicago next year, the leaders say, would be free from personalities and would thoroughly represent the views of the rank and file if these two men should eliminate themselves from 1940 aspirations. Col. Theodore Roosevelt, who early opposed the conference, said today that he now favors such a meeting.

Russia to Try 'Enemies' for Daring to Pray

BY DONALD DAY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

RIGA, Latvia, Oct. 25.—Instructions of the communist campaign committee in Russia ordering agitators to cooperate with the GPU [secret police] to prevent Christian churches and sects from participation in the Dec. 12 soviet elections are reported to be producing "excellent results."

The Moscow daily, Vecherniaia Moskva, reports the arrest of thirty religious leaders who will be tried on a charge of using the new soviet constitution to cover their "anti-communist activities."

The prisoners include Bishop Innokenti Nikiforov, Archpriest Voskresenija, and eleven other priests, two monks, three deacons, three former landowners, one former prince, and eight former wealthy house owners, according to the newspaper.

Accused of Petitioning God.

The paper stated that Bishop Innokenti in his prayers in ancient Slavonic—a language preserved by the Russian Orthodox ritual—called upon God to lighten the sufferings of the Russians. Petitioning God in this fashion is the same as spreading counter-revolutionary propaganda, says the accusation, stressing that the other accused priests face similar charges. It was alleged that they prayed, thanking God for the new constitution and the liberty of conscience which it proclaims.

The newspaper's writer indignantly states that God had nothing to do with formulating the new constitution and that it is a counter-revolutionary offense to thank Him for it, instead of Dictator Josef Stalin.

Seize Priests in Ukraine.

The arrest of a number of other priests in White Russia and the Ukraine also is reported. Among the charges against the "black crows," as the priests are called by the communists, are that they helped spies collect information for enemies of the soviet government, attended election meetings and urged voters to nominate Christian believers as candidates.

One priest was arrested because he hid a prized czarist decoration.

Able Bodied Reliefers Told to Go to Work

Every able-bodied man on relief must work this winter to earn his keep if he wants to continue to live on the public pay roll.

This was announced yesterday by Leo M. Lyons, Chicago relief administrator, and Oscar E. Hewitt, commissioner of public works, as they disclosed details of a program for giving work to the 28,000 employable reliefers not assigned to WPA jobs.

Until WPA projects become available, able-bodied relief clients will help keep streets and alleys clean and will work removing snow, under the plan devised by Mr. Lyons and Commissioner Hewitt. Lyons explained that this is in keeping with the state legislature's instructions for relief administrators to submit lists of employable persons to highway and street commissioners.

Work Program Devised.

The two officials have devised a staggered work program, designed to give each man five days' work a month to pay for his check, regardless of how much relief he gets. Next Monday the men will begin reporting to their ward offices for assignment. Each week approximately 6,000 will report for work, the men being assigned, whenever possible, to sections near their homes.

Those unwilling to work will be removed from the relief rolls, Lyons said.

The program admittedly is a stopgap, Mr. Hewitt said, until additional WPA jobs can be found. Nineteen thousand men are working on WPA projects now and projects which would employ 60,000 men for eight months are being considered by local WPA officials, he said.

Charles E. Miner, state WPA director, returned yesterday from Washington, where he conferred with Harry L. Hopkins, federal relief administrator, on the possibility of increasing Chicago's project allotment. Miner said an increase is possible, but said projects submitted must be more worthwhile than those already approved by other cities if they are to gain precedence.

10,914 Jobs Go Begging.

Martin P. Durkin, director of the state department of labor, reported yesterday that 10,914 jobs went begging in Chicago during August. His report was based on figures by W. Frank Walkowiak, chief inspector of private employment agencies, after a study of 163 employment agencies.

Walkowiak said many persons prefer to stay on relief or WPA jobs rather than accept work paying $60 or $75 a month.

SEEK CUT IN EMPLOYABLES.

Madison, Wis., Oct. 25.—[Special.]—Local government units in Wisconsin must look to the elimination of employables on relief rolls as the means of reducing relief costs, for there is little hope at present that there can be any substantial decrease in the number of unemployables receiving aid.

This was the conclusion drawn today by the Wisconsin Taxpayers' alliance as set forth in its semi-monthly bulletin.

LEWIS ACCEDES TO A. F. OF L. AS PARLEY BEGINS

BY WILLIAM FULTON.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 25.—[Special.]—The Committee for Industrial Organization of John L. Lewis backed down on the first test of bargaining strength with the American Federation of Labor late today as the peace conference between these warring wings of unionism got well under way.

The C. I. O., sorely in need of funds and seeking to be bailed out by its rival, agreed to the federation's stand for a small conference. Lewis had originally demanded 100 conferees for each side but President William Green of the A. F. of L. held out for a small negotiating body.

Communists Back Lewis.

This problem met, the A. F. of L. then demanded information on the C. I. O. membership rolls which are reported padded with hundreds of thousands of nondues paying workers in the newly organized fields. The only value of this latter group is to increase the political stature of John L. Lewis, who has the support of the communists in his ambition to form a national farmer-labor front to capture the presidency in 1940.

The two peace committees, emerging from their smoke filled conference room late this afternoon, issued a noncommittal joint statement that overnight "certain information" would be gathered together so the conference would be ready tomorrow for "proposals setting forth a basis for negotiations looking to a settlement of the controversy."

Both sides were squaring off tonight for a discussion that will go to the core of the controversy.

Will "Don Overalls Today."

"We'll put on our overalls tomorrow," said George M. Harrison, president of the railway clerks and chairman of the A. F. of L. negotiators.

Harrison heads a committee of three. The C. I. O., delegation numbers ten and is led by Philip Murray, chairman of the steel workers' organizing committee.

The capitulation of the C. I. O. on the first issue involved, that of the number of peace ministers to sit across the table from each other, was regarded as showing the way of the wind. Lewis had wanted a larger body because the unions in his amorphous organizations are suspicious of each other and demand equal representation. At first he demanded 100 conferees, then went down to thirty-two, one for each of his international unions. He finally reduced the number to ten.

Holds Out for Three Emissaries.

The A. F. of L. held out for its original three emissaries appointed two years ago for the purpose of negotiating with the C. I. O. The ten on the C. I. O. slate represent five from new unions and five from the original unions in the Lewis organization.

Since the federation membership is on a dues paying basis and all a matter of record, it is important to the A. F. of L. to learn exactly the status of the group with which it is doing business.

Lewis has boasted many times of the strength of his organization, but at the recent meeting of his organizers in Atlantic City the claims were not borne out. It was disclosed, for example, that only 200,000 steel workers are paying dues instead of 500,000 as originally claimed.

Of the reported 475,000 automobile workers in the C. I. O., only 150,000 are paying while approximately 250,000 textile workers are dues paying, rather than 425,000 as asserted by Lewis.

The older unions, the miners and textile workers principally, have watched their treasuries dwindle under the constant tapping by the C. I. O. Now faced with financial collapse and sick of the Lewis dictatorship, these unions are pulling the props out. The only alternative was to sue for peace from the A. F. of L.

Given "Full Authority."

"We are going to take up the main question in dispute and see if we can settle it," Harrison said. "This is a full-fledged conference and we will attempt to negotiate a final settlement."

Murray agreed that the present parley is not a temporary conference.

Asked whether the two groups had final authority to negotiate an agreement, Harrison asserted that he and his two associates are vested with "full authority."

"The A. F. of L. group told us they had full authority," said Murray in reply to the same question. "Of course, it goes without saying that the C. I. O. conferees have full authority."

The first of the group to quit the smoke-filled hotel room was Homer Martin, president of the C. I. O.'s United Automobile Workers of America. His felt hat was crushed down over his eyes and he hurried to the elevator through a gauntlet of reporters and photographers.

"I'm going over to see Mr. Lewis," he said, diving into an elevator.

Agreed On at Denver.

The peace conference was agreed upon at the Denver convention of the A. F. of L. when President Green announced that he had received a telegram from Murray proposing the meeting on Oct. 25. The federation won in the early skirmishing when it refused to attach any strings to the conference. As conferees Green appointed three men: Harrison, Matthew Woll, president of the Photo-Engravers, and G. M. Bugniazet, international secretary of the Electricians union.

Besides Murray and Martin, Lewis named eight others as C. I. O. representatives. They were David Dubinsky, president of the International Ladies Garment Workers; Sidney Hillman, president of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers; Harvey Fremming, C. I. O. director in Chicago; James B. Carey, president, United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers; S. H. Dalrymple, president, United Rubber Workers, Michael J. Quill, president, Transport Workers; Joseph Curran, president, National Maritime Workers, and Abram Flaxer, president of the government workers.

ACE G-MEN PRESS HUNT FOR ROSS, MISSING A MONTH

Many veteran operatives of the bureau of investigation, department of justice, have been concentrated in Chicago in the last week to carry on the search for the kidnaped Charles S. Ross.

These men, it was said, include the aces who worked on the case of John Dillinger, noted outlaw who was shot to death in 1935, and some of those who recently wiped out the Brady gang in a shooting affray at Bangor, Me.

The federal agents are continuing their painstaking efforts to learn the identity of the kidnapers through tracing the bills that made up the $50,000 ransom that was paid in vain for Ross' release.

Ross was seized a month ago yesterday in Wolf road near the Westward Ho golf course, as he and his former secretary, Miss Florence Freihage, were returning to Chicago after a dinner at Sycamore. Some investigators believe he died in the hands of his captors.

MILLION DOLLAR DEBT FORCES C.I.O. TO BOW TO GREEN

As the peace conference at Washington between representatives of the American Federation of Labor and the Committee for Industrial Organization began yesterday, attention was called to the fact that in addition to being a struggle between rival labor organizations for power it is a battle involving many millions of dollars.

Much publicity has been given to the contribution made by John L. Lewis, father of the C. I. O., to the Roosevelt campaign last year. Official reports now place that sum at $452,418. It also has been shown that the same treasury, that of the United Mine Workers—Lewis' own organization—was used to lend $905,000 to the C. I. O., and that this same treasury held a balance of $3,563,772 on June 1 of this year.

A. F. of L. Funds Pour In.

But the other side of the story never has been given the public. That is that President William Green of the A. F. of L. now has war funds pouring in at the rate of $400,000 a year from members of international unions, that he can expect to receive between $1,500,000 and $2,000,000 during the next year from the federation's own federal unions, and that in the treasuries of the federation internationals there is approximately $25,000,000 in cash and quick assets.

It is now stated authoritatively that there are four internationals allied with the federation that are richer than Mr. Lewis' United Mine Workers. They are the Carpenters and Joiners of America, considered the wealthiest union in the world, the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, and the American Federation of Musicians. Each of these, it is said, now has in its treasury more than the $3,563,772 reported by the Lewis United Mine Workers.

C. I. O. Forced to Terms.

It is this solid financial strength of Green's, both in regular income and in reserves, it is said, that forced the C. I. O. recently to come to the original terms he laid down two years ago as the starting point for the present negotiations. One difference [and possibly the chief one] between the two big organizations is that the A. F. of L. receives regular financial support from all of its members, while some of the C. I. O. unions permit nondues paying membership and none of the receipts of those unions is sent directly to C. I. O. headquarters.

The Lewis movement began on borrowed money and has lived in that style. A recent report of Thomas Kennedy, international secretary and treasurer of the United Mine Workers, showed that on Nov. 25, 1935, that organization lent the C. I. O. $5,000 with which to start business. On April 26, 1936, there was another loan of $5,000. On Dec. 1, 1936, the figures began to mount. The loan at that time was $355,000. Seven months later came the biggest of all. On June 1, 1937, the United Mine Workers turned over $540,000.

Debts Total $1,105,000.

This brought the total the C. I. O. borrowed from this source up to $905,000. Kennedy's report showed that not a dollar of that amount had been repaid. In addition, it has been reported that $200,000 lent by the Amalgamated Clothing Workers still is unpaid. On these two accounts alone, therefore, the C. I. O. is in debt $1,105,000 and has no income with which to meet the obligation.

It was this situation that is said to have forced the C. I. O. leaders at their recent Atlantic City conferences to accept Green's terms for a peace conference. It has been reported that they told Lewis the C. I. O. must have another $500,000 to keep going, and that he replied that the United Mine Workers would go no further.

A. F. of L. in Good Shape.

In contrast to this shaky financial condition, the A. F. of L. constantly has been strengthening its position. Last May the executive council asked that the customary contribution of 1 cent per month from all union members be doubled. The plan was put into effect without trouble, and at the recent Denver convention action was taken to make the 2 cents per month per member a fixture. This will produce about $35,000 a month for Green's use in special organization work.

In addition to this source of revenue, the A. F. of L. receives directly from each of the half million members of its own federal unions—approximately 1,000 of them—monthly dues of 35 cents. This, it is said, will produce between $1,500,000 and $2,500,000 during the next year.

And back of all this steady inpouring of cash, it is said, is more than $25,000,000 in the treasuries of the international unions affiliated with the A. F. of L.

INQUEST WITNESS

[TRIBUNE Photo.]
MRS. EMILY WHITE.

Mrs. Emily White testified at an inquest yesterday that her husband, John, organizer for the United Automobile Workers of America, asserted on his deathbed that he had been shot by Charles Cain, a rival organzier for the same union, which is affiliated with the C. I. O.

White was fatally wounded Tuesday in the headquarters of local 477 of the U. A. W. A. at 5948 Grand avenue. Three members of the union, questioned by the police, asserted that Cain was the slayer. He had been sought diligently since the shooting, but has not been apprehended. The inquest was continued to Nov. 16 to allow police to continue their investigation.

Patient Gives Physician a 12 Pound Mushroom

Dr. Lawrence Mertes has the mushroom; all he needs now is a steak big enough to go under it. In his office at 1511 East 53d street yesterday the doctor displayed a 12 pound mushroom sent him by a patient, Mrs. Mabel Williams, who found it near her home at Bass Lake, Ind. It is 45 inches in circumference. A steak in proportion to the mushroom would cost how much?

SHIPPING ON EAST COAST CONTINUES IN GRIP OF STRIKE

Parley Called as Freight Is Held at Ports.

New York, Oct. 25.—[Special.]—No freight moved out of this city for southern ports today as the paralyzing conflict between striking longshoremen and the harassed coastwise shipping lines continued. Neither side took any steps to end the stalemate which has tied up all trafic to the South Atlantic coast ports. The coastwise operators have scheduled a conference to discuss the situation tomorrow.

None of the lines affected has moved a ship out of New York since the announcement last week that the four affected companies were unable to comply with the wage and hour demands of the International Longshoremen's association, an affiliate of the American Federation of Labor. No freight is being accepted at the docks for shipment to ports between New York and Florida, where the trouble originated.

Rival Union Coöperating.

One feature of the current strike is peculiar to the bitter union warfare that has kept the city's maritime front a hotbed of trouble for more than a year. The C. I. O. and A. F. of L. have carried on a determined struggle for control of the rich port, with consequent great losses to the shipping lines. In this instance the rival groups are coöperating.

The American Federation of Labor unit controls pier workers all along the coast. Joseph Curran, radical leader of the C. I. O.'s National Maritime union, is supporting the demands of the longshoremen. He asserted that seamen have agreed to refuse to move ships either loaded or unloaded by strike breakers in the ports in which the longshoremen's strike is effective.

Operators Determined.

The four major lines affected by the coastwise shipping tieup are the Clyde Mallory, Savannah, A. H. Bull & Co., and Merchants and Miners transportation. Operators of these lines declare they will keep their ships idle despite a truce in the southern ports until the wage problem has been definitly settled.

The union has submitted demands for two new wage contracts, calling for a regular hourly wage of 60 cents and an overtime wage of 90 cents. In North Atlantic ports the demand is for $1 an hour and $1.50 for overtime.

These demands represent varied increases in the southern ports, where no single standard exists, and increases of 10 to 15 cents an hour in the northern ports.

Plead Lack of Revenue.

The southern contracts expired Oct. 1, and the strike of 8,000 longshoremen was called because of the refusal of the lines to grant increases. In the north the contract will contiune until Oct. 31. At a conference held between the contending parties the operators pleaded that present freight rates did not warant further increases in operating costs.

Spokesmen of the lines declared that when they meet with the union they will refuse to grant the demands in any port.

ALICE SILVERTHORNE DIVORCES BRITON SHE SHOT ON PARIS TRAIN

LONDON, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Mrs. Alice De Trafford, formerly Miss Alice Silverthorne of Chicago, today was granted a divorce decree nisi from Raymond Vincent De Trafford. The decree was granted on grounds of adultery and was not contested by De Trafford.

They were married in February, 1932, almost five years after she shot De Trafford and wounded herself on a London boat train at Paris. She was tried by a Paris court, which handed down a suspended sentence of six months in prison. Later President Gaston Doumergue granted a full pardon. At that time she was the Countess de Janze.

Mrs. De Trafford, who now lives in Kenya colony, East Africa, is a niece of Mrs. J. Ogden Armour of Chicago. De Trafford formerly was an officer of the Coldstream guards.

GUNMAN SLAYS DISTRIBUTOR FOR RACE BET PAPER

With a single shot, a well dressed gunman last night killed Nicholas Basso, 26 years old, 1007 South Mayfield avenue, a distributor for the National Scratch Sheet, a racing paper. The murder took place in the tavern at 4428 Madison street.

Nicholas Basso.

Basso was a brother of George Basso, described by police as a labor organizer, but better known for his persistence a few years ago in violating the no parking ordinance.

Young Basso was at the bar with three friends, two of them now or formerly connected with racing services, when the killer entered the saloon. He had visited the place earlier, but had left. He eyed Basso intently, and Basso walked up to him. "Are you looking for me?" Basso asked. The man replied yes, and cursed, then fired one bullet which pierced Basso's heart. The slayer escaped.

Police were unable to uncover a motive for the crime, but said they would investigate possible gambling rivalries and also the possibility of mistaken identity.

MONTAGUE NOT IN HOLDUP RING, ONE OF ROBBERS SAYS

Mother Also Offers Alibi for Night of Crime.

Elizabethtown, N. Y., Oct. 25.—[Special.]—Contrasting defense witnesses held a crowded courtroom spellbound here today with testimony which they hope may save John Montague [Laverne Moore], Hollywood golf wizard, from a possible ten years in prison for a seven year old robbery.

Mrs. Mary Moore, frail, white haired mother of the defendant, plaintively testified that "he was always a good boy to me." Montague's mother and two of his sisters also testified that he was at home in bed at Syracuse, N. Y., 200 miles away, on the night he is accused of taking part in the robbery of Kin Hana's roadhouse at Jay, N. Y.

At the other extreme was William Martin, alias William Carleton, ferret faced former convict, gunman, rum runner, and gambler, who cunningly evaded questions asked by Assistant District Attorney Thomas W. McDonald and yet admitted he never had "squealed" on a friend.

Denies Montague Took Part.

Martin freely confessed he robbed the roadhouse the night of Aug. 4, 1930, but denied Montague was one of three men with him. He admitted, as did another witness, that Montague was interested in rum running, but neither witness said that Montague did any bootlegging.

It was the concensus in the courtroom that he was a more cunning witness than Roger Norton, who testified for the state that Montague was in the holdup party. Norton served two years after turning state's evidence against the others.

On the witness stand Carleton said Norton had advised him that Kin Hana, owner of the roadhouse, had given officials a tip that caused one of the Carleton's rum cargoes, coming down from Canada in 1930, to be "knocked off." He ascribed to Norton the plan to holdup the Hana place for revenge. He insisted that Montague knew nothing about the robbery.

Sisters Stick to Story.

Mrs. Moore and her two attractive daughters, Mrs. Mary Allen and Mrs. Madeline McGrath, testified that the defendant came home at least two hours before the time of the robbery and retired.

McDonald dismissed the mother with a kindly "No cross-examination." Both sisters stuck to their story, also their mother's, that when Montague left his home Aug. 6, two days after the holdup, he did not tell his destination, but merely said that he was off to seek a career in golf or baseball.

Before the Moore family testified, the defense introduced several substantial Syracuse citizens who were unanimous in declaring the defendant's reputation for honesty was "good." None was able to recall his conviction of petit larceny in Syracuse in 1927.

The case may go to the jury tomorrow afternoon or Wednesday morning.

KILLS HER FATHER

GLADYS BREITFELLER.

CHARLES BREITFELLER.

New York, Oct. 25.—[Special.]—Gladys Breitfeller, 15 years old, a Jamaica High school pupil, stabbed her father to death today in their home in Bellaire, after he had resumed a quarrel with her mother.

"I thought he would kill her when I saw the knife in his hand," the girl told police. "I grabbed the knife from him and in the scuffle I stabbed him."

The scuffle started six hours before when her father, Charles Breitfeller, 36, an automobile salesman arrived home intoxicated, police said. Mrs. Breitfeller, according to her story, attempted to aid her husband and was abused by him until she succeeded in getting him to bed. Later, when he resumed the argument, he is alleged to have taken a carving knife from a cabinet and started toward his wife.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Oct. 25.—The duke of Windsor, former King Edward VIII. of England, was busy today answering a flood of telephone calls, including lengthy ones to London. He left his hotel only once. During the afternoon he picked out several new trunks and bags for his American tour and conferred with an official of the American embassy.

The duchess was about town most of the day getting the last items of the wardrobe which she intends to display in the United States.

The sailing plans have not been revealed. However, the duke, it is intimated, is not worried about being able to get the accommodations he wants, which partly confirms the rumor that passage has been arranged and that the name of the boat will be disclosed only at the last moment.

CHARGE FORGERY OF SHANAHAN'S DEATH BED WILL

Signature Faked, Jurors Hearing Contest Told.

Testimony that the signature on the death bed will of David E. Shanahan was a forgery was introduced yesterday at hearing of the suit seeking to invalidate the document, in which the veteran Illinois legislator left his $850,000 estate to Helen Troesch Shanahan, his secretary and secret bride.

The charge was made by Attorney Francis Brinkman, Shanahan's adviser in legal and real estate matters for ten years, before a jury in the court of Judge Michael Feinberg.

"I have seen Mr. Shanahan's signature thousands of times, and I say that this is not his signature," Brinkman said under questioning by Attorney Eugene P. Kealy.

Two Cousins Contest Will.

Kealy represents Miss Mary and Miss Margaret Flynn, cousins of Shanahan, who are contesting the will and seeking to void his marriage to Miss Troesch, performed Oct. 5, 1936, in Mercy hospital. Shanahan died 13 days later at the age of 74, when the marriage was revealed.

Kealy showed the jury a score of checks for hospital expenses, signed by Shanahan, for comparison with the signature on the will. The Flynn sisters are trying to establish a will made on May 27, 1936, which gave them 80 per cent of the estate with 20 per cent going to Miss Troesch.

Brinkman revealed that on Aug. 23, 1936, Miss Troesch had demanded $25,000 in bonds from him.

Tells Visit to Hospital.

"I was called down to the hospital by Miss Troesch, who said Dave wanted to give her something," Brinkman testified. "I told her Mary Flynn had power of attorney and was the only one who could open the safety deposit box.

"Miss Troesch said Dave wanted her to have $25,000 worth of bonds from the box. I asked Dave if that were true. I got no answer. He just mumbled unintelligibly."

Shanahan's death and the dramatic revelation of his marriage were described to the jurors by Brinkman.

"When Dave died," he said, "I was standing at one side of his bed and Miss Troesch at the other. Suddenly she took a paper packet from her pocket and drew out a wedding ring, slipping it on her finger. 'There's no more business for you here,' she said. 'I'll take care of my husband's affairs.'"

Prof. Franklin Bobbitt Sued by Wife; Accused of Beatings

Charging extreme cruelty, Mrs. Sarah Annis Bobbitt filed suit for divorce in the Circuit court yesterday against Franklin Bobbitt, nationally known educator and professor of educational administration at the University of Chicago. Prof. Bobbitt is 61 years old and lives at 5723 Kenwood avenue.

Mrs. Franklin Bobbitt.

Mrs. Bobbitt not only asked for a dissolution of their marriage, but a court order to restrain her husband from molesting her. She expressed fear of bodily hazards at his hands. She also asked suitable alimony.

Wed in 1903 in Manila.

The Bobbitts were married on June 2, 1903, in Manila, Philippine Islands, where he was an instructor in the Philippine Normal school. Their married life, declared Mrs. Bobbitt, progressed normally until 1914 when she became seriously ill. Prof. Bobbitt, she charged, declined in any way to help her during that illness.

Then in early November, 1932, she continued, he struck her repeatedly, making her face black and blue. At the same time, she added, he called her names. On or about May 6, 1935, she alleged, Prof. Bobbitt knocked her to the floor, and called her names again.

Mrs. Bobbitt declared she had always been a true wife, but that her husband often became angry at her, and that he had an ungovernable temper. She asserted his conduct has made her life with him unsafe, and that she has therefore not lived with him as his wife for four and one-half years.

Home Is Hers, She Says.

The bill states that Prof. Bobbitt's salary from the university is $6,000 a year, that he owns considerable stocks from which he has an income, and that he is worth at least $20,000. The Kenwood avenue home he now occupies, she states, belongs to her, and she asks the use of a part of it.

Prof. Bobbitt has been with the University of Chicago since 1909, excepting for leaves of absence in 1922 and 1924 when he served as assistant superintendent of schools in Los Angeles, Cal., and in Toledo, O. The Bobbitts have one daughter, Mrs. Margaret Miller. Attorney L. E. Dadmun represents Mrs. Bobbitt.

LAWYER IN MISER WILL FORGERY TO SERVE JAIL TERM

Attorney Julius P. Waitches surrendered yesterday to complete serving a one year sentence in the county jail imposed in March, 1935, for contempt of court.

The Illinois Supreme court ordered Waitches and three others, implicated in forging the will of James Thomas Kelly, flop-house miser who left a $140,000 estate, to complete their jail terms. They served seven weeks before being freed on bond.

Nicholas Radis, one of the conspirators, is being sought. Mrs. Bella Butman, another, is in the Bridewell serving a year for stealing a watch. John J. Bagdonas, the fourth is in Joliet penitentiary, serving a sentence in the will case.

FOUR IN BUSINESS ADVISORY GROUP VISIT PRESIDENT

Insist Invitation to Dinner Is Only Mission.

BY WALTER TROHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hyde Park, N. Y., Oct. 25.—[Special.]—President Roosevelt spent an hour today with four members of the business advisory council, which advises the administration on industrial relations.

After the conference Averell Harriman, New York banker, who heads the group, said that the gyrations of the stock market had no part in the conference. He insisted the call was made merely to extend an invitation to the President to attend a dinner of members of the advisory group in December or January.

Denies Discussing Market.

In fifteen minutes of persistent questioning by reporters Harriman insisted the meeting had no other purpose. He said the group had not discussed the market, the impending special session of congress or government finances in their relation to business.

He denied reports the group had come up to press the President to make a statement or speech which would be reassuring to business.

"The President displayed interest in our suggestion," Harriman said as he left the family home, "but I don't know whether he will do it or not."

Harriman said that the dinner will be entirely "a family affair" if the President accepts the invitation.

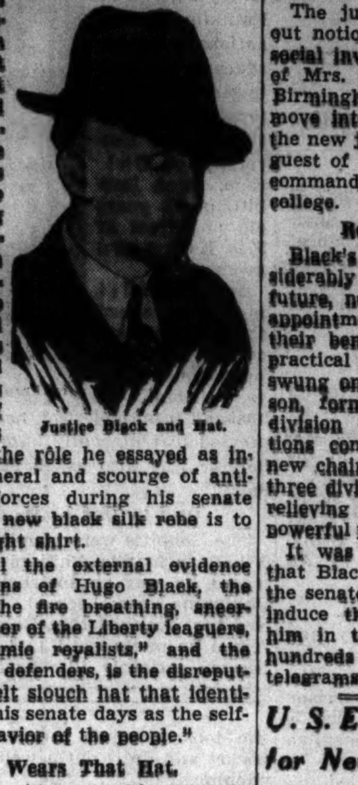
Appointed by Roper.

The advisory council was appointed by Secretary of Commerce Daniel C. Roper to advise the administration on relations with business. Originally it was to work toward a voluntary enactment of NRA principles. The members serve without pay.

Harriman was accompanied by Clarence Francis of New York City, Morris Leeds of Philadelphia and Ralph Flanders of Springfield, Vt.

Justice Black Retreats from Publicity He Once Enjoyed

BY CHESLY MANLY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]



Justice Black and Hat.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 25.—[Special.]—Justice Hugo L. Black, the former Ku Klux Klansman whom President Roosevelt appointed to the Supreme court, has become something of a mystery man since his ascension to the judicial ermine. His habits and movements are those of a recluse, as foreign to the rôle he essayed as inquisitor general and scourge of anti-Roosevelt forces during his senate days as his new black silk robe is to a cotton night shirt.

About all the external evidence that remains of Hugo Black, the politician, the fire breathing, sneering prosecutor of the Liberty leaguers, the "economic royalists," and the constitution defenders, is the disreputable gray felt slouch hat that identified him in his senate days as the self-anointed "savior of the people."

Still Wears That Hat.

Mr. Black still wears this same old weather beaten hat and the same plain business suits, blue and gray, that he wore as the senior senator from Alabama. But he bowed to the social obligations of his exalted office even before he returned to the United States on Sept. 29 to ascend the bench on Oct. 4.

In Bond street, London, he purchased a silk hat and a formal frock coat, the conventional habit of Supreme court justices when they call on one another for tea or pay their respects to the President in the White House.

The justice's office help has sent out notices that he is not accepting social invitations pending the return of Mrs. Black from their home in Birmingham, Ala., when they will move into a new home. Meanwhile the new justice has been a temporary guest of Maj. Gen. Wallace De Witt, commanding officer of the Army war college.

Relatives Are Worried.

Black's relatives are said to be considerably worried about the political future, now that the Supreme court appointment presumably has removed their benefactor from the world of practical affairs. The ax already has swung on one of them, A. G. Patterson, former chief of the telephone division of the federal communications commission, Frank McNinch, new chairman of the FCC, abolished three divisions at one stroke, thereby relieving Patterson and two other powerful political figures of their jobs.

It was largely through Patterson that Black was able, as chairman of the senate inquisitorial committee, to induce the FCC to coöperate with him in the seizing and copying of hundreds of thousands of private telegrams in the summer of 1936.

U. S. Engineers O. K. Plans for New Halsted St. Span

Plans for a new Halsted street bridge over the north branch of the Chicago river were approved yesterday by the war department at Washington. The new bridge, to cost approximately $1,000,000, will replace the structure built in 1896, which has been weakened by heavy truck trafic over its 30 foot roadway. Wider by 14 feet the proposed bridge will be started in about a year.

U. S. INDICTS 44 MEN AND WOMEN IN N. J. FOR WHITE SLAVERY

Trenton, N. J., Oct. 25.—[Special.]—Twenty-four indictments, accusing 44 men and women, were returned here today by the federal grand jury investigating the white slave trafic. Four other persons previously were indicted and it is expected that additional true bills will be handed down before the inquiry is completed.

All of the indictments returned today charged transporation of women to and from Atlantic City in violation of the Mann act, according to Assistant United States Attorney William F. Smith. The names of the 39 persons were made public, including 16 women. Indictments against five persons were impounded.

CHAMPAIGN DIVES OPEN; POLICE FAIL TO MAKE RAIDS

Champaign, Ill., Oct. 25.—[Special.]—Expected police raids on houses of prostitution recently exposed by the Daily Illini, student publication of the University of Illinois, did not materialize tonight.

Reports earlier in the night indicated that some police action would be taken. A survey by investigators revealed only three houses closed and twelve still open.

President Arthur C. Willard of the university denied reports that he had asked Gov. Henry Horner to send state police here to close up the dives. The governor in an earlier statement had made clear his stand that any police action should be taken by local authorities.

HE SAYS MY MEALS ARE BETTER THAN EVER...

...SINCE I GOT MY ELECTRIC RANGE

And it's so EASY to cook with electricity . . . takes much less time to get my meals, too

● "Enthusiastic" is the way to describe the feeling that users have for their electric ranges . . . for here, at last, is the range that every woman has hoped some day to own.

Automatic—the time and temperature controls of your electric range do the "watching and waiting" for you. This means that you can put the dinner in the oven, set the controls and leave for the day—knowing that a perfectly cooked meal will be ready to serve when you get home.

Clean—electric cooking does not soil pots and pans—leaves kitchen walls and draperies free from soot and grime.

With Chicago's low rates, the electricity used by the average modern electric range costs only $2 to $2.50 per month or less.

Enjoy the convenience, the perfect results, the better meals that electric cooking offers! A very liberal purchase plan makes it easy for you to own the electric range of your choice. Select yours at once—at electric appliance stores, furniture, hardware or department stores—at neighborhood or downtown Commonwealth Edison Electric Shops.

WOMEN JURORS VIEW EVIDENCES OF 3D POISONING

Palmer Disinterment Is Surprise to Defense.

BY VIRGINIA GARDNER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Cincinnati, O., Oct. 25.—[Special.]—The 11 women and one man jury trying Mrs. Anna Hahn for murder by poison today surpassed itself in displaying a cool attitude in the face of revolting testimony. Many of the men spectators in the courtroom left their prized seats, appearing pale and sickened, as the state's exhibits were placed in evidence.

Almost as calm as the incredible Mrs. Hahn, who has failed to show any emotion before the jury except by a change of color and an intensified interest in the jury itself, the ladies took a lively interest in the lurid exhibits.

Mrs. Hahn is on trial for the murder of Jacob Wagner, 68 years old, who died in a local hospital last June 3. The state is introducing, as evidence of motive and design, testimony concerning four other instances of poisoning.

Linked Earlier to Two.

Already the state has connected Mrs. Hahn with the violent death by arsenic of George Obendoerfer in Colorado Springs, Colo., last Aug. 1. Late Friday, before the illness of the chief defense attorney postponed the trial, testimony regarding Mrs. Hahn's association with Albert J. Palmer, 72 years old, was introduced. Notes she wrote him in which she addressed him as "dear sweet daddy" and "honey" were identified.

Prosecutor Dudley Miller Outcalt at the continuance of the trial today attempted to start questioning witnesses as to the blonde Anna's acquaintance with another elderly suitor, George Gsellman, 67 years old, for whose poison murder she also is under indictment. Judge Charles S. Bell, however, sustained a defense objection ruling that the state must complete the evidence of one murder, or what the court refers to as "a collateral transaction" before going on to another.

Spring Surprise Expert.

Dr. Robert Kehoe, physiologist, then was placed on the witness stand and described in general terms the symptoms of arsenic poisoning, the almost tasteless quality of arsenic, except for a certain sweetish flavor, and its lack of odor.

An enormous paper carton then was dragged up to the witness box and its contents removed, one brown paper parcel after another. About twenty-four of these packages, sealed with red sealing wax, which often was scattered over the side, were placed before the witness. Dr. Kehoe declared he was present at the post-mortem of Palmer on Sept. 29; that the dead man's organs were removed and he had marked them, examined them for arsenic content and resealed them.

Jury Is Sent Out Again.

"Your honor, I object to the introduction of these exhibits," said Defense Attorney Joseph Hoodin, partly recovered from his cold. "I ask the jury be excluded."

Outside the jury's presence, he went on: "We sit as these things are brought in here open mouthed. We haven't heard of them. We aren't prepared. Why wasn't the defense allowed to be present at this disinterring of Palmer's body?"

"As I recall," said Prosecutor Outsalt, happily, "counsel in his opening statement defied the state to prove arsenic was found in the body of Palmer."

"The court isn't at all concerned in any defis made by either side," said Judge Bell.

The jury returned. Prosecutors busied themselves with the packages. Dr. Kehoe climbed down off the witness stand and fussed with them. The brown paper rattled. The back of Anna Hahn's neck became whiter, the circles under her blue eyes darker. Members of the jury sat forward intently.

"What is that?" asked Prosecutor Outcalt, cheerily.

"That is the brain of Albert J. Palmer," was the reply.

Tells Arsenic Content.

And so on. Part by part was shown in its parcel. Dr. Kehoe then described minutely the arsenic content in the entire body. It was estimated at slightly more than one grain.

This was a much smaller quantity than that disclosed in the viscera of Jacob Wagner, according to previous testimony.

After two and a half hours of Dr. Kehoe's testimony another large carton was shoved toward the witness and he identified another series of mysterious paper parcels as the organs of Jacob Wagner.

Dr. Kehoe testified at the night session that 5.9 grains of arsenic were found in the body of Wagner in an analysis made after a third autopsy of the body on Aug. 27. Later witnesses will explain that the amount decreases after burial.

Asked a hypothetical question which defined conditions already described as those under which Wagner died, Dr. Kehoe declared it his opinion that Wagner died of arsenic poisoning. Asked a similar question concerning Palmer, he replied:

"Death was due to a combination—extensive cardiac damage, with damage to the liver, and presence of arsenic in the body. In view of the symptons described, death probably was caused by arsenic poisoning, and it at least was a contributory cause."

Attorney Hoodin asked a long series of questions seeking to obtain admission that, by taking it for years, one might build up an arsenic tolerance.

Over defense objections the state was allowed to place two witnesses on the stand, both women, who said they knew Gsellman in his lifetime and that he was in good health about July 1. He died July 6.

George Heis, 63 years old, the crippled former admirer of Anna Hahn, who the state says is the only survivor of her ministrations, waited during the day without taking his turn on the witness stand.

MISS OCTAVIA PICCHIONI.

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 25.—[Special.]—As suddenly as she started the suit a year ago, Octavia Picchioni, today dismissed her $200,000 breach of promise action against Ezio Pinza, opera basso.

Although Pinza looked as startled as he did last year when process servers found him in the opera house here, he declared he was delighted that the case had been ended.

The singer was accused in the suit of breaking a promise to marry Miss Picchioni which she had accepted in 1933. It was said he met her in 1929. She was then only 20 years old.

Attorney William T. Kirby of Waukegan has been appointed conciliation commissioner for Lake county by the judges of the Federal court in Chicago. NAME RECEIVER TO UNSCRAMBLE WARANT MUDDLE Seek to Recover Cash for Unpaid Claims.

Judge Michael Feinberg of the Circuit court yesterday took the initial step toward recovering $9,000,000 from former holders of 1929 tax anticipation warants of the board of education, who were paid in full, so that unpaid warant owners may share with them on a pro rata basis.

The United States Supreme court last week refused to review a ruling last February of the federal Circuit Court of Appeals. This ruling held that the school board should not have retired the 1929 warants numerically; that is, as they were issued. Instead, the court held, the board should have paid all warant holders alike, as the taxes were collected.

In retiring its warants serially the school board paid out $52,683,000, representing about 83 per cent of the entire issue. This money, under the fedral court decision, should have been distributed on an 83 per cent basis to all warant holders. Instead, holders of the remaining 17 per cent of the warants have been paid nothing.

The federal court ruling held that the tax collections were a trust fund; that, since tax anticipation warants had been issued against the collections, the revenue as it came to the board from the county treasurer's office belonged to the warant holders and not to the board, and that all warant holders had equal claims to the fund. This, it was reasoned, the board wrongfully distributed the money on a numerical basis.

Receiver Is Appointed.

Acting on that decision, Judge Feinberg appointed a receiver to administer the fund which already has been disbursed by the board of education, and to disburse further tax revenue. As receiver, he will be empowered to sue warant holders who have been paid in full for 17 per cent of the money they received, and will turn the proceeds over to those who received nothing. This 17 per cent amounts to $8,956,110.

Arthur M. Thompson of 2000 Lincoln Park West, a nonpracticing attorney, was named receiver. He is a member of the Chicago Stock exchange and an extensive holder of real estate.

Judge Feinberg's action was on the request of Attorneys Mayer Goldberg and Joseph B. Sullivan, representing Charles B. Scoville Jr., who holds $30,000 worth of outstanding warants. His suit asked that all warant holders be paid on a pro rata basis.

Another suit seeking payment of all warants on a 100 per cent basis is also pending in the Circuit court. This action accuses the school board of a breach of trust in disbursing the warant funds.

In the federal court decision the school board, as a corporation, was also held liable for nearly the full face value of the $10,000,000 outstanding in unpaid 1929 warants. Experts have declared the only method of paying this sum is through a bond issue after the unpaid warants have been reduced to judgments.

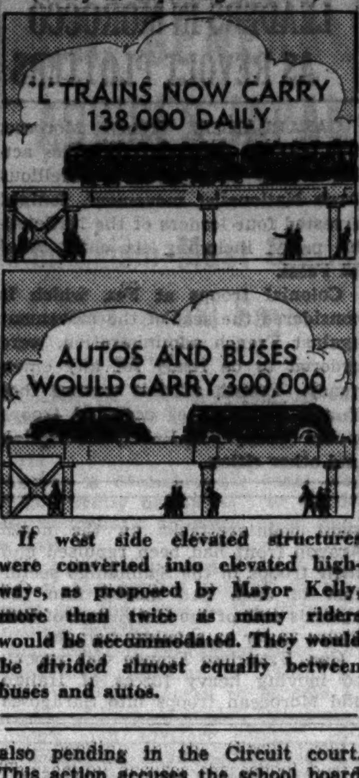
Assessment Cut Blamed.

A reduction in 1929 assessed valuations is chiefly responsible for the board's inability to meet the full warant liability. After the warants were sold the assessed valuation was cut sharply, so that the final levy was not much in excess of the outstanding warants.

Today the amount of unpaid warants is in excess of the amount of delinquent 1929 taxes that there is any reasonable expectation of collecting. This 1929 tax delinquency was written down in the 1937 school board budget to nearly $3,000,000.

WEST SIDE TRANSIT

(Story in adjoining column.)



'L' TRAINS NOW CARRY 138,000 DAILY
AUTOS AND BUSES WOULD CARRY 300,000

If west side elevated structures were converted into elevated highways, as proposed by Mayor Kelly, more than twice as many riders would be accommodated. They would be divided almost equally between buses and autos.

REVEAL SALE OF FATHER COUGHLIN PAPER TO OHIOAN

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 25.—(AP)—Sale of "Social Justice," weekly publication of Father Charles E. Coughlin's National Union for Social Justice, to an organization headed by Walter Baertschi of Toledo was announced today.

The sale, made known by Father Coughlin's counsel, thus removed the priest's hand from a second medium through which he had carried on political and social crusades. Recently Father Coughlin, following reproof from his church superior for certain utterances, canceled a scheduled series of radio addresses which would have marked his return to the public forum after months of absence.

TRACTION PLAN WOULD DOUBLE W. SIDE SERVICE

Kelly Program Provides Faster Schedules.

BY WILLIAM BROMAGE.

More than half of the 58 million public expenditure proposed in Mayor Kelly's transit rehabilitation program would be spent on improvement projects for the west, northwest, and southwest sections of the city, examination of details of the plan discloses.

Mayor Kelly's plan, which proposes a total expenditure of 157 million dollars, including 99 million by the owners of transit lines, was announced last week. Negotiations between the city and transit interests are expected to begin as soon as all the details of the plan are completed next month.

30 Million For West Side Work.

Approximately 30 million dollars of the total public outlay would be required for the construction of 20 miles of elevated superhighway for the west side, chiefly through conversion of all except the Garfield Park branch of the west side elevated lines of the Chicago Rapid Transit company. The west, northwest, and southwest would be beneficiaries also of the proposed street car subways in the downtown business district for east-west car lines. The street car subways would cost approximately 10 million dollars.

Conversion of the western divisions of the rapid transit rail lines would enable the elevated structures to serve considerably more than twice as many west siders as now use the elevated lines, according to city engineers.

The elevated railway lines which would be converted into superhighways are the Lake Street, Douglas Park, Logan Square, and Humboldt Park and Paulina street branches. Additional structures would be built in Randolph street and Milwaukee avenue to supplement and coordinate them.

The divisions of the elevated which would be converted now carry approximately 138,000 passengers daily. According to estimates made by city engineers, at least this number would patronize fast buses operated over the elevated highways. Operating schedules being worked out as part of the plan are based on a 10 per cent increase in riding on public carriers.

300,000 Riders Daily.

In addition, the superhighways would have sufficient capacity to carry 96,000 private cars a day, it is estimated. Figuring an average of 1.7 passengers per automobile, the estimated number of riders in private cars is placed at 163,000 a day. This would make a total of more than 300,000 using the elevated structures contrasted with the present 138,000.

Preliminary schedules indicate that faster time would be made by buses operating over the superhighways than by the present elevated rail operation.

One proposed schedule for an express bus run on the Lake street line, for example, sets up a running time from Cicero avenue to the downtown business district at the average rate of 30 miles an hour.

Exceeds Present Schedule.

This is faster than any schedule on the rapid transit system today. In fact, it is faster than express rapid transit runs in other cities. Other express runs will be as fast or faster than present west side elevated schedules.

Preliminary schedules contemplate a 23 mile an hour average for superhighway buses making local stops every half mile. This is faster than local service furnished by the elevated.

Service to present users of west side elevated lines would be three times as frequent under the proposed plan. More frequent service would be possible because of the smaller units. An elevated train of two or more cars can carry more passengers than a bus, but the smaller unit makes more frequent service possible.

MYSTIC'S GLOBE FAILS TO PREDICT HIS VISIT TO JAIL

Robert Nelson, 41 years old, who proposed to reveal his mystic powers to all citizens of Waukegan who would pay to see, was in jail last night after a one night stand in the Finnish Temperance hall. At his first and last performance Sunday Nelson endeavored to show he could pass a needle painlessly through a boy's cheek. When the boy, Eino Jenstrom, 720 Helmholz street, Waukegan, came home from school yesterday with an infected face, his father, Emil, had Nelson arrested. Nelson was arraigned for disorderly conduct before Magistrate Clarence L. Brown. He was unable to find $500 bond.

SECOND FRENCH SHIP WRECKED BY PLANE BOMB

U-Boat Chaser Hit, Burns; Crew Saved.

Mediterranean, as Minorca is a vital base commanding French communications with North Africa. These communications already are seriously menaced by Italian bases on the rebel held islands of Mallorca and Ibiza.

The French navy has accordingly warned the government that it would be "strategically intolerable" to let Italy occupy Minorca, the only one of the Balearics still in the hands of the Spanish loyalists.

Russia to Walk Out.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Oct. 25.—Europe's family quarrel over the withdrawal of foreign "volunteers" from the civil war in Spain once more has reached one of its crucial stages.

Russia is going to walk out at tomorrow's meeting of the chairman's subcommittee of the nonintervention committee, or if not tomorrow, as soon afterwards as it is "opportune" to do so. Soviet Ambassador Ivan Maisky has advised Capt. Anthony Eden, British foreign secretary, that the Russians will not pay anything further toward the committee's upkeep, since the whole machinery of nonintervention, in the soviet view, merely camouflages an entirely different situation.

The committee will hear reports from each government on the Italian "offer" to agree to a proportional withdrawal of volunteers from each side after their numbers had been determined by two commissions to be sent to Spain.

Conversations during the week-end, however, have shown that this has now all gone haywire and that no one is expected to be taken at his word as given last week.

The Italians, in fact, advised the French and British that the figure for Italian troops fighting in Spain is 40,000 and that to question this figure just simply would not be friendly.

Hitler Instructs His Envoy.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Oct. 25.—Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler today gave parting instructions to his ambassador to London, Joachim von Ribbentrop, on the German attitude toward the question of foreign volunteers in the Spanish civil war. Von Ribbentrop returned late last night from Rome, where he had a conference with Premier Mussolini of Italy.

PLANE SINKS BOAT

"Pirate" planes yesterday bombed the second French ship in two days near the Balearic Island of Minorca (indicated by cross). The boat, a submarine chaser, was set afire, but the crew maneuvered it to shore and escaped before it sank.

DUCE TO HONOR ITALIAN TROOPS KILLED IN SPAIN

ROME, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Official announcement was made tonight that Premier Mussolini would pay public homage Oct. 29 to Italians who have fallen in the Spanish war by placing a crown of oak leaves on the tomb of the "Unknown Soldier" in their honor.

The announcement said 20,000 Fascist Black Shirts and a group representing the army and navy would form in the Piazza Venezia to witness the ceremony.

The program will include reading of the "Soldiers' Prayer," taking of the Fascist oath and awarding of bravery decorations for the fallen. The mothers and widows of war victims are expected to attend as well as a group of convalescent legionnaires home from Spain.

REBELS THROW MORE POWER INTO ARAGON DRIVE

Seek to Split Barcelona from Valencia.

HENDAYE, Franco-Spanish Frontier, Oct. 25.—(AP)—The Spanish rebel offensive to drive a wedge between Barcelona and Valencia encountered stiff resistance today along the Aragon front in northeast Spain.

Frontier reports said the line extending more than 100 miles south from the French border to the Saragossa sector remained virtually unchanged following infantry battles near the Pyrenees and an artillery duel at Zuera, fifteen miles north of Saragossa.

The rebels declared that government counterattacks on the north Aragon front had been repulsed and their troops in the Sabinanigo sector east of Jaca had moved into the uplands east of the Hermitage of San Pedro under an artillery barage.

Gen. Francisco Franco was reported moving heavy forces of Italian and Moroccan troops into Saragossa province after the conquest of Northwestern Spain.

Mussolini Congratulates Franco.

Franco announced that the complete domination of the northwest gives the rebel régime control of 72 per cent of the population and 66 per cent of the territory of Spain after fifteen months of civil war.

Rebel headquarters at Salamanca published a telegram of "personal felicitations" from Premier Mussolini of Italy to Franco for the northern victory. The Mussolini telegram said: "The news was received with the greatest enthusiasm by all Italy."

Machine Gun Madrid Streets.

MADRID, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Two Spanish rebel pursuit planes darted out from low-hanging clouds today to give Madrid its first taste of aerial warfare in several months. With machine guns chattering, the planes dived low over the center of the city. Everyone rushed for shelter and no deaths were reported.

HAND TO HAND BATTLE RAGES ON SHANGHAI'S EDGE

Chinese Slow Down Jap Drive Along Front.

BULLETIN.

SHANGHAI, Oct. 26 (Tuesday).—(AP)—The Chinese army spokesman admitted today that Japanese had occupied Tazang, key Chinese defense position northwest of Shanghai.

BULLETIN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TOKIO, Oct. 26 (Tuesday).—Japanese troops today captured Miaohang on the Shanghai battle front after 37 hours of continuous fighting, the war office announced.

SHANGHAI, Oct. 26 [Tuesday].—(AP)—Chinese bombing planes carried the fight to Japanese positions on Shanghai's northern fringe early today while Chinese infantrymen held doggedly against the onslaughts of some 160,000 Japanese along the twisting front north of the city.

A Japanese army spokesman admitted the Japanese drive had "slowed down" after six days of the fiercest offensive operations of the ten week old battle for Shanghai. Foreign experts estimated 300,000 Chinese troops were holding the defense line northwest from Shanghai to the Yangtze estuary.

Fight in Key Town.

Five miles away from the city Chinese and Japanese were fighting hand to hand in the streets of Tazang, key to the back door of the Chinese positions at Kiangwan and Chapei, where the Chinese flank is protected by the neutrality of the international settlement.

The Japanese spokesman said the main body of the Chinese was retreating westward from Tazang, while the Japanese were pressing steadily against Chinese units left to fight the covering rearguard action. Japanese said they had occupied several villages west of Tazang and were attempting an enveloping movement under cover of a smoke screen.

The Japanese said the Chinese were falling back on Nanziang and Chenju, main bases of their "winter line" about ten miles in rear of the first line of defense.

Barbed Wire Slows Advance.

Foreign military experts believe the Japanese will take a breathing spell to bring up their heavy artillery to destroy barbed wire entanglements that have slowed their advance.

A correspondent of the Domei [Japanese] news agency, the first civilian to fly over the entire Shanghai front, reported not a wall was left standing in Tazang. He described the city as "a thin strip of ruins."

Bomb explosions rocked the international settlement as Chinese planes attacked Japanese positions. Fragments of shells fired from Japanese anti-aircraft guns fell in the foreign districts.

British to Fire on Raiders.

As the result of the Sunday morning plane attack in which a British soldier was killed, British army authorities issued orders to all their defense posts to fire without hesitation on any attacking planes.

The attack, which endangered twenty Americans and other foreigners, was referred to London and Tokio for settlement. Maj. Gen. A. P. D. Telfer-Smollett, commanding British troops at Shanghai, said the incident was "too big to be dealt with locally." Local British officials lodged two protests with the Japanese, who announced a court of inquiry was meeting to determine responsibility and possible punishment of the pilot.

The spokesman explained the pilot attacked the British defense post under the impression it was a Chinese position.

Her Husband Seized

MRS. VIOLET BARTLETT.

For a few minutes yesterday William A. Bartlett, a realtor with offices at 30 North La Salle street, thought his troubles were over. His second divorced wife, Mrs. Violet Bartlett, 2322 Commonwealth avenue, and her attorney, Si Herr, agreed to take $50 towards payment of $1,800 remaining due under a $15,000 settlement, and Judge John J. Lupe continued a contempt of court citation for two weeks.

But as he stepped from the court into the corridor Bartlett was seized by two deputy sheriffs and bundled into the county jail. Attorneys Harry Tobin and Robert Dowling, representing Maurice Flynn, a restaurant owner of La Salle, Ill., said Bartlett had not paid a $2,869 jury judgment which contained a malice count, under which he can be jailed if he does not pay. The judgment was returned two years ago in Superior court.

STRIKE AT RUSSIA NOW, GENERAL ADVISES JAPAN

Communism Must Die in Orient, Araki Says.

TOKIO, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Gen. Baron Sadao Araki, who as minister of war directed Japan's conquest of Manchuria in 1931-33, today declared "it probably is necessary for Japan to strike directly at Russia" to eliminate communist influence from the far east.

Communism, he asserted, is the root of the present turmoil in the orient and the cause of the Chinese-Japanese conflict.

Gen. Araki, in retirement since the Tokio army uprising of February, 1936, recently emerged to become a member of Premier Prince Fumimaro Konoe's high advisory council. He has long been a strong advocate of a stern policy toward soviet Russia.

Charges Pact Violation.

"There are two principal causes of the present conflict," the general said. "The first comes from the Chinese violation of the agreement signed after the 1932 fighting at Shanghai which provided for a demilitarized zone around Shanghai. As soon as possible the Chinese built fortifications there and moved garrisons into them.

"Beneath this tangible fact lies the invisible influence of communism. Chiang Kai-shek [the Chinese dictator] first used Japanese aid in unifying China. Now he has decided to cast his lot with the communists. He has switched from one to the other several times in the past. Undoubtedly he is merely using the communists now. When they no longer are available he will turn elsewhere, perhaps to Japan.

Describing communism as a worldwide octopus with Russia as the body, Araki said:

Aims to Kill "Red Influence."

The general, recalling that he was in Russia at the time of the 1917 revolution, said he saw atrocities "which were burned on my brain forever."

"They convinced me communism is the enemy of humanity," he continued. "Now Japan will help China establish a strong central government, thus banishing the red influence. Otherwise it may be necessary to destroy Chiang Kai-shek's government forever."

KRESGE STORES TO BAR IMPORTS FROM JAPANESE

New York, Oct. 25.—[Special.]—The growing boycott on Japanese merchandise by the American buying public, particularly in larger cities, resulted in an announcement today by the S. S. Kresge company that it will import no more goods from Japan.

"We are well aware that there is opposition to the sale of Japanese made goods," said R. E. Clements, manager of the Kresge New York office. "We have a comparatively small stock of Japanese goods, particularly chinaware, on hand. We are not bringing in any more Japanese made goods after the present stock is disposed of."

EVERY MAN A CALIPH

By CALEB

AN old friend of mine in New York recently told me of five years he spent with a great sultan's private company of singers. When the sultan entertained the Kaiser Wilhelm—who always admired fine large soldiers—he spared no expense in assembling a guard of honor of two hundred extremely big and handsome men from all over his country.

When a celebrated shah—a great lover of diamonds—came to visit the sultan, the sultan had the electric light switches in the walls of his guest house removed and replaced with diamonds!

When my friend was heard in an Italian opera company by the sultan, the sultan sent a representative to say, "The sultan wants just such a basso as you in his private company."

"I have a contract," answered P——.

"Oh, give that not a thought. We will arrange all that."

And they did.

Long before I heard these tales, I had pictured, perhaps as a result of youthful reading, sultans and shahs and caliphs, silk swathed, able to assemble at the clap of their hands servants to do their bidding. Now I have recently read that the Caliph of Cairo a thousand years ago craved a dish of cherries which he knew should be sweet ripe in an orchard four hundred miles away. So six hundred carrier pigeons were taken to the orchard and released to return to the Caliph's capitol—each pigeon with a small silk bag containing a single cherry tied to its leg.

The average man in Chicago cannot set light switches with diamonds—and wouldn't care to if he could. Nor need he assemble an impressive guard of honor for his guests. But he has a great many advantages which the caliphs of old and even rulers of more recent times have never been able to enjoy. Those men in eminent places were subservient to the slow unfoldings of transportation and time. They generally had to wait months, literally months, for good things from remote lands to be brought to them.

There would be vast expense to one man's procuring a simple single little item of merchandise from a far-off land even today. But we abridge that expense for you. And thus help make every man a caliph!

GERMANS ABROAD CALLED UPON TO BALLYHOO NAZIS

Millions Urged to Help Their Fatherland.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Oct. 25.—In addition to its official representatives, Nazi Germany "will have millions of individual representatives and national groups in foreign lands" to help further the German cause, the official periodical, Four Year Plan, declares in its October issue. The paper is dominated by Col. Gen. Herman Wilhelm Goering, dictator of the Nazi self-sufficiency program.

In an article on "the importance of Germans abroad for Germany," and the possibility of "making use of them for cultural and economic purposes," reference is made to Germans in America who "through their numbers and economic importance almost were able to proclaim the German language as the language of the American union."

Seeks Support.

"At present every third German is living abroad," the article says. "It is up to them to become factors of intellectual, moral and economic value on whose support Germany can count.

"The German fatherland which increasingly feels itself responsible for all members of the German family, not only takes care of their interests, but intervenes in their behalf. The German fatherland asks: On what persons of German blood can I [the fatherland] count—even if they are no longer conscious of their Germanhood—when I call for the coöperation of everyone of them in the struggle for existence of the entire German nation?"

Urged to Study Nazi Ideas.

Without giving a direct answer, the periodical continues:

"Groups conscious of their Germanhood should acquaint themselves with the ideas of National Socialism [Naziism] and, after accepting them, increase their efforts in behalf of Germany tenfold. But we also have noted that persons who through their origin are of the German race—though not feeling or thinking as Germans—cannot fail to busy themselves with National Socialist ideas."

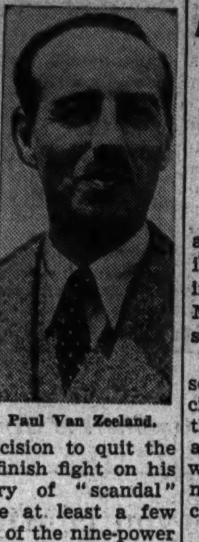
BELGIAN PREMIER RESIGNS TO FIGHT SCANDAL CHARGE

Van Zeeland to Face Bank Probe.



Paul Van Zeeland.

BRUSSELS, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Premier Paul Van Zeeland resigned tonight to defend himself as a private citizen against charges of his political enemies concerning the administration of the Belgian National bank when he was its vice governor five years ago.

The premier's cabinet ministers resigned en bloc with him and drafted a letter to show their confidence in his integrity.

Van Zeeland's decision to quit the government for a finish fight on his foes' persistent cry of "scandal" threatened to force at least a few days' postponement of the nine-power conference called for Oct. 30 at Brussels to seek "amicable means" of ending the Chinese-Japanese war.

Van Zeeland Faces Probe.

Moves were under way to retain the same kind of coalition government with little change of personnel, perhaps headed by Foreign Minister P. H. Spaak, Finance Minister Henri de Man or even a non-politician as premier.

Van Zeeland, who was educated at Princeton, will face a judicial investigation of the national bank which goes back to the five-year old failure of the Goldzieher and Penso bank. The government opposition charged the national bank, while Van Zeeland was vice governor, had been negligent in accepting doubtful paper from the Goldzieher and Penso bank.

Governor to Defend Self.

The present governor of the bank, Louis Franck, was granted a three months' leave to defend himself against what he termed a malicious campaign of political enemies—mostly the Fascist Rexist party of Leon Degrelle.

The Rexists first precipitated a crisis over the bank administration last month with charges that Van Zeeland had received improper bonuses from the bank. He defended himself against these allegations before parliament and was given a vote of confidence.

In a radio message to the nation tonight Van Zeeland referred to the attacks in connection with the national bank.

"These incidents I consider as not concerning myself either directly or indirectly," he said. "But I cannot ignore them. They must be cleared up completely for the sake of the bank and myself."

2 MOTOR CLUBS FAVOR PARKING METERS IN CITY

Alderman Wants Cash to Acquire Public Lots.

BY HAL FOUST.

Two of Chicago's three leading automobile clubs yesterday indorsed installation of curb parking meters in this city. The third, the Chicago Motor club, is opposed to the installation.

At the same time Ald. John A. Massen [48th], chairman of the city council trafic committee, said he will bring the parking meter discussion before a meeting of his group later this week. The alderman favors this means of producing revenue for the city to acquire public parking lots.

Mayor Kelly, while keeping an open mind on the subject pending further study by the council, has told aldermen that he is opposed in theory to the principle of the city renting space on the street in front of a property owner. He is also fearful of the possibilities of graft in the installation and operation of the meters.

Used in 27 Cities.

A recent survey found twenty-seven cities in America using the curb slot machines. Nine other cities had tried the meters and they had been taken out for legal reasons or due to objections from merchants or from motorists. The twenty-seven cities liked the machines.

The meter consists of a coin box mounted on a pole on the curb beside a twenty foot parking space marked on the pavement. The motorist drops a nickel in the slot. A green metal flag is raised, indicating that the car is legally parked. At the end of a designated time, usually an hour, the flag is dropped, a signal to all who pass that the car is illegally parked.

"The device would certainly be a big help in badly congested, outlying business districts where all day parkers hog the limited curb space," said Si Mayer, president of the Automobile Club of Illinois. "There will never be enough patrolmen to police parking without some such contrivance."

Sees End of Cruising.

"This regulation of parking," said Carl Barrett, president of the Illinois Automobile club, "is of benefit to trafic. It reduces cruising around and around the block for a place to park. It gives ample space at the curb so that a machine doesn't have to buck bumpers, delaying trafic, to get into a hole."

"It's another tax on the motorists, and we're against it for this reason," said Charles M. Hayes, president of the Chicago Motor club.

Before a recent meeting of the American Institute of Trafic Engineers, officials of Toledo, O., and of Dallas, Tex., told of the success of meter operation in their cities. They said that the device permitted enforcement of limited parking with a minimum of policemen, and that bus, street car, and automobile trafic had been increased in speed with a reduction in accidents.

Wanted on Near North Side.

William C. Calvert, executive secretary of the North Central association, has petitioned the council to install meters on shopping streets on the near north side so that customers can find places for their cars for a nickel while patronizing merchants.

"When new buildings start going up in Chicago again," said Ald. Massen, "there won't be room for automobile storage unless the city provides it. The present privately operated lots constitute a temporary and an uneconomic use of valuable realty. It's cheaper for the city of provide parking space off the streets than to widen streets for parking."

Ex-Convict and Parolee Seized by Oak Park Police

Philip Carroll, 31 years old, 2155 Natchez avenue, an ex-convict, and Frank Bohn, alias Katzke, 29 years old, 2109 North avenue, a paroled convict, were arrested by Oak Park police last night and are being held for investigation. Several skeleton keys, a thin piece of steel, and a screwdriver were found in Bohn's pockets.

WOMAN KILLED AS SHE DRIVES CAR INTO TRAIN

Witness Sees Her Speeding at 80 M. P. H.

Mrs. Gunnar Taube, 22 years old, mother of a son, 4 months old, was killed early today when she drove her automobile at high speed against the side of a moving freight train. The accident occurred on the Milwaukee railway tracks on route 176 in Roundout, Lake county. Mrs. Taube, her husband, an electrical engineer, and their son recently came from Hamilton, O., and were living at the Waukegan hotel, Waukegan.

Police were told that she was seen drinking in a roadhouse and that when she left it was suggested she be followed to see that she came to no injury. Alfred Zengler, 29 years old, 834 North Oakwood avenue, Lake Forest, attempted to follow her. He reported she drove as high as 80 miles an hour before hitting the train. State Representative Richard J. Lyons of Libertyville was one of the first on the accident scene and ordered the woman taken to the Condell Memorial hospital. There she was pronounced dead.

Youth Killed in Fall.

William Voss, 17 years old, was killed last night when he was thrown from a truck in Touhy avenue at the North Western railroad tracks one and a half miles west of Mannheim road in Maine township.

Voss and Howard Langguth, 18 years old, who was slightly injured, were riding in the box of the truck driven by the latter's father, Harvey. The youths were dumped to the pavement when the truck hit the bumpy crossing and the end gate dropped. The Langguth and Voss families live on the Langguth farm at Touhy avenue and Mannheim road, south of Des Plaines.

Fatally Injured by Truck.

Olaf Olden, 73 years old, 3047 Montrose avenue, was injured fatally last night when he was struck by a grocery truck at Albany and Montrose avenues. He died soon afterward in the Martha Washington hospital. The truck driver, Clarence Hyland, 3250 Montrose avenue, was held for the inquest today.

Dante Capotosto, 13 years old, 1700 Taylor street, died in the County hospital of a skull fracture incurred when he was struck by an automobile in front of his home.

Frank Tomal, 11944 Calumet avenue, died at the Roseland Community hospital of injuries incurred Sunday night when his car collided with another at Kensington and Prairie avenues. Albert Bonaguro, 313 East Kensington avenue, driver of the other car, is being held by Kensington police.

Woman Dies of Injuries.

Injured Sept. 4 by an automobile at Lake Shore drive and Burton place, Mrs. Rachel Bradt, 3001 Addison street, died at the home of a nephew at 1416 East 68th place.

Mrs. Mary Flynn, 1137 North Laramie avenue, injured Saturday night by a Chicago surface lines feeder bus at Central and Race avenues, died at St. Anne's hospital. George E. Ryan, 5047 Fullerton avenue, the bus driver, was ordered to attend the inquest today.

Mrs. Beulah Swanson, 807 Wadsworth avenue, Waukegan, died in Lake County General hospital at Waukegan of injuries incurred when the car in which she was riding went into a ditch Oct. 7 at the Wisconsin Dells.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 875 persons had been killed in automobile accidents in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these 663 were killed in Chicago, where 18,763 were injured in the same period.

MAY LOSE ALIMONY

MRS. BERNICE CHALMIERS.

Although a husband has definite responsibilities, an estranged wife, if in good health, should support herself and not rely on alimony payments if there are no children, Judge John J. Lupe ruled yesterday. Harry K. Chalmiers, 38 years old, 4141 North Clark street, a tavern owner, asked to have a $10 a week temporary alimony order dissolved. Judge Lupe said he would dissolve it if Chalmiers pays up his $280 arrearage by Nov. 4. Chalmier's wife, Bernice, 24 years old, 4501 Washington boulevard, who is suing for divorce, said she married at the age of 15 and had never learned a trade. Chalmiers said he was supporting a daughter by his first marriage and the orphan son of a war buddy.

JUDGE DEPRIVES 11 WILD DRIVERS OF THEIR AUTOS

Three Are Sent to Jail; Eight Fined.

Judge J. M. Braude in Safety court yesterday sent three motorists to jail, fined eight others, and barred all of them from driving.

Those sentenced to jail were John Borgardt, 4651 North Laporte avenue, sixty days for drunken driving; George Snelling, 1208 Normal avenue, twenty days on a similar charge, and George Greb, 2148 Marshall boulevard, five days for reckless driving. They were ordered not to drive for a year.

FRANK PARUCK, 2639 35th place, $100 and 4 months.

DAVE NOREN, 1935 Clybourn avenue, $10 and 4 months.

CHARLES ARTIMO, 3260 West 111th street, $10 and 6 months.

CHARLES DIDUCCIA, 5945 Grand avenue, $10 and 6 months.

A machine which its inventor says will determine whether motorists have been drinking by discovering alcohol in their breath was demonstrated in the court. The inventor is Dr. Rolla M. Harger of the University of Indiana school of medicine, and the device was brought here by his representative, C. F. Baer.

If the machine were put in use, police would have to carry balloons in which to capture the breaths of suspected drunken drivers. The balloon is attached to a rubber tube leading to a chemical solution. Baer explained that if there is any alcohol in the breath the solution, which is purple originally, will become colorless. A bailiff, devoted to the cause of science, drank two beers at lunch and permitted himself to be used for an experiment. The fluid became colorless, showing his breath contained alcohol.

HAVE TO WRITE NEW LAW TO OUST TRAILERS FROM OMAHA PARKS

Omaha, Neb., Oct. 25.—(AP)—City Solicitor Harold C. Linahan started work tonight drafting a new ordinance designed to eliminate trailer residences in Omaha. His action followed instructions of the city council today to City Building Engineer Rodman Brown to order all trailer dwellers to move. Brown doubted his authority.

"There is no provision in the city building code prohibiting persons from setting up temporary residences in homes on wheels," Brown said. "Our ordinances refer only to permanent dwellings."

The basis of the council's decision to oust the trailers was that they constitute health menaces. Linahan said he knew of no health or sanitary regulations which might be invoked against the trailer dwellers.

KEEPING THE PEACE OF EUROPE.

The Spanish war is regarded as taking a definite turn toward success for Franco and his Italian and German backers with the ending of Asturian resistance. The Negrin-Companys government now has left about one-third of the country which, however, is the most populous part.

The British want peace at almost any price and, although they seem to have been shifty beyond understanding, they have not yet allowed the war to get out of Spain. For once unable to command, they have maneuvered between bluffs and threats from one crisis to another and the threatened peace of Europe is still intact. Possibly they are making one of the best British records in statecraft for their own side.

Unready for conflict, the British government has needed all the shrewdness accumulated in generations of diplomacy. The vital points of British paramount interest have been threatened almost everywhere in the world. Anything that ended the Spanish war would be regarded in London as the beginning of a breathing spell much needed. The varieties of divergent ideas and advocates melded into the Spanish government offer nothing congenial to British governmental tastes. There are too many anarchists, communists, and left wing socialists. If Franco were or could be his own man the British would have no objections if he settled things his own way.

France objects to predominant Italian and German influence in Spain. Both Great Britain and France object to it in the Mediterranean. It would be frightfully upsetting. Probably the success thus far of confining this war of nations to Spain is to be explained by the fact that even Hitler and Mussolini do not want a big war. The advantages are in war scares carried far but not too far. Every one slows up before the last steps are taken. Things were different when Serbia was the cockpit. The nations then thought they were ready.

Time is a valuable ally against war. If people do not try to storm their troubles at the first development something is gained merely by delay. The British have taken sour diplomatic doses, but their statesmen are not in barrels as yet.

DISORDER ON SHIPS.

The following description of conditions in our American marine ought to be known to a public given to travel, if not concerned, as it ought to be, with the economic importance of a national marine, to say nothing of the need of it in war. The quotation is from a recent address by a man who speaks from knowledge, Mr. Joseph B. Weaver, former director of the bureau of marine inspection and navigation. Citing facts to support his assertion that conditions in our marine have become chaos, Mr. Weaver said:

"Drunkenness on the part of the crew has resulted in some of the most disgraceful episodes aboard our vessels. Obscenity, profanity, and even nudity have, on occasion, been thrust in the very faces of women and children passengers. Stewards have grossly insulted passengers at the dining tables, even to the extent of deliberately spilling soup over women, and other similar actions. One lady passenger who had been seasick and not at her table for a day or two came down to dinner and the steward refused to serve her and stated that she had better go back and eat her meals where she had been eating them.

"Intimidation, violence, and bloodshed are the order of the day on our ships and on the waterfront. Our licensed officers are threatened and, on one occasion, tried by the crew. Retaliation for imaginary grievances on the part of the crew has, in one case, resulted in deliberate murder. This particular instance can more properly be called execution."

It seems that communist agitation has been at work among our crews. It is certain that labor leadership of the most extreme and irresponsible type is making trouble among sailors as among longshoremen. On shore it is mischievous enough. At sea it is intolerable.

Mr. Weaver points out that wages and conditions of labor on American ships are far better than in foreign shipping and that those who must seek their livelihood at sea had better face the fact that if conditions do not improve they will bring about the laying up of American ships and the loss of employment. That ought to be obvious, but the men who are fomenting disorder are not concerned with what happens to the sailor.

But there is a national interest in the protection of American shipping from this destruction, and it should be recognized by government. If the laws are inadequate to discipline and punish such conduct, they should be promptly strengthened. But the weakness is not in the law. It is in the failure to enforce order, to put down violence, a failure so flagrant that it has encouraged mischief makers throughout the country. The C. I. O. is under the direction of communists and radicals whose interest is in industrial conflict, not peace. Bridges, the alien communist who runs the Pacific coast longshoremen, is one of the pillars of the C. I. O. The favor shown it by high officials in both the national and state governments has its inevitable consequence in riots, contempt for law and life, and the conditions on our ships described by Mr. Weaver. He has given us a picture of what the country will be like if the connivance of government in lawlessness is not ended.

THE MENACE OF THE UNFIT.

The state department of public welfare reports that there are twice as many insane persons in the state insane asylums as there were twenty-five years ago. In the last five years commitments have increased by 16⅔ per cent. In the same period epileptics and feeble minded under state care have increased nearly five times.

The whole population of Illinois in 1910 was 5,638,591. In 1935 it was 7,817,000. The increase was therefore less than 40 per cent, as compared to nearly 100 per cent for insane and nearly 400 per cent for epileptics and feeble minded. Making a very generous allowance for a possible greater efficiency in the segregation of the unfit, these increases are truly alarming. It is, of course, not confined to Illinois. It is general and undoubtedly constitutes one of the serious problems of modern civilization. One of the chief causes of the increase is unrestrained breeding. We do little to check this poisonous flow into the blood stream of our people. Our failure to restrain the syphilis plague is an outstanding example of public policy.

Our neglect of this problem is largely based on ignorance of the facts, but it is also the result of perverted sentiment. The latter is illustrated in THE TRIBUNE of the same issue that published the report of the Illinois department of public welfare. A dispatch from Kansas announces that group sterilization of defective youth in the institutions of that state will cease. Dr. Turgeon of the state board of administration says that the basic policy of the board will not be changed. Apparently it will only be less expeditious and thorough. An ex-congresswoman has been crusading against sterilization, which she alleges has gone too far because 62 out of 148 inmates of the Girls' Industrial school, a correctional institution, had been sterilized and 22 more are to be.

A law of Kansas passed in 1917 authorizes sterilization in cases recommended by physicians and not opposed by parents, and there has been some application of this law, but the effort of the present administration to deal with the situation effectively has now been thwarted by clamor. Kansas will suffer by this defeat. Its blood stream will continue to be infected and innocent beings incapable of useful or happy lives will be brought into the world.

The prime and urgent need is public enlightenment on this menace, which is one of the gravest civilization confronts. The press and the medical profession should enter a crusade against it, for at the present stage sentimentalism and prejudice are able to obstruct such measures of public defense as have been started.

EDWARD H. HARRIS.

Edward H. Harris, who died on Sunday night in Richmond, Ind., will be long remembered for his valiant defense of the freedom of the press. Mr. Harris was publisher of the Richmond Palladium and the Richmond Item. As a director of the American Newspaper Publishers' association he took a leading part in the struggle to safeguard the press from domination by the government through NRA. He did so at a time when many of his associates in the newspaper world feared to antagonize the administration and many more were still unaware of the importance of the issue confronting them. Mr. Harris saw the danger and acted with admirable courage and tenacity. At a critical period in the history of his profession and his country he rose to his full stature. He earned the gratitude of freemen everywhere.

Editorials of the Day

THE RAINY DAY.

[Illinois State Register.]

In these fall days we have become accustomed again to the vagaries of the weather, as in the years agone. But those of us who complain of "bad weather" would do well to assimilate some of the kindly philosophy which was once voiced by Dr. J. H. Scarr, weather bureau chief at New York City, that "bad weather simply does not exist."

In his view, "bad weather" is nothing more than a superstition created by people who do not like rainy days. A morning grouch occasioned by an overcast sky, he says, indicates that some one misunderstands "the greatest physical influence in the world."

His seasoned philosophy on this subject embodies a good deal of the same idea so well brought out by the Hoosier poet, James Whitcomb Riley. "When it rains," Riley said, "make rain your choice. It is so silly to be disgruntled at clouds. Without them we would be bereft of rivers, lakes, vegetables, and in fact all life.

"Everything we see on earth was brought about by weather. It may be, you know, that we put too much aside for sunny days and, therefore, feel at a loss when it rains. Learn to expand your likes—it makes life much pleasanter. None of us lives in yesterdays. We all look to tomorrow."

He might have added that the rainy days are invaluable for the earth crops of the year round program, and these showers should be regarded more in the large light of their promise of future loveliness, prosperity, and refreshment to the thirsting earth than in the aspect of our individual likes and dislikes.

TYPICAL MIDWESTERN TOWN? WELL—

[Des Moines Register.]

We are inclined to agree with the visiting Briton, Hannen Swaffer, that there isn't any such thing as a "typical midwestern town." When one says "town," does he eliminate the small cities? When he says "typical," does he mean most common as to population, or physical construction and arrangement, or what?

But we will tell Mr. Swaffer something he might otherwise miss.

In the typical midwestern town, if there is such a thing, there will be farmers' automobiles double parked three deep on Saturday afternoon. The dime stores will be crowded. The business district will radiate around a public square, containing the courthouse if it's the county seat. A naturalized Greek will be running either a confectionery or a shoe shining emporium. Somewhere there will be a WPA crew tearing up a street. The postoffice cornices will be filled with pigeons. There is a stream running either through the heart of town or close by. The people still look up to see an airplane fly over and are suspicious of bankers and lawyers. There will be a liberal sprinkling of Petersons and Andersons. And there is an eccentric old citizen whose origin nobody knows, called "Squinty" or "Old Bessie," or some such name.

This goes whether the community has 5,000 souls or 200,000. But maybe it's about the same in Las Cruces and Skowhegan.

In which case Mr. Swaffer, as we have said, was right in the first place.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

Hew to the Line, let the quips fall where they may. Reg. U.S. Pat. Office

COAL MINES aren't very easy to reach, and you come out of them smeared with coal dust. Those are two reasons why the model coal mine at the Museum of Science and Industry we're going to tell you about today should never lose its popularity. The miners who conduct the tours—real miners who've put in their years mining in southern Illinois—say they go home lots of evenings with never a smudge on their nose. They do feel rather amused, they say, polishing their shoes every morning for work, and wearing such spick and span denims. They won't admit, though, that there's any reason why they shouldn't signal, just as they would in a real mine, before coming after you in the lift that drops you down into the amazing subterranean passages. They wouldn't want to get careless and then go back to the mines, where carelessness is measured in human lives. If you don't seem impressed they'll show you the regulation mine board, on which hang the miners' brass checks. It bears the warning that miners who don't turn in their checks before leaving for the evening will be fined the amount it costs to send a searching party in to see that no one's really still in the mine. That's important, in a real mine, where the blasting is done at nights, and where some one may have been overcome by gas.

Children enjoy the miniature train that takes them through the darkness to the coal. Adults giggle, suspect that the train isn't going nearly so far as it seems, and remark sagely that all the clatter and jolting was planned to give the illusion of speed. They seem relieved when the train stops safely.

The conveyors that carry the coal along so patiently, and almost understandingly, aren't such mechanical marvels as the machines whose great arms reach out, take the coal, and drop it into the cars, but the chutelike conveyors are enchanting. They always move the very same shovelful of coal, and no more than two or three feet, but they could transport it miles. That coal, and the coal that makes the walls, is genuine, but in the model mine the machines use either very little coal or none at all. Undercutting ceases to be just a term when the undercutting machine shows how a six inch strip is trimmed out of the coal at the bottom so that above will have place to fall when the blasting's done. Illinois law, the miners say, requires that blasting be done at night; it's a safety measure. Next to working in the model mine, where they don't have to pay the 7 cents a day real mine owners charge for the electricity they burn in the lights on their caps, the miners think working in the southern Illinois fields is the best kind of coal mining. The seams, or veins of coal, are thicker than a man is tall. That means the miners can always stand upright at work. Most places they have to work crouching, and lie down often because crouching makes them so tired.

NERVOUS EXHAUSTION AND DREAMS.

SLEEP, the healer of tired nerves and wornout muscles, comes naturally to those who enjoy good health. If the blessing of deep and untroubled slumber is denied us we should search for some defect in the economy of the body.' A high blood pressure or circulating toxins may defeat rest. On the other hand, slight stimuli such as too much pressure from bed clothing may start a chain of half-waking dreams frightful in the extreme. Many a youngster will come running into mother's bed in the middle of the night to be comforted because of a "bad dream."

While the phenomenon of nightmares has been reported as troubling the people of every age and clime, no single explanation for their occurrence has been forthcoming. Originally it was supposed that the spirit world held dominance over every one. Through the exercise of black magic, individuals were selected here and there for punishment by a throttling demon who was ever present.

Later came the suggestion that the whole business was related to some physical disturbance. The old Roman physician Galen held that nightmares were the direct result of disordered digestion. Even today broiled lobster and Welsh rarebit are regarded as common causes. But the old psychic theory will not down and certain modern writers subscribe to the doctrin that such dreams are the expressions of bad hidden thoughts—"the devil keeping tab on our singuilty consciences."

The typical dream terror is characterized by an agonizing dread which comes over one with an intensity unequaled during the hours of activity. Many complain of stifling or overpowering sensations. Sometimes there is a feeling of tightness of the chest which may almost stop breathing. Then there is a sense of utter helplessness, a paralysis of the muscles, inability to move the limbs, or even to call for help. Finally, breaking through the level of consciousness, the victim may utter feeble cries, possibly awaking from the sound of his own voice. The nightmare may assume almost any form—a monster, a huge machine, a fierce animal, or a vicious man.

It seems probable that with some persons the episodes represent fatigue in which certain higher centers in the brain are out of control for a brief period. We must add then to physical origins those that come from mental or psychic upsets. Most of us have fears out of which we reason ourselves or to which we do not succumb, because we recognize them as improbable or fanciful. With the subconscious mind, stabilizing factors may be lost, and we may conjure up grotesque situations which we would regard as absurd in our waking moments.

Many sufferers have greatly improved their status by some slight modification of the evening meal, reducing its quantity by 50 per cent. Combining this procedure with more rest and guarding against fatigue has proved salutary. Omitting stimulants such as coffee, tea, and cocoa following the noon lunch is a wise precaution, and quiet evenings, devoid of excitement, are a part of the régime.

A warm or tepid bath just before retiring soothes the nervous system and assists repose. Then a simple, easy flowing narrative—that may be read for half an hour or so before sleep comes—will distract the mind from what perhaps may be the more exciting events of the day. Occasionally a dose of some mild sedative such as a bromide will be of value. For the most part it is a question of exhaustion, which includes the digestive tract and the nervous system as well as physical discomfort.

MIGHT BE SCURVY.

L. M. writes: Five years ago I had a severe case of trench mouth. My physician was applying chromic acid and I was using sodium perborate. The condition was not improving and I was in great pain. I asked him if diet would help and he said it would not. Another physician advised me to fill up on vitamin C. I did and in three days the improvement was remarkable, and in ten days I was well.

A few months ago I again developed trench mouth. I drank fifty ounces of tomato juice daily and ate three oranges and a head of lettuce also. In three days every trace disappeared.

In view of my experience I am at a loss to understand why diet is not stressed more than it is.

REPLY.

Trench mouth is sometimes mistaken for scurvy, which is readily cured by the means you have employed. In scurvy, sodium perborate is worthless, as are mouth washes, etc. The thing to do is to take quantities of orange juice and tomato juice and consume a larger proportion of fresh vegetables. It is purely a vitamin deficiency, which yields quite readily to fruits and vegetables. Even though trench mouth is present [Vincent's angina], the vitamins would build resistance and aid the victim in overcoming infection. No doubt many cases of scurvy are diagnosed as trench mouth and treated as such—of course without avail.

MUSTARD BATHS.

Mrs. F. A. B. writes: Whenever I feel a cold coming on I make it a practice to take a hot mustard bath, remaining in the water for twenty minutes or more. A cool cloth to the head will relieve any feeling of faintness. This is followed by a glass or two of hot lemonade and then to bed and to sleep.

REPLY.

An excellent suggestion! The mustard oil irritates the skin, dilates the capillaries, and relieves the internal organs of congestion. The lemonade supplies alkalies and fluid. I wish that every one would attack a cold when it begins—not wait two or three days until it has fixed itself rather deeply on mucous surfaces. Of course, on emerging from the bath the skin will look like a boiled lobster. Care should be taken not to get the mustard water near the eyes. A half cupful of ground mustard is not too much for an adult. The bath water need not be very hot. The mustard will supply plenty of heat—at least it will seem so.

EGGNOGS.

Mrs. R. writes: Would an eggnog each day be injurious to a 9 year old boy? He won't eat cooked eggs, but likes eggnog.

REPLY.

Not at all! Eggnog is an ideal way to give both egg and milk. The flavor may be adjusted to his liking.

BOMBING OUR CITIES

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON.—For the first time all American government offices in London are under one roof with the single exception of the maritime commission.

They all have been moved into a new Georgian brick and stone building at 1 Grosvenor square, next door to the Italian embassy and within a few doors of the Japanese embassy.

Up to now the offices have been scattered all over London. The embassy, since September, 1914, was in Grosvenor Gardens, near Victoria station. The consulate occupied two buildings in Cavendish square and the commercial attaché's office was in Bush house, in the Strand. To find the right person to deal with often meant wandering all over London.

Now the consulate, the military, and naval attachés' offices occupy the ground floor of the building. The embassy has the floor above. The third floor houses the commercial and agricultural attachés.

Mail chutes in all the offices carry letters direct to the dispatch office, from which they are then sent to their destination.

Two American architects, John Russell Pope and Rosario Candela, designed the building. They also designed the new United States government building in the Place de la Concorde in Paris. In London, however, the government is merely renting space on a ten year lease.

The building is five stories high. It is built of red brick with the lowest story faced in white stone. White Corinthian pilasters run up the front of the next three stories and are topped by a cornice running around the building just below the upper windows.

The ambassador's own room is being decorated in the American style of the 1820s. It has white woodwork and is being paneled in silk.

The walls in most of the rooms are finished in pale green with white trim.

Londoners on the whole are pleased with the building. It has been praised for the lack of what they call the "prisonlike" appearance of much modern American architecture.

NOISY DOGS.

Chicago, Oct. 21.—[Friend of the People.]—I would like advice regarding a neighbor who has two dogs that run loose day and night, both barking continuously. We have not been able to sleep at night for the last three months and I have to get up early in the mornings to go to work. I have spoken to them about it, but to no success. Neither dog has a license. Kindly investigate the situation and come to the back where the dogs race and bark all the time.

A. T.

The officers assigned to investigate report that they talked to the owner and told her of the complaint about the dogs. She assured the officers that she would keep her dogs quiet in the future so there would be no cause for future complaints. She was also given a summons for court for violation of section 3955 C. C. [no dog licenses].

UNSECURED LOAN.

Chicago, Oct. 23.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—An uncle of mine loaned $1,600 to a woman who was in business, taking no security. She failed in business. My uncle died in 1919. The executor of his estate had a talk with this woman's son about paying his mother's debt.

1. He agreed to do so and signed papers to that effect and paid $5 a month until four years ago, when the executor died. Then he quit paying. He does not own property. I want to know [2] if I could garnishee his wages. He works for the government, I think. I am my uncle's only blood heir.

THE BUILDER OF THE WATER TOWER.

Lemont, Ill., Oct. 20.—Repeatedly I read articles and hear discussions about the water tower on North Michigan avenue, as to its architecture, the stone used in its building, etc., but never a mention of the builder.

It is my belief that my father, Edwin Walker, was the man who built the North Michigan avenue water tower and the pumping station adjacent thereto.

My father was a cut stone contractor in Chicago before the great fire. He became a quarry owner here in 1866 and thereafter became a producer as well as building contractor. I am sure that an investigation will establish the fact that the water tower is made of Lemont limestone, the same grade of stone that was used in the construction of the Cook county courthouse previous to the one now standing, which courthouse my father built as a contractor.

It is also interesting to know that the the old Central Music hall, which stood on the site of the present Marshall Field building on State street, had marble columns on each side of the entrance. The contractor, who dismantled the old building to make way for the Marshall Field building of today, was a friend of my father's, and when the building was dismantled one of those marble columns was made into a monument for my father. It can be seen in Rosehill cemetery near the main entrance a very short distance from the office.

Another column was used as a monument for the architect who designed the Central Music hall, and is now his monument in a cemetery, I believe, on Irving Park boulevard. GEORGE S. WALKER.

BACK OF HUMBOLDT PARK.

Chicago, Oct. 21.—How many of THE TRIBUNE readers have wanted to travel [and travel, it is] to or through the section just west of Humboldt park and found there isn't north-south or east-west transportation available in that locality?

At the present time there are several petitions for feeder service on Division street between the terminal at Monticello and Grand avenues and the terminal at California avenue. That service would take care of the east-west transportation, if and when it is forthcoming.

But how about north-south transportation? Why can't the Kimball avenue bus—a service finally inaugurated after years of petitioning and fighting by the far north and northwest siders—be run south on either Kedzie or Kimball avenue to the Lake street elevated instead of stopping at the Logan Square "L" terminal?

MR. LANDON'S SPEECH.

Chicago, Oct. 21.—I think any presidential candidate who carried only two very small states which did not even include his own home state should, through extreme humiliation induced as a result of his most ignominious defeat, seek complete seclusion from public life and remain forever as silent as the Sphinx.

P. L.

HE SCENTS A PLOT.

Chicago, Oct. 21.—I'm still amazed at the marvelous coincidence. The stock market suddenly plunges and by pure coincidence Landon, "the forgotten man," suddenly appears and warns the nation to curb Roosevelt. Pure coincidence, pure. L. D.

RAILROADS IN CHAINS.

Chicago, Oct. 14.—I have read with interest Col. McCormick's address to the Chicago Chamber of Commerce on how burocratic red tape is strangling the railroads. Not only should the railroads be permitted to compete with steamships on a fairer basis, but they should be encouraged to operate all types of water borne vessels, air lines, and motor trucking lines. There isn't any doubt that government red tape is ruining the railroads. Railroad systems like the Pennsylvania, New York Central, Southern, Erie, Nickel Plate, Wabash, Florida East Coast, Atlantic Coast line, Seaboard Air line, Burlington, Great Northern, Northern Pacific, Milwaukee, Missouri Pacific, Illinois Central, Baltimore and Ohio, Chesapeake and Ohio, Norfolk and Western, Rock Island, Rio Grande, Western Pacific, Santa Fe, North Western, Union Pacific, and the Southern Pacific need steamships to tap the world markets just like the Canadian Pacific and Canadian National do.

Some day, if Providence shall grant comparative freedom to railroad capital from pernicious governmental interferences, throughout the North and South American continents, it shall be highly probable to travel by rail from the furthermost tip of Alaska to the straits of Magellan. But that won't happen as long as politicians have much to do with it.

S. K.

BUT THE 81 MM. IS NOT ARTILLERY.

Oshkosh, Wis., Oct. 18.—Some time ago you published an article on the new experimental infantry division, criticizing it for providing less artillery support to the infantrymen in line than does the present division.

As an infantry reserve officer I was especially interested in this matter and in full agreement with you that there should be an adequacy of artillery support under all conditions. Recently I checked the figures on the new organization and find that the artillery support for infantry in the line is in excess of that provided by the present organization, as indicated by the following data:

Number of infantry.........	7,416	12,424
Pieces 75 mm. artillery...	24	48
Pieces 81 mm. artillery [howitzer]	36	..
Pieces 155 mm. artillery..	12	24
Total pieces artillery....	72	72
Artillery support per infantryman [pctge.]...........	0.97	0.57

The new division gives greater mobility and availability of fire-power; whether it has all the artillery that could be used effectively in combat, of course, can be determined only by experience.

R. P. BOARDMAN,
Lieutenant Colonel, Infantry Reserve.

COLD ROOMS.

Chicago, Oct. 22.—Of what use is the ordinance requiring proper heat in rooming houses? Here is the procedure. A complaint is made to the board of health. A week or ten days later an inspector makes a visit. If the same conditions still prevail he gives a warning. That is all. If the landlord continues his violation of the heat ordinance the roomer must again make a complaint and the board of health will give another warning. And so on and so on. The ordinance provides a penalty, but how seldom do we read of the landlord being brought to court and fined.

HAPPY RELIEF FROM PAINFUL BACKACHE

Caused by Tired Kidneys

Many of those gnawing, nagging, painful backaches people blame on colds or strains are often caused by tired kidneys—and may be relieved when treated in the right way.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, lumbago, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

SURGEONS HEAR FAMED BRITON AT CONVENTION

List of Approved Hospitals Is Released.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

The science of genetics, which was defined as the manner in which hereditary characteristics are transmitted, is destined to have a profound influence on medicine and surgery in the near future and may be the key that will explain the cause of tumors, or cancer members of the American College of Surgeons were told last night by Dr. J. P. Lockhart-Mummery, a London surgeon of international reputation.

Dr. Lockhardt-Mummery gave the annual oration on surgery at the presidential meeting and convocation of the 27th annual clinical congress of the American College of Surgeons, which opened a week's session at the Stevens hotel with 3,000 members registered or expected.

Symposium to Be Held Today.

The association has 12,000 members in the United States and Canada, and has taken the leadership in the standardization of hospitals, a report on which was the first thing announced yesterday. A symposium on cancer will be held today. Clinics in various hospitals are important features of the meeting.

Surgical training was the subject of the address of the retiring president of the college, Dr. Eugene H. Pool of New York, who declared that surgery in America is now on such a plane that it is no longer necessary, as it was a few years ago, to go to Paris or Berlin or Vienna for training, but that students are coming to this country in increasing numbers.

Sees Theory Supported.

Dr. Lockhart-Mummery referred in his talk to the theory of tumor formation which he published in 1932. This theory was that excessive reproduction of body cells resulted in some manner from a permanent change in the genes of the cells [the genes being the agents assumed to govern the character of succeeding generations of the cell]. Under this theory, the excessively large number of cells produced form the tumor. "This theory," he said yesterday, "remains a logical deduction from known facts of the probable causes which result in the formation of a tumor."

He added that the findings of Dr. Maud Slye at the University of Chicago and others on genetic factors in mouse tumors seem to support the theory.

He expressed the belief that if the cause of tumors were definitly known the human race would discover some means of prevention or cure.

Qualities Are Evaluated.

Dr. Pool, in discussing the cultural aspects of surgery, stressed first in education, the makeup of the man. Next comes the making of the doctor in undergraduate education, then training in specialization, and finally post-graduate study which should never stop.

"What is it that makes a great surgeon?" he asked. "The outstanding quality is common sense, a gift from God. Humanity and kindliness, which lead such men to think primarily and dominantly of their patient's welfare, come next. Then, resourcefulness and courage, but never rashness; that is, the ability to meet without loss of nerve the unexpected and serious conditions, sometimes of his own making.

2,621 Hospitals Approved.

The report on the standardization of hospitals put 2,621 institutions in the United States and Canada on the approved list. Of these, 133 are in Illinois. In addition, 13 Illinois hospitals were put on a provisionally approved list, one of them being the Cook County hospital, which is working toward full approval.

The progress made in hospital standardization in the last 20 years was emphasized by Dr. George Crile, chairman of the board of regents, who said that in 1918 only 89 hospitals were sufficiently well organized, equipped and administer to merit approval.

Dr. C. Rufus Rorem of Chicago, director of the committee on hospitals of the American Hospital association, reported that more than a million and a quarter persons are placing hospital care on the family budget by making monthly or annual payments, equal to a few cents a day, into a common fund which is used to pay hospital bills. The hospital association four years ago approved the principle of insurance as applied to hospital care, and established certain criteria for acceptable plans. Emphasis was placed on non-profit control of the plans and freedom of the subscriber to choose his own hospital. Approximately 10,000 subscribers are now being admitted each month to the participating hospitals.

"There is little likelihood," Dr. Rorem said, "that the hospital service plans as now organized will be expanded to include medical or surgical fees. Health insurance is not a probable outgrowth of the present type of hospital care insurance."

Dr. Samuel G. Major of Pittsburgh was awarded a life fellowship for the best of the case histories submitted by 525 physicians who were initiated last night. Honorable mention went to Drs. Harold C. Voris of Chicago, Sidney Rosenburg of Pittsburgh, Joseph J. Hovorka of Emporia, Kas., Edwin M. Jameson of Saranac Lake, N. Y., and Marion W. Coleman of Dayton, O.

Alice Ingram, nurse who attended Bruneman after he was wounded last July, was struck in the legs by bullets.

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 25.—[Special.]—Leaders in gambling circles were rounded up for questioning tonight about the early morning slaying of George Bruneman, night club operator and gambler, and a bystander, Frank Greuzard. Alice Ingram, a nurse companion of Bruneman, was wounded.

It was the second attempt in four months on the life of the mild mannered Bruneman.

"I'm living on borrowed time," Bruneman said as he recovered from the first attempt on his life. "I've got about six weeks more. They'll get me the next time."

There were four who came after him early today. The leader of the gunmen walked directly over to Bruneman's table and without a word began shooting. Greuzard was shot three times when he followed the killers to the door.

Commuters to Waukegan Get Hearing on Bus Plea

Residents of western Lake county who are employed in Waukegan were notified yesterday that the Illinois commerce commission will hold a hearing Thursday on their request that the American Coach company be compelled to resume bus service from Waukegan to Antioch, Channel Lake, and Fox Lake. The commuters have also filed their taxi bills with the commission charging that the bus company suspended service without notice. A week ago Saturday the company stopped daily bus trips to the western communities.

WARN SURGEONS TO BE CAUTIOUS WITH NEW DRUG

Death Elixir Ingredient Used in Meningitis.

Two reports on the use of the drug sulfanilamide—one recommending caution in administering it—were presented yesterday at the opening of the 27th annual clinical congress of the American College of Surgeons in the Stevens hotel.

Sulfanilamide is an ingredient of an elixir which has caused a medical sensation by causing the death of forty-six persons. Government agents for days have been trying to find and take possession of every bottle of this deadly combination of drugs.

Although it is believed that diethylene glycol used as a solvent for the drug, rather than the drug itself, brought on the elixir fatalities, members of the staf of the Chicago Lying-In hospital warned against giving sulfanilamide to pregnant women. They suggested that it be used only in infections by organisms susceptible to its power—the aerobic streptococcus, gonococcus, and pneumonococcus in the genital tract.

"Don't use the drug just because a person has sepsis [infection]," the report urged. "Try to keep the dosage compatible with the individual requirements. Beware of fever and mental symptoms. It is not a panacea in acute gonorrheal infections."

Two members of the faculty of Rush Medical college announced informally that their experience with the drug in the treatment of streptococcus meningitis showed favorable results. This complication has a high percentage of fatalities.

The reporting physicians said that sulfanilamide was given patients who underwent mastoid operations. In each case the presence of streptococcus had been discovered in the spinal fluid. All the patients survived, the Rush report stated, and no serious reactions to the drug were noted.

J. O. Clarke, chief of the central states division of the United States Food and Drug administration, said yesterday that all principal shipments of the death elixir had been traced and that every one of the 700 pints sold probably would be accounted for by today.

Additional deaths from the elixir, all in southern states, were reported to the American Medical association yesterday, increasing the official toll to forty-six.

With 3 Adex tablets daily—instead of 5 spoonfuls of cod liver oil

DO YOU feel that you should be taking something to build up your general resistance, yet hesitate to start with spoonfuls of cod liver oil? Try Adex this winter!

It's a modern form of the vitamins . . . convenient . . . easy to take . . . and every bit as beneficial as cod liver oil or halibut liver oil.

Just three tablets a day supply as much Vitamin A, which aids in building good general resistance, as five spoonfuls of cod liver oil.* They also provide you with another factor you may need these dreary days—"sunshine" Vitamin D.

Not only is this rich vitamin content put into Adex tablets, but special methods are used by E. R. Squibb & Sons to keep it there. This is essential for results with any vitamin tablet or capsule. The minute the vitamin content deteriorates, you fail to receive full benefits from its use.

Since Vitamin A is easily destroyed by contact with air, every Adex tablet is coated more than thirty times to prevent deterioration. Further tests are then made in the Squibb laboratories. Only after these precautions does Squibb guarantee Adex.

This winter, get your vitamins this modern way! Take Adex regularly. Best results are obtained when you never miss a day. Ask at any drug store.

*3 Adex tablets equal 5 teaspoonfuls of U. S. P. XI minimum standard cod liver oil in Vitamins A and D, or 3 teaspoonfuls of Squibb's.

CINCINNATI HAS PLAN TO EMPLOY CASUAL WORKER

Part Time Jobs Provide Full Work Week.

BY WILL O'NEIL.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Cincinnati, O., Oct. 25.—[Special.]—Cincinnati's employment program is moving slowly ahead toward provision of enough different jobs for itinerant laborers to remove them from relief rolls, or to keep them from getting on the rolls. A great deal of work also has been done under Cincinnati's Four Point Employment program in sorting the employables on relief from those who are unable to work.

The work of committees I. and II. under the program was discussed in yesterday's story of THE TRIBUNE relief survey. Committee I. is concerned with the problem of providing apprenticeship training programs for youths. Committee II. is attempting to develop a method of rehabilitating and reskilling older workers who are out of a job.

Assures Full Work Week.

The official manual on the Four Point program says the objective of Committee III. is "to organize the recurring part time jobs of the community so individual workers can be assured a full work week for a number of different employers, and the various employers can depend upon a regular part time service."

The work of this committee is best told by what it has done so far. The work has been carried on in Wyoming, a residential village of 4,000 adjoining Cincinnati.

An intensive canvass of the town was made to find part time jobs.

The committee found that they had a number of elderly hod carriers who were unable to find work at their trade. There was a chance to put men accustomed to heavy lifting at work unloading and storing coal. The hod carriers were organized into flying squadrons and taught how to handle coal.

Of 26,000 workers on the dole and public work projects in Hamilton county, where Cincinnati is located, it is estimated that 7,000 fall into the casual worker classification. Stanley Mathewson, head of the Free Employment center, said a hundred of these workers have been stabilized in jobs in Wyoming.

Classified by Experts.

"I am not concerned with the number of people we put to work yet, but I am concerned with the method," Mathewson declared. "That is all we are trying to do now—to develop a method of decasualizing casual labor."

Committee IV. has made an intensive study of the persons on the relief rolls who were classified as unemployable—unable to work because of a physical defect, the need of some one in the home to care for children, or some similar reason. The classification work was done by thirteen experts on employment drawn from private agencies in the city and those on relief who could do some work were reclassified as restricted employables.

The committee found approximately 1,900 cases, or units, receiving relief, in which there was no employable person. Persons in this group who are eligible for an old age pension are being placed on the pension as rapidly as possible. Widowed mothers with children are being placed on mothers' pensions. The committee is attempting to get down to a base of unemployable cases who are not subject to care by any other agency than the general public welfare fund.

The work of the committee in the rest of the supposed unemployable cases is set forth thus:

"In other words, the committee set out to 'discover, diagnose, and treat' unemployability, case by case."

Two Objectives Near.

This is the way in which committee IV. reports in the official Four Point bulletin;

"In carrying out its program of finding out who the unemployables are, why they are unemployable, and what can be done about it, the committee has reached, in part, two of its objectives; but it realizes that its real work lies ahead; the job of rehabilitation retraining, and reëducation.

An important cog in the entire program is the free employment center. This agency is a part of the Ohio state employment service, state supported and free, similar to the Illinois state employment service.

The employment center is fighting an uphill fight to sell itself to employers. The fact that many of the leading employers, or their representatives, are on the Four Point committees, is helping in this battle, but the employment center still has a long pull ahead of it.

[This is the last of three articles on the relief situation and attempts to alleviate unemployment in Cincinnati.]

POPE PREPARES STERN PROTEST OVER NAZI ATTACKS ON CHURCH

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Oct. 25.—Pope Pius XI., gravely troubled over the increasing violence of Nazi attacks on the Roman Catholic church, is preparing to make the most solemn protest yet issued by the Vatican. This report was received in Paris by way of diplomatic channels tonight.

Exactly what action the Pope intends to take is not known, but it will contain a further warning to Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler and will enter for the first time "into the heart of the controversy."

Catholic school instruction has been restricted and the Catholic Youth organization has been suppressed in various areas of Germany. Rome has the impression that the movement is only beginning and will spread.

SCENT A SCANDAL IN BRITISH NUDIST WOMAN'S DEATH

Sedate Town of Bath Gets a Thrill.

BY SAM BREWER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Oct. 25.—Morbid crowds drawn by whispers of scandal besieged the quiet cemetery in the quiet town of Bath today when police decided to dig up a woman's body in search of possible evidence of a murder.

Arrow points to Bath, scene of death mystery.

Ellen Ruddle, known also as Mrs. Gray, although she never was married, was a quiet, convent bred girl, but she shocked conventional Bath a good many times before she died in a padded cell in a Bath public hospital Aug. 31. She was 35 years old.

The death certificate said she died of toxic myocarditis and chronic morphine poisoning.

Miss Ruddle upset Bath by her nudist leanings. On Aug. 20, 1934, she gave birth to an illegitimate son whose father she adamantly refused to name. The child died of pneumonia when it was 11 days old.

Dr. Ronald Gray Gordon, one of Britain's leading neurologists and an officer of the British Medical association, attended Miss Ruddle for eight years and treated her during her final illness.

He was reported to have visited police to discuss the case. He was the chief beneficiary under her will.

Bath is one of the most sedate and respectable towns in England and was shocked by Miss Ruddle's habit of going about the house virtually naked and sunbathing where she could be seen by the neighbor folk.

But the news that a big scandal might be at hand brought out a crowd of thrill seekers as morbid as any of those which the British newspapers like to describe in the United States.

Finer Taste Triumphs

Official Records Show Seagram's Crowns outsell all other fine Blended Whiskies in their price class put together

FOURTEEN states keep accurate records of every bottle of liquor sold within their boundaries—a gold mine of information for those interested in the trend of whiskey sales. The figures show, for instance, that—

1. Blended whiskies have consistently increased in sales since July, 1935.
2. The sale of Seagram's 5 and 7 Crown was greater over a period of 19 months than 79 other blended whiskies in the same price class put together.

Men are regaining their taste for finer whiskey—and are even glad to pay a premium to get it. Crowns are finer! Crowns taste better! Crowns completely satisfy!

*Based on all available official figures from July, 1935, to March 1937 (the latest figures available at time this study was made) issued by the Liquor Control Boards of 14 states: Pennsylvania, Michigan, Iowa, Idaho, Maine, Ohio, Utah, Montana, Oregon, Vermont, Virginia, West Virginia, Washington, Wyoming. It includes the sales of all blended whiskies in the price class of Seagram's Crowns—ranging at present from 90¢ to $1.50 per pint.

GALLANTRY-is-not-dead-only-dying note. A Miss Blanche Clark was going home recently on a Madison street car when, due to a series of sudden stops, she was catapulted toward the rear of the car. A scholarly looking gentleman who had his newspaper open watched her progress with interest, then addressed her:

"I'm getting off in a little while," he said. "Stick around and you can have this seat."

WE may be a little late with this, relaying it back by way of Honolulu—but a Chicago housewife who lives at 31st and Fox streets kept her husband, who works in a soap factory across the street, informed of the baseball results by a novel means. She divided the front window into two sections, the left hand side designating the Cubs, the right their opponents that day. To a clothes line attached across the upper part of the window she attached clothes pins to show the runs. One pin on the left side—1 run for the Cubs and nothing for the opponents, and so on.

Vote to Keep New Names Off Assembly List

BY JUDITH CASS.

IT is a moot question which is the more interesting social news this morning, the fact that no names are to be added to the Assembly list or that the St. Luke's fashion show netted $31,000.

The latter will be of interest to more people, of course, for the only ones who will take a vital interest in the decision of the governors of the Assembly not to add to their list are the second year girls who expected to be invited to their first assembly this season. But they will have to wait another year or perhaps longer before they will receive the coveted invitations, which in reality are almost a royal command, for it is said that no one who regrets an Assembly ball invitation ever receives another one.

This year's ball will be given on Friday, Dec. 10, at the Congress hotel. The governors decided not to enlarge the list because it is so long already; approximately 800. The governors are Arthur Meeker, chairman; Lester Armour, John A. Stevenson, William R. Odell, Albert A. Sprague, Morris L. Johnston, Stanley Field, Robert A. Gardner, Howard F. Gillette, James H. Douglas Jr., Dexter Cummings, Arthur G. Cable, John A. Carpenter, Edward L. Ryerson Jr., and William H. Mitchell.

Style Show Profit Largest Since 1930.

The sum netted by the fashion show, given a week ago this afternoon and evening in the ballroom of the Stevens hotel for the benefit of St. Luke's hospital, is the largest amount realized from a St. Luke's fashion show since 1930, when the net proceeds were $32,1788. The year before, 1929, was the record year, however, for the show that fall netted $40,000.

Every one of the eleven shows given by the women's board, of which Mrs. John W. Gary has been president for at least eleven years, has been a tremendous success, so much so, in fact, that every other philanthropic organization wishes it could think of a similar money raising affair.

The fashion shows bring in money from exhibitors, audiences, and advertisers in the program, which is one reason for their being such gold mines. Another is the quality as well as the amount of work the woman's board does; it is an amateur entertainment, for the women themselves manage it, but it is professional in that it is managed so efficiently that it has none of the earmarks of an amateur production.

Mrs. Joseph G. Coleman Will Be 70 Today.

Mrs. Joseph G. Coleman, who for many years has been one of Chicago's most indefatigable workers for worth while causes and charities, as well as a leader in social circles, is celebrating her 70th birthday today. Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Dunham are giving her a birthday party, a dinner at their home, 1500 Lake Shore drive. There will be eighteen guests.

Mrs. Coleman would be the first to congratulate the St. Luke's women on the success of their fashion shows, but she could not be as impressed by the sums they have raised as some less successful benefit givers are, for she herself has managed some such astoundingly lucrative benefits. Among them the Streets of Paris many years ago in the Coliseum, which netted nearly $100,000.

In more recent years she has arranged benefits for the Red, White and Blue club, of which she was a founder and president of the board for some years, and the Passavant Memorial hospital. She was president of the hospital's woman's aid society for many years and now is the honorary president. She led the women of the society in their work to help raise funds for the new hospital building that now stands on Superior street near the lake.

Looking at Hollywood

By Ed Sullivan

A Columnist's Clock

Hollywood, Cal., Oct. 25.—10 a. m.—A telephone reminder from the committee on the Eddie Cantor dinner, which will be the Thursday climax to his 25th anniversary week. Why, you ask, a dinner for Cantor or why a week dedicated to honoring him? Well, in the first place, it is smart showmanship; in the second place, I know of no performer more deserving than Cantor, and I say that although he and I have severe differences of opinion. For twenty-five years Cantor has contributed laughs to the American scene, and he has contributed the important lesson of a decent family life.

Eddie Cantor honor is due.

He has given hundreds of kids the impetus of his own reputation, in launching their careers in the show business. He has given freely of his time to charity. With vaudeville staggering on the ropes, he helped continue it in theaters by personal appearances which cracked records, and a record breaking week is the most forceful argument against discontinuing vaudeville that I know. When you consider that the spotlight has been on him at all times, Cantor's professional and private record has been little short of staggering, and a week in which to honor him is not too much. If we'd honor the people of the theater more and honor the people who make war less we'd strike a truer and saner balance.

11 a. m.—With Ginger Rogers on the RKO set where "Having Wonderful Time," Broadway comedy hit, is being filmed. Here is the girl who turned in the season's most significant individual performance in "Stage Door." Turning from a dance partnership with Fred Astaire, the Rogers lass took our breaths away with a beautifully shaded dramatic exhibition that qualified her for fast company, and I tell her so.

"I'm delighted, naturally," she says. "You know, it doesn't seem so long ago that I was singing two songs and uttering some allegedly funny cracks with Paul Ash's band at the Paramount theater on Broadway. I was doing a single in vaudeville, and he brought me in to follow Helen Kane. You remember what a terrific hit she was there, Ed, and you can imagine my sensations trying to fill her shoes. I remember one of the songs I sang, 'Come On Out and Come On Into My Arms.' How's that for a song title? But I worked hard at it anyway."

11:30 a. m.—And that last remark is the keynote to Ginger Rogers' phenomenal success. Not since Joan Crawford came to the movies has the industry met a girl with the same amount of courage and the same quantity of concentration. Both of them started out as Charleston dancers, both of them were easy to look at, both of them had the same determination to click, come hell and high water, both of them were born in Missouri and both spent their childhood in Texas—Joan at San Antonio, Ginger at Fort Worth, where she won the Charleston contest that carried as prize three weeks on the Interstate circuit. Both had their setbacks, and Ginger rebounded from a Warner ouster to her present sensational success. You can doff your hat to this kid, because nobody kicked her upstairs. She climbed the hard way.

1 p. m.—At the first tee of the Riviera Country club with Randolph Scott, Bruce Cabot, Bob Hope, Chris Dunphy, and the usual preliminary lying about scores.

Groucho Marx sticks to pool.

4 p. m.—Sitting with Groucho Marx and Newman Levy on the upper porch of the Beverly Hills Tennis club. Below, on the center court, Groucho's 16 year old youngster, Arthur, is teamed with Larry Buchmann against Ellsworth Vines and Bob Riskin. Either Vines upsets Riskin or vice versa. At any rate, they lose. "You ought to do a column about anemic Broadwayites who come out here, make some dough, and go in for polo, tennis, badminton, and golf," urges Groucho. "Call it 'From Hester Street to Hercules,' or 'From Net Profits to Net.' And point out that I'm true to my early principles: I still play pool."

8 p. m.—Edgar Allen Woolf's party, and a buffet spread of baked beans, spare ribs, curried bouillabaisse, roast beef, turkey, and all the fixin's. Woolf, M-G-M's writing ace, has the reputation of being the best amateur chef in town and he lives up to it again, though Eddie Mannix teases him that there is a mite too much mustard in the beans. "I soaked them bean by bean," says Woolf with pretended dignit.

Latest Gloves Add Glamor to Winter Attire

BY RHEA SEEGER.

Irresistible glamor gloves are ready for the exciting parties scheduled for the gay winter season. Exquisitely lovely kidskins, full elbow length, come in a pale gold color and are trimmed with buttons, insets and braid of gold. Thickly shirred deep cuffs are held with gold, snow white beauties have tiny bits of colorful petit point embroidery. These embroidered beauties come in afternoon short lengths and the longer length.

Also for afternoon are the stunning black short suedes and the kidskins sprinkled with jet beads and rhinestones. Short white and pale gold kidskins and pastel tints are embroidered, finished with fancy, short, frilled cuffs and small pearl buttons.

Stunning elbow length kidskins in white and pale gold have the entire section from the base of the fingers to the top beautifully embroidered in a cut-work design of wavering leaves and buds. This same feminine decoration comes in black and pale blue suede, typical evening gloves properly to finish the most formal of gowns.

Long, lovely soft suede gloves with three pearl buttons at the wrist come in grand contrast colors—a faded cerise, a deep rosy red, and a dull olive green, as well as white and black. These are puritan plain with only the fine seaming and the slender finger seams and the tiny flat tucks on the back for trim.

The colors are the exciting news. In the same showing are the prize winning romantic beige tones and pearl gray tints, in both long and short gloves. One effective black suede pair of long gloves is studded with a small, glittering pattern of rhinestones. For the first time in years we are seeing really glamorous, romantic gloves for festive events, the right kind of superlative models for all the beautiful gowns and furs of high fashion.

Good Morning!

Now here's a spy melodrama I'm sure you're going to like!

It's exciting. It's different. It deals with war—though there's little actual conflict in it. It is directed with a swift, sure touch and presents interesting acting by interesting people in interesting rôles.

The time is that of the world war. Locales are England and Germany. The story is of a young British officer whose remarkable resemblance to a German war prisoner results in his impersonation of the latter in the cause of espionage.

This is the type of picture which can be ruined for the observer by a preview of its plot, so no such thing from me to you this morning. But it won't hurt you to be informed that George Sanders plays his dual rôle with finesse; that Joseph Schildkraut as a German prince, Sig Rumann as a German lieutenant colonel, Peter Lorre as assistant to a German intelligence chief, and Lionel Atwill as British secret service head, all give mighty fine impersonations; that Dolores Del Rio is as beautiful and appealing as ever, which is being plenty of both, and that supporting players are tops.

"Lancer Spy" is excellently staged, dialog is pointed; action is believable. You'll do no napping while the film unreels. That I assure you!

The Housewife

BY EDITH WEIGLE.

Have you ever burned your fingers in taking hot potatoes out of the oven, or fumbled around with a towel or a kitchen holder trying to remove them? Then you'll appreciate a new device and wonder, at the same time, why no one ever thought of it before.

It's simply metal serving tongs. With these grippers you can lift eggs from boiling water or doughnuts from scalding fat or cans of soup from a kettle of hot water. And you can turn meat over in the pan, as it is cooking. There are any number of uses for these tongs and they cost only a fraction of a dollar.

Another gadget that is a great convenience in the kitchen is an aluminum food strainer, shaped to cover half the open top of a round pot or pan. When you're ready to take the peas or the string beans or the Brussels sprouts off the fire, just slip this strainer over one side of the top of the pan, then tip it and pour off as much liquid as you wish without any spilling or scalding of your hands. Saves time and temper.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

The suave makeup, this year, calls for accent on lips, with the rouge shade rich and the texture smooth. The lipstick of your choice must be creamy, but not greasy, and in a shade that's flattering.

Women's taste in lipstick is absolutely unpredictable, we've decided. Mary Jane comes sobbing because she can't find one creamy enough. Susie screams because the creamy ones smear. We've just about come to the conclusion that lipstick texture is like powder shades—you have to experiment until you find the one that's right for you. And it may not be the one that your best friend will find satisfactory.

Dry, torn lips are unsightly and uncomfortable. And this is the season in which that little difficulty gets a start. If you're subject to it, begin now to cream your lips each night. There's a special lip lubricating cream on the market now. If you've any reason to think the stick you've been using is drying, by all means switch to a creamier one.

You won't want one too greasy. It will probably keep your lips from chapping, but you'll find it comes off much too easily; it will leave a vivid smudge on linen, silver, glassware, and any unsuspecting person you may kiss. Men loathe the sight of lipstick smudges anywhere, but most of all on their own faces! So be cagey on this point.

There's one famous one on the market. Not new, but tried and true. It's on the creamy, but not the greasy side, which is a fine but important distinction. The colors are true and beautiful. The crimson shade is a beauty for this season. It's not high-priced, but it's plenty of good lipstick for the money. The texture is exactly right, we'd say, for about 80 per cent of women in this section of the country, where skin dryness is rampant. While it's creamy, it won't simply roll off.

Cases are the smart kind. Some are red, white, and blue; others black or ivory and gold.

SYNOPSIS.

When rich old Caleb Winter dies, his wife, Isabella, once his housekeeper, wires her daughter, Sally Lee Keyne, at school in Maryland, to come home at last. Because Caleb had demanded a housekeeper without family ties, Isabella had never told him about Sally. Sally bids good-by to wise Mary Culpepper, school headmistress, and sets off. En route Sally meets Robin Ashe, whose family lives near the old Crewe mansion, Sally's new home—he falls in love with her. The Winter chauffeur meets Sally in Baltimore and, driving her home, gives a lift to an arrogant tramp called Vincent. Sally orders the chauffeur to put him out. The morning after Sally's homecoming, Joseph Marr, his lawyer, reads Caleb's will, and her mother has a stroke. Informed of his wife's deception, Caleb left everything to his first wife's nephew, Obadiah Crewe. Mrs. Winter, if she stays on as housekeeper, to have shelter and an income. The new heir turns out to be the tramp—Vincent Obadiah Crewe. Though she hates and fears him, Sally serves him as housekeeper in her mother's place. Vincent inherits Caleb's tricky West Indian valet, Manchi. Sally is touched when Vincent asks her to teach him to be a gentleman. Robin writes his parents, who are dependent on his rich aunt.

INSTALMENT XX.

A BLACK CLOUD.

Mrs. Gayle was far more indulgent to her nephew, provided he remained within the general paddock of her intentions, than she had ever been with any other living soul since the sudden death of her handsome young husband many years ago. So Robin's mother was not unduly alarmed. She opened the letter, Ronald merely giving it one hungry and gentle look.

Robin's mother was beautiful and had, as Sally surmised, bestowed upon Robin and a daughter recently released from Heather's tyranny by a successful marriage, her lovely narrow head, sloping eyes and sly, enchanting smile. The shape of this smile, evoked as usual for her husband's benefit, faded as she read her Robin's letter.

Robin wrote with that intense reasonableness and plausibility of youth announcing revolution, that he intended, with their consent, to leave college and had planned to use the money Aunt Heather had so generously promised for his education here and in Europe for an early marriage to a young woman named Sara Keyne now living at Crewe House . . . "the famous Crewe House," and who was just the sort of girl "you both and Auntie will adore. I can get a situation as draughtsman in Mr. Molton's office if you and dad will use your pull and then work my way up. Auntie's money will be ample to keep me and Sally going for a year or two and, I dare say, the good old girl will stand for helping us out a bit then if it should still be necessary . . . considering she hasn't any children of her own and has always been so fond of me. This depression is about over now and by next year there will be a greater boom in building, etc., etc., etc."

Millicent Ashe read and the brain behind her narrow brow worked rapidly. She, too, had a well developed woman's intuition. Before Heather had time to put out her slender acquisitive hand, Millicent began to read the letter aloud. She read rather slowly as though Robin's writing were not so legible as usual and what she read was a confusing chronicle of college happenings, sport, and study, and students' gossip. "That's the dullest letter we've ever had from Robin," said Millicent and, crumpling up the closely covered sheets, she tossed them into the little open fire that crackled superfluously in the already sun warmed room.

It was rarely easy for Millicent to arrange a private interview with her husband but eventually that morning she did succeed without rousing Heather's suspicion of an unusual event, in getting him to herself in their own bedroom and there, sotto voce, she confided the true contents of Robin's letter and the fact of her dismay.

"I simply don't dare to breathe a word of this to Heather," she cried, her face quite aged and broken.

"I'll send him a wire," said Ronald, who had been pulling at his mustache, "'Plan absurdly impossible. Use your head. Money available only for original purpose . . .' something of that sort. And you write to him, will you, Milly? And just tell him where he gets off."

"Listen, Ronnie, why don't you go over to Crewe House and cast your eye on the girl . . . find out something about her?"

"Why don't I? How in God's name can I get the car for a visit to Crewe House? Of all places. You've forgotten a certain chapter of family history, haven't you, Mill? You don't remember our cause célèbre . . . Heather's husband . . . my brother-in-law's extramarital affair with Jessica Crewe? He was about to get a divorce from Heather to marry Jessica when his car slipped off the road. . . ."

"O, I had forgotten. That makes it worse. Well, I've simply got to see the girl somehow. I tell you what . . . I can get Hazel to come and take me over for one of the visiting days. It would be Thursday, I think, wouldn't it. Heather needn't know where we're going."

Thursday was visiting day at Crewe House, which, on such days, was thrown open, as to its grounds and certain of its rooms, to the public. A charge of 25 cents per visitor was collected at a temporary table set up in the front hall by Charles, and to Manchi, eloquent and obsequious, was delegated the conducting of visitors and the patter of description and historic fact.

The family kept itself in seclusion.

On the following Thursday there was an unusual crowd of sightseers. The story of the hobo heir and the disinherited widow provided a sort of unspoken spice to Manchi's discourse.

Amongst the motor tourists and the local curiosity mongers there were two ladies who immediately enlisted the respect of Charles and of Manchi, and to whom the latter addressed the greater portion of his remarks. They had entered their names as required in the visitors' book, where Charles read, "Mrs. Ronald Ashe and Mrs. Ernest Vintry." County families, he thought, and they should be leaving cards on Mr. Crewe.

Manchi, entering the upstairs hall, opened the door of a formal meticulously ordered bedroom. "Here it was that General Tarleton of the British army was quartered with his officers at the time when, surprised by a rumor of revolutionary troops, he rode his horse up the great stairs of Crewe house . . . as I shall describe to you presently as we go down again into the hall. . . ."

Mrs. Vintry, who had listened near the door, caught at her mother's elbow. "Wait here a second, mother . . . look down toward the end of this passage . . . quick!"

A girl stood, remote, unaware of observers, a girl in a blue linen frock beside an open window. The girl was lightly built and moved with fluency. Her tawny hair glittered in the window's light. She turned and they saw her big-eyed, dreaming face.

"Ask the guide," hissed Robin's sister.

Manchi returned to the threshold and looked where Mrs. Ashe directed him.

"Is that by any chance a Miss Sally Keyne, guide?"

"Yes, madam," said Manchi. "Yes. That is certainly Miss Keyne, if you please, madam."

Here Sally saw them and saw that she was the object of their attention. Her bright young color flashed into her face, she lifted her head, gave them one proud cloistered look and then advancing, moved with her gallant grace into one of the rooms along the passage and closed the door.

"Who is she, guide? Such a pretty creature! I mean, what relation is she to the master of the house?"

Manchi's pale face and prominent eyes betrayed no malice. Perhaps the form his information took was purely accidental. He came up close and smiled and lowered to confidence his half British, half native voice. "Why, madam," said Manchi, and blew forth that cloud no bigger than a man's hand that grew to the overcasting of Sally's firmament, "she came here only a few days ago at the time of the change, madam. We call her, here in the house, Mr. Crewe's housekeeper . . . by courtesy, as it were, madam."

Then, as though aware of evil, he drew back, turned to his other followers and raised his key. "Our next visit is to the room occupied by a lady who refused to marry two of the greatest of American statesmen, Gen. George Washington and Mr. Thomas Jefferson . . ."

Mrs. Vintry and Mrs. Ashe moved forward with the rest and appeared to be attentive listeners. But the face of the one was scarlet, and of the other pale; the eyes of Millicent carried a look of grief and shock, while Hazel's held a bitter little smile of cynicism.

Laziness Is Only Reason for Boredom

BY DORIS BLAKE.

[Copyright: 1937: By The Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Syndicate, Inc.]

"What can one do for boredom?" asks a young woman who describes herself as 20 years old and so bored with everything that she could scream.

The screaming would meet with our hearty endorsement provided the young woman screams at herself and nobody but herself. There is only one human being in this world to blame when a girl of 20 can sit down and report that she has reached the point of boredom.

Egie explains that her parents refuse to let her take a job because she does not have to work. With a million directions toward which a truly helping hand could be held out we have no sympathy with the boredom of nothing to do. Indeed, we see no reason why a modern young woman with parents in solid financial position should not go into an office, a shop, or a business of her own. And she would, too, if she had the spirit to make herself a useful member of society. The smoke screen offered in objecting parents is too, too thin. It's the girl herself who is the victim of inertia, which is merely a polite phrase for laziness.

Egie explains that she is tired of traveling, tired of going places, going to parties, seeing people, hearing the same things said. Well, who is to blame for continuing a program like that if not the young woman herself?

She even says that she is engaged to a man whom she does not love. This may, indeed, be responsible for the boredom. It would be. But there's a remedy here that any modern girl with a brain in her head would grasp pronto. She'd be "unengaged" as fast as she could. She'd create some avenue of interest for herself rather than be driven in a stupid pattern of acquiescing to everything suggested.

"What keeps other people from being bored?" Egie repeats.

Not being a bore one's self, Egie. That's the answer. There isn't any other. Look up any reputed bore you know and see if the pattern does not fit neatly. The girl is bored [or the man] because she [or he] is a bore. Nothing to give, nothing to get back out of life.

So when we suggest you go ahead and scream, Egie, we mean just that. It would mean a step toward activity, anyway, waking yourself out of your current dull, tiresome ennui.

DORIS BLAKE ANSWERS

Boy Certainly Not in Love.

"Dear Miss Blake: Is it possible for a boy to go with you and tell you he loves you, but also love your girl friend and can't make up his mind which he likes best? F. S. P."

I don't believe it's love that this boy feels; perhaps he is just the kind that likes every girl. Make yourself more charming and it may help him to decide.

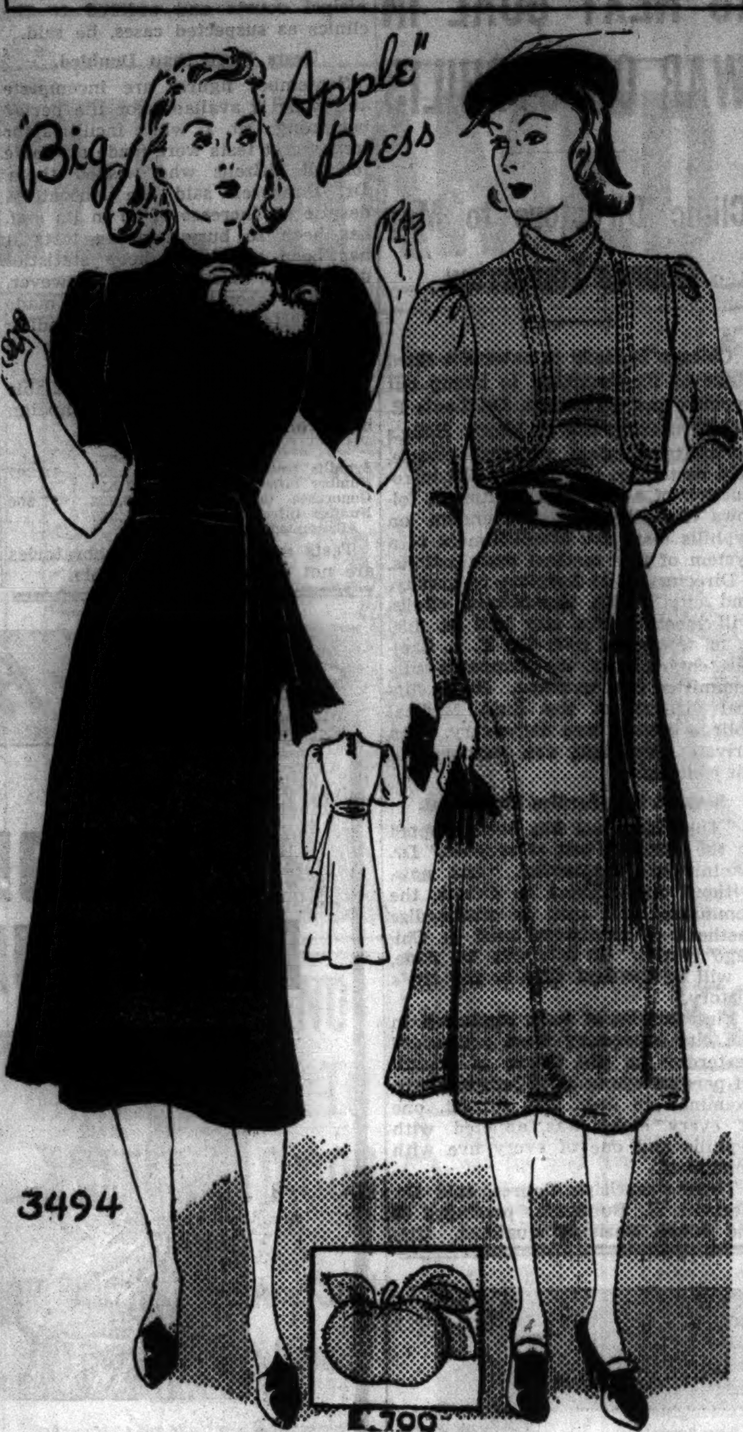
Stresses New Silhouette



WOMAN'S AND MISS' DRESS.

No one needs to remind you of the latest rave in the fashion world. It is the frenzied seeking after emphasizing the high molded bustline and the concave waist. Hips are "in" again, too. Figures once again must be strictly feminine. And nothing helps to stress the new silhouette as does a frock designed to show it. The one illustrated today is such a dress. Its smooth little bodice advertises the bustline, and the sash, so suavely draped, calls attention to the narrowness of your waist. The skirt is plain and full. The neckline is high and "wrapped" in a cowl effect. Sleeves puffed high at the shoulders lend a broadened effect that aids and abets the cause of the slender waist. A tricky bolero may be added for dash, and further whimsy is available in the shape of a "big apple," appliqued in a bright color right at the neckline. The original of this dress is in black, with the apple in green, and very bright green at that. Notice that the sash may have fringe or not, as you wish. If you want the bolero, by all means have fringe. It's so Spanish! By the way, Spanish-type frocks are all the rage. They've been seen at the smartest meeting places.

Both silk and woolen make up well in this model, which, contrary to its appearance, is easy to make.

Style No. 3494 is designed for sizes 14, 16, 18, and 20 years, and 32, 34, 36, 38, and 40 inches bust measurement. Size 16 requires 2⅞ yards of 39 inch material, with ⅝ yard of 39 inch fabric for the bolero.

A FRIEND IN NEED

BY SALLY JOY BROWN

Activities of the Sally Joy Brown department are sponsored by Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.

A. M., a case worker, sends a request for a baby bed mattress, large size, for one of her families. The father barely earns a living as a cab driver, and there are three children, 8, 7, and 1½. The crib now occupied by the baby has been used for eight years and the mattress is very worn. The family also needs a double bed and mattress. The worker will arrange transportation of articles offered.

Small Child Is in Need of Much Activity

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

We drew up beside the way and I waited while one of those I-wonder-what-can-be-keeping-him errands was being done.

Idly I gazed about and the only thing in my line of vision that was moving was a small white-clad figure—white clad from head to foot against the chill in the autumn air.

He had all he needed to make an 18 month old child [that's an age-guess] happy: a bench to climb on, soft grass, still green holding such treasures as stones, sticks, a stray acorn; and a great tree with a trunk wide enough to entirely blot from view a little figure embracing it, and just right for playing hide and seek or peek-a-boo.

But alas! There was no one to play hide and seek or peek-a-boo with [small ones adore it as much as they ever did]. A woman sat on the bench, and, this is literally true, for the fifteen minutes I sat there she said nothing to the child but:

"Do you hear me! Get right up off your knees!

"Stop that!

"Come here!

"Don't do that—look at your knees.

"Come back or I'll spank you.

"Keep away from that tree," ad infinitum.

As I watched there wasn't one thing that toddling child did that he should have been kept from doing—and fortunately he seemed quite unperturbed and paid no attention to his mentor, whoever she was, nurse, mother, or relative. He merely did the usual things a runabout loves to do. He squnched down in a little cozy ball and picked up infinitesimal objects [the way they do]; he reeled around and around the bench; he took little flights away from the home base, around the other side of the tree, spreading his arms wide to encircle its solid roughness, and peering hopefully [being evidently an incurable optimist!] around it, on the chance of a game.

You may say this was an extreme case. I thought so, too.

And yet—was it? As soon as I called it an extreme case I began to think of hours I have spent in the park watching mothers and nurses do the same thing, of visits I've made, or visitors I've had, when some sort of command or direction was given, or comment made every few minutes. It makes one feel like taking to a loud speaker to put across the advice:

LET THEM ALONE!

Just from the practical standpoint it's better, because if you're always at them they don't listen [fortunately for them!]. They become mother-deaf You get no results. Also you save a lot of wear and tear on yourself if you cut out the eternal do's and don't's.

As for the good of the children, well, it seems obvious to me. This is the age of ceaseless activity and endless curiosity. Fall in with this need to a reasonable degree and you'll be surprised at the interest and harmony that will take the place of pulls and rubs.

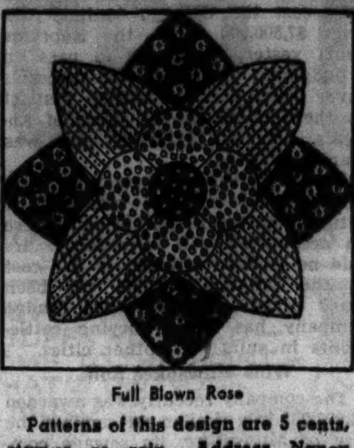
Quaint Quilt in Rose Design First Created in 1853



Full Blown Rose

Patterns of this design are 5 cents, stamps or coin. Address Nancy Cabot, Chicago Tribune, or call at one of the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street or Tribune Tower.

BY NANCY CABOT.

"Full Blown Rose" is one of those quaint quilt blocks, charmingly old fashioned when appliqued in printed materials with tiny patterns. Dating back to 1853, the original coverlet contained richly colored materials which came from Germany. Today the color arrangements for this block are unlimited, and printed and plain materials may be combined or used separately. Thirty applique blocks, measuring 15 inches square each, are required for one full sized coverlet. The blocks are set together with two inch bands between, and finished with a three inch border and a half inch bias binding.

Don't Follow Blind Fashion in Hair Styles

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

If all the plump, lean, short, and tall women wore what is deemed right and proper for them to wear, well, there just wouldn't be any fun. There wouldn't be any twelve best dressed or ten smartest or anything like that. On the other hand, the wrongly dressed plump, lean, tall, or short one shortchanges herself. It isn't her idea, either! She thinks that she is right. However, we aren't bothering about clothes today. But about coiffures! With the same badly applied principle of styling in mind.

We may have to drag in a word or two about dress, because what inspired this morning's theme was meeting a short and plump woman wearing a page boy bob over a very short neck and plumpish shoulders. On her head was one of those enormous Mother Goose hats from which suspended all around a shoulder length and heavily dotted veil. Such crowding down, crushing of a nice little personality. All head. Top heavy. Looking really as if she were carrying an enormous load, such as the family wash, on her head. Be careful about that topheavy damage this year, women. Nothing is chic or smart that is not becoming, no matter in how many fashion magazines you see it pictured. It's what looks well from your shoulders up that matters.

We have seen two outstanding coiffure failures in our observations. The first is the type just described, who feels she must cling to the long hairdress because Bette Davis or some other blithe young screen personality does. It may not be the straight page boy with just the turned up ends. It may be an elongated edition of waves and hair weight. Anyway, it comes down too far on the neckline, chopping off weight and making the full face appear fuller.

The other outstanding error is that of the individual with the long, slim neck who should let the hair flow down carelessly, but, instead, chooses to brush it up high or have it cut so short that the effect is ganderishly long necked.

There is a third type that isn't doing right by her mother's little Nell. This is the terribly tailored and so-called businesslike looking woman who still has her hair cut like a man's and waveless like his, and usually topped with a tailored hat. Nice women, too! You know them and I know them.

For "thim that likes 'em," cottage cheese pies and cakes are heavenly fare. They're nutritious, too, and far more sensible as dessert than many of the rich, heavy, sugary sweet concoctions to which many of us have become addicted.

Cottage cheese desserts are simple to make and the ingredients are, for the most part, inexpensive, other reasons for including them in the menu occasionally.

Cottage Cheese Custard Pie.
[Serves Five.]

- 1 cup cottage cheese
- ½ cup cream
- 4 eggs
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- ½ cup chopped blanched almonds [optional]
- 1 cup currants
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- One crust pastry

Combine cheese and cream, and add well beaten egg yolks, sugar, nuts, and currants. Beat the egg whites with the salt until stiff and fold into the first mixture. Pour into the pastry crust, which has been brushed over with egg white to keep the filling from soaking through. Sprinkle cinnamon over the top of the pie and bake in a hot oven [450 degrees] for 10 minutes, then reduce the heat to moderate [350 degrees] for 20 minutes longer.

Chilled Cheese Cake.
[Serves Twelve.]

- 2 cups cornflake crums
- ½ cup butter, melted
- ¼ cup sugar
- 2 teaspoons cinnamon
- 2 tablespoons granulated gelatin
- ½ cup cold water
- 3 egg yolks, slightly beaten
- ½ cup sugar
- ½ cup milk
- 1 pound cottage cheese [dry]
- 1 lemon, juice and grated rind
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- ½ cup crushed pineapple
- ¼ cup chopped maraschino cherries
- 3 egg whites, beaten stiff
- ½ cup cream, whipped

Blend first four ingredients to make a crust, and pack half the mixture firmly into the bottom of a large cake pan. Soak the gelatin in the cold water. Combine egg yolks, sugar and milk and cook in the top of a double boiler until slightly thickened. Add softened gelatin and cottage cheese, lemon juice, rind, salt, pineapple, and chopped cherries. Cool and fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites and the whipped cream. Fill the crum crust with the mixture and cover with the remainder of the cornflake, butter, cinnamon, and sugar combination. Chill for several hours before serving.

Luscious Cheese Pie.
[Serves Eight.]

- 1 cup sugar
- ¼ cup cream
- 3 pints cottage cheese
- 4 eggs
- 3 tablespoons flour
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- 1½ cups crushed graham cracker crums
- ¼ cup sugar
- ½ cup melted butter

Combine sugar and cream with cottage cheese, beaten eggs, flour, vanilla, and salt. Combine graham cracker crums, sugar, and butter, and pack all but ½ cup of the mixture in the bottom of a pie plate or cake pan. Spread cheese filling over this and top with remainder of crums. Bake at 350 degrees for 1 hour.

A pan with a removable rim is ideal for this cheese pie.

Question 22 of the National Self-Rating Bridge Examination appeared yesterday. It was:

Question 22: Neither side vulnerable. You are South, the dealer. You hold:
♠ A K 10 9 4 2 ♥ A 7 ♦ A K 6 ♣ A 9

The bidding has proceeded:

South	West	North	East
2 spades	3 clubs	Pass	3 hearts
3 spades	4 clubs	Pass	4 hearts

What call do you make now?

Answer: The best call to make now is a pass. Remember, your opening bid directed that the bidding be held open until you reached game, or until the opponents were doubled in a contract satisfactory to your team. You already have rebid your spades, and partner must realize that the only reason for your passing is to let him decide whether he prefers to double for penalties or to bid four spades. Thus your pass is absolutely forcing. [If you made this unusual type forcing pass add two points to your score as reward. If you took any other action, such as doubling or bidding four spades, take a one point demerit. If you bid four no trump over four hearts, take a three point demerit.]

TODAY'S QUESTIONS.

Question 23: Both sides vulnerable. You are North, the dealer. You hold:
♠ K 6 ♥ K Q 8 3 ♦ A J 7 4 ♣ K 9 4

You bid one heart; next hand passes; your partner bids three clubs; next hand passes.

What call do you make now?

Question 24: Both sides vulnerable. You are South and hold:
♠ A J 9 5 ♥ J ♦ K J 5 4 2 ♣ 9 7 4

Your partner dealt and the bidding proceeded:

North	East	South	West
2 hearts	Pass	3 diamonds	Pass
3 hearts	Pass	3 spades	Pass
4 hearts	Pass	?

What call do you make now?

The bidding:

West	North	East	South
Pass	Pass	Pass	1 club
Double	2 clubs	2 hearts	4 clubs
4 hearts	Pass	Pass	5 clubs
Double	Pass	Pass	Pass

This hand is a beautiful example of how a keen declarer can "place" missing honors.

West opened the heart ace and continued with the ten, declarer ruffing. Obviously, with one heart trick already lost, the acute danger was that two diamond losers would be unavoidable.

Declarer led the ace, king, and jack of spades, ruffing the last with dummy's club jack. Declarer now knew that West had started with the queen-ten of spades; also that, for his takeout double and his later penalty double, West must have the diamond ace as well as the heart ace already shown. If he had had the diamond queen in addition, his total honor holding would have been too great to justify his original pass. Thus East was unmistakably marked with the diamond queen. Two rounds of trumps now were led and a low diamond was sent toward dummy. West naturally ducked and dummy's king was played. The heart queen was ruffed and another diamond led from the closed hand. Now the opponents were helpless. West could not put up the ace without dropping his partner's black queen. He ducked and the queen won. But East could return only a spade or a heart, on either of which declarer could discard his own remaining diamond while ruffing in dummy.

Bishop Warns of Great Peril to Free Speech

New York, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Francis John McConnell, speaking at a meeting celebrating his two decades and a half as a bishop of the Methodist Episcopal church, predicted tonight that the "most deadly warfare" of a lifetime would be made against free speech in the next ten years.

In the 25 years of his episcopacy, he added, 24 had passed "before any church in my area refused to accept the service of a pastor because of his social views, or paid any attention to the threats of outsiders against the continuance of a preacher."

"These things," he went on, "have happened within the last year."

Christianity's greatest present rival, he said, is nationalism—"a nationalism that in Italy, Germany, and Japan denies free discussion outright."

Bishop McConnell, known as a liberal cleric, was chief speaker at the meeting.

Even as his view of the future was heavy with melancholy, so his words as to the past were words of sorrow.

The last quarter century has brought to men, he said, a realization that the world is "a much grimmer place than we thought it was," adding:

"The truth is that for the majority of human beings who have lived from the beginning of time until now there has not been enough food to go round. The majority of human beings, who have up to this year of Our Lord 1937 lived and died, have never had a chance at the conditions of genuine human existence."

Thus, he said, "if the judgment day were to come tomorrow," most of all mankind would "have to be dismissed at once," because it had never "had a chance to use or misuse any opportunities which could properly be called human."

START CRITICISM OF TVA PROJECT AS MONEY STOPS

Natives See Taxpayers Footing the Bill.

BY ARTHUR M. EVANS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Sevierville, Tenn., Oct. 25.—[Special.]—Tennessee mountaineers now are beginning to wonder who is going to pay for the 520 million dollar experiment of the Tennessee Valley authority in an ordered society under what Dr. Arthur E. Morgan, head of TVA, terms a "benevolent dictatorship."

While Norris dam was building and money fell like manna upon the region, TVA was praised. With the dam finished and the whoopee era fading, criticism is growing in this part of the valley.

Natives tell of changes that have stolen over the Utopian dream. Three years ago the valley was to be the one spot where rugged individualism was to be knocked out of the ring by the brain trusters.

"Godmother for Aluminum Company."

Now the villages criticize TVA as a fairy godmother for the Aluminum company, a rugged specimen of rugged individualism. Engineers in the large cities figure it would have cost the company 25 or 30 million dollars to build a plant to produce the 100,000 kilowats a year of bargain sale secondary power it has contracted to take from the TVA Norris dam.

Critics call this a subsidy just as the low rates to domestic consumers of TVA power through municipally owned plants are subsidized rates.

Nobody knows how much the actual cost of producing TVA power is, but the hidden cost is being paid for by the American taxpayers. One hears this view expressed everywhere in the valley.

Near Bottom of Barrel.

A group on the street today settled the stock market recession. They discussed the reasons given by economists for the drop. The view they expressed was simple: "It means the government is getting down toward the bottom of the barrel."

"Taxes are to go up," one man said. "It may mean congress may chop down on TVA and its easy money. Talk about making the people dam conscious, for power dams; seems to me taxpayers will be knocked dam unconscious. But the Aluminum company and other wealthy industries are sitting pretty."

In Birmingham, Chattanooga, Nashville, and Knoxville appears a pronounced current of opinion that the yardstick set up by TVA to measure reasonable charges for power is made of rubber. The power companies say TVA, in its bookkeeping, does not show actual cost of producing power.

The investment, already in the hands of TVA, including the Wilson dam, amounts to approximately 225 million dollars. Upon such an investment private utilities figure they would pay a tax of $2,750,000. TVA, in lieu of taxes, pays 5 per cent of the gross proceeds from power it makes in Tennessee and Alabama. This year, this amounts to only $72,500, next year TVA estimates it at $185,000.

Many Charges Omitted.

TVA statements show no interest on the money invested in facilities for producing power, nor does it include any allowance for depreciation. The taxpayers of the country, of course, pay the interest, for the cost becomes part of the federal debt.

There are other items not in the yardstick. TVA has the franking privilege for mail and printing at government expense. Private companies have to carry insurance. TVA gets special government freight rates on land grant railroads. All are items the power companies charge do not appear in "the yardstick."

Meanwhile power lines and steel towers are straddling the landscape. Competition between the government and the private companies appears to have become of the old cut throat type, and facilities are being duplicated.

In the TVA board is diversion of opinion. Dr. Morgan says in important respects he differs from the power policy of the two other members. Dr. Morgan, originator of the TVA dream, holds that "both public ownership and private ownership have much to teach us, and neither should be abandoned summarily." He dwells favorably upon a pool system under which TVA and the private utilities would operate all transmission lines and would transmit pooled power at standard rates to both public and private distributing systems. Dr. Morgan holds that costs should be told honestly by TVA.

Patent Decision Will Cost Sanitary Board Millions

Activated Sludge, Inc., of Chicago, which held patents on a process of purifying sewage, won a victory that may cost the Chicago sanitary district $7,500,000 when the Supreme court yesterday refused to pass on a judgment issued in the concern's favor against the sanitary district by the Seventh Circuit Court of Appeals. The infringement suit was started in 1924.

Ernest Buehler, attorney for the district, said the case will now be returned to the District court, where an accounting will be ordered. He said no definite estimate of the cost to the sanitary district has been made because the Activated Sludge company has made varying settlements in suits with other cities.

Wins Milwaukee Suit.

The company recently was awarded $4,977,291 in a similar suit against the city of Milwaukee, its sewage commission, and 10 contractors who built an extension to the city's sewage disposal plant. Attorney Lynn A. Williams, a stockholder in the company, estimates a judgment of at least 50 per cent more than the Milwaukee decree will be obtained against the Chicago district.

The process which is in litigation involves the purification of sewage through rapid oxidation by the use of certain bacteria. It was discovered by Gilbert Fowler, a professor at the University of Manchester, England, and was developed by Walter Jones, a British foundryman, who patented it in 1914. He organized Activated Sludge, Ltd., of London, which later licensed Activated Sludge of Chicago.

Attacks Basis of Patent.

The sanitary district argued before the Supreme court that the Circuit court erred in sustaining the patents, contending that the process has been a matter of scientific and popular knowledge for generations.

Attorney Buehler said yesterday that he did not believe the district could be forced to pay any further royalties after the original suit is settled, because the patent expired several years ago.

Charge 25 Policemen with Beating Him; Asks $50,000

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 25.—[Special.]—Suit for $50,000 damages against 25 policemen accused of beating Harry Mahoney, 29, while he was in the Lincoln Heights jail on a charge of drunkenness on Oct. 13 was filed in Superior court today by attorneys for the Civil Liberties union. The complaint was signed by Mahoney's father, George F. Mahoney, who stated that his son still is too ill to sign the document. It is charged that the young man suffered a fractured skull.

UNIFORM REMEDY IS NEXT GOAL IN WAR ON SYPHILIS

Clinic Directors to Map Course Tomorrow.

Chicago is ready to enter the third stage of its campaign to stamp out syphilis and gonorrhea, Dr. Louis E. Schmidt, chairman of Mayor Kelly's committee against venereal disease, said yesterday. This stage, the introduction of a standard treatment, follows the city-wide referendum on syphilis tests and establishment of a system of free medical examinations.

Directors of 15 hospital, university, and city health department clinics will meet in the city hall at 3:30 p. m. tomorrow with Dr. E. A. Skolnic, chairman of the campaign subcommittee on treatment. He is clinical director of the Rush Medical college central free dispensary. Ten private physicians are members of his committee.

Seek to Standardize Treatment.

"The Kahn test has been adopted as the standard test of syphilis," Dr. Skolnic said yesterday, "and now, without any attempt to dictate, the committee will seek to standardize methods of treatment used in Chicago clinics. If this can be done, it will be the first time in any city's history."

First results of tests conducted in the city laboratory were announced yesterday by the board of health. Of persons whose blood samples were examined in July and August, one of every eight was afflicted with syphilis and one of every five with gonorrhea.

These surprising figures, said Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, president of the board, must be qualified. The totals are not representative of the thousands of persons who have taken voluntary tests, but they do mirror the percentage of infection among men and women arraigned in the municipal courts and ordered to the clinics as suspected cases, he said.

Tests More than Doubled.

September figures are incomplete and none is available for the period beginning Oct. 1, when facilities for free, secret tests were made available for all citizens who wished them. Dr. Bundesen said the laboratory, despite an increase of 20 in its staf, has been so busy running tests it has been unable to keep statistics up to date. He estimated, however, that the laboratory will have made 85,000 tests in the 10 months ending Oct. 31, or double the average 12 month totals in the past.

The following table shows available monthly totals since the campaign began on July 1:

	July.	Aug.	Sept.
Syphilis tests.....	9,443	11,457	12,207
Number infected..	1,143	1,514	......
Gonorrhea tests..	5,396	6,992	*7,500
Number infected..	994	1,237	......

*Estimated.

STENGEL NAMED MANAGER OF BEES FOR 1938

THE GUMPS—WHEN OLD FRIENDS MEET

ALL ROADS LEAD TO MINNEAPOLIS THIS WEEK-END

64,000 to See Gophers Battle Irish.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Bernie Bierman.

Although Wisconsin and Ohio State, undefeated in the fight for the Western conference championship, will be conducting further tests this week-end, the football center Saturday, at least in the central states, will be in Minneapolis, where Notre Dame engages the Gophers.

This is not intended as a slight to the Buckeyes, who last Saturday defeated the defending champion, Northwestern, nor the Badgers, who meet Northwestern this week, but Ohio State is an almost unanimous choice to trounce Chicago, and whether Wisconsin can lick Northwestern or not may be immaterial in view of later dates with Purdue and Minnesota. After the 21 to 0 defeat by Pittsburgh, it will be difficult to convince many that Wisconsin can win from Minnesota, even if the Badgers should upset Northwestern and Purdue.

Both Have Been Beaten.

The glamor of a battle between undefeated teams, such as surrounded the Ohio State-Notre Dame game at Columbus in 1935, will be missing Saturday at Minneapolis. To the 64,000 who purchased their tickets last August, however, it probably makes little difference now that Nebraska has defeated Coach Bernie Bierman's Minnesota eleven and that Notre Dame has been tied by Illinois and beaten by Carnegie Tech.

There's a heritage of hard fought strife in this abbreviated series between the Irish and the Gophers which should produce brilliant football. Minnesota partly redeemed its reputation as one of the big tough squads of 1937 by overwhelming Michigan, 39 to 6. While Michigan has lost three games, thirty-nine points are conceived to prove Minnesota's power rather than Michigan's weakness.

Irish Can Fight.

Notre Dame hasn't produced a consistent attack. Perhaps the Irish were as fortunate to win from Navy last week, 9 to 7, as they were unfortunate to lose to Carnegie Tech by the same score after holding the Scots to seven yards gained from scrimmage. In estimating Notre Dame possibilities more attention should be paid to the fourth period rally against the Middies, and, in particular, to the furious defensive play after McCarthy had scored the tying touchdown.

Notre Dame's line hasn't been criticized on defensive play as much as it has in its offensive maneuvers. So, while the Irish may have another attack of whatever chronic ailment is affecting the manufacture of touchdowns, it doesn't follow that the Irish line will be pushed aside easily by the Minnesotans.

Gophers Get Fans' Support.

There are two other factors. Minnesota will be highly favored, which is a disadvantage as far as these Gopher veterans are concerned, and Notre Dame seldom fails to rise to the occasion when it is spotlighted before the public as it will be Saturday.

On the basis of performance so far this season, Minnesota must be named the winner; but if you're looking for a long shot, or if you belong to that partisan group which refuses to admit defeat for the Irish until it has been written in the record books, this is your chance.

While many may believe Notre Dame will whip Minnesota, few will be so foolhardy as to think Notre Dame can continue the following week and beat Pittsburgh. Pitt, one of the most powerful teams in the country, is pointing for the game with Notre Dame and its subsequent contest against Nebraska. By these Pitt expects to establish itself as the logical selection to defend its Rose bowl championship next New Year's afternoon.

Pitt Battles Carnegie.

Pitt meets Carnegie Tech Saturday, and after Notre Dame and Nebraska it plays Penn State and Duke. As all except seven points were scored against Ohio Wesleyan, West Virginia, and Wisconsin, the point total may have slight bearing on the question of Pitt's power. Those seven points, however, defeated Duquesne, and Pitt outplayed Fordham, losing one touchdown by penalty, although eventually being held to a scoreless tie.

Pitt has gained 1,370 yards in 253 scrimmage plays in five games. In 36 forward passes Pitt has completed 12 for 188 yards. Opponents have gained only 230 yards by running and 219 yards by passing.

Power Is Well Distributed.

MARQUETTE AND SANTA CLARA TO ATTRACT 40,000

20,000 Tickets Are Sold for Park Benefit Game.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

Advance ticket sales for the football game between Marquette university and Santa Clara at Soldiers' field Saturday afternoon yesterday reached a total of 20,000, according to an announcement by Evar. I. Kelly, director of arrangements for the battle. Proceeds of the game will benefit the Chicago park district's welfare fund, maintained to aid employés in need of assistance. Tickets are being sold at $1.10, $2.20, and $3.30.

Officials of the game anticipate a throng of nearly 40,000, a gathering comparable to that for the inaugural contest for the park board fund, played last year between Marquette and St. Mary's of California.

Hilltoppers Lose Stars.

Marquette alumni, of whom there are plenty in these parts, are all too well aware that the 1937 Hilltoppers have not matched the record of the great eleven last year, which won seven straight, including a 20 to 6 victory over St. Mary's in the park board game, before it lost its final effort to Duquesne.

Loss of such able young men as Ray [Buzz] Buivid, the Guepe twins, and Ward Cuff handicaped the Milwaukee team considerably, and a number of early season injuries did not improve the situation. However, Coach Paddy Driscoll has striven with such success of late that Marquette played its best football of the season last Saturday in losing to Michigan State. It held the Spartans to a 7 to 7 tie into the final quarter.

Bronchos Are Unbeaten.

On the other hand, the customers who attend Saturday will see in Santa Clara one of the few surviving undefeated and untied teams in the country. The Bronchos have rolled up four straight triumphs, beginning with a decision over Stanford in their opener, and ending with Sunday's 7 to 0 victory against Loyola of Los Angeles. The coast eleven is coached by Lawrence [Buck] Shaw, former Notre Dame tackle. The Santa Clara squad will arrive at 8:30 o'clock Friday morning, going immediately to the South Shore Country club. It will work out at Soldiers' field on Friday afternoon.

Scouting reports on Santa Clara were studied at Marquette yesterday. A former Marquette scout and freshman coach now residing in California has watched Santa Clara for the Hilltoppers this fall. His report on the strength of the westerners gave Coach Driscoll little encouragement.

Study Motion Pictures.

Motion pictures of Broncho games, shown to the Golden Avalanche squad last night, provided strong clues to the offense and defense which may be expected Saturday. Coach Art Guepe's Marquette freshmen have been rehersing Santa Clara plays for more than a week and will be ready for their first demonstration today.

Driscoll excused the first stringers from heavy drill yesterday, but scrimmaged the reserves on offense. No additional injuries were reported after the Michigan State game.

Skippy, the pet chimpanzee at the Lincoln Park zoo, has been appointed mascot for the Santa Clara and Marquette squads. Skippy has been assigned this dual responsibility because both the teams will be playing on a foreign field. He will wear a complete football uniform.

Under the direction of Floyd Young, director of the zoo, Skippy has made daily appearances in his uniform and on several occasions was permitted to mingle with the St. Michael's High school football squad, which practices in Lincoln park.

IV.

I wish the coach would come to me some day
Wearing an atmosphere of deepest blue,
And tell me in a confidential way
The team had lost their punch, and he was through;
Then I'd beseech him: "Give them one more chance,
And let me act as quarter back." And he
Would raise his brows and look at me askance,
Then actually break down and agree.

In one day I would whip that team in shape,
And make an accurately timed machine,
And even the astounded coach would gape
And say, "That quarter back sure has a bean!"
And Jane would flash on me her sweetest grin
And ask if she could wear my college pin.

Farkas, Leading College Scorer, Enters Hospital

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 25.—(AP)—Andy Farkas, the nation's leading college scorer, entered a hospital today for treatment of a leg infection. Physicians were unprepared to say whether the University of Detroit star half back would be ready for the Villanova game here Saturday. Farkas suffered cleat cuts in the Boston college game last Saturday.

WAR ADMIRAL GOES BACK TO RACING TODAY

Baltimore, Md., Oct. 25.—(AP)—Samuel Riddle's undefeated 3 year old champion, War Admiral, will return to action tomorrow in the running of the Churchill handicap at the Laurel track. The Philadelphia owned runner which has been in retirment since last June, when it suffered an injury in winning the Belmont stakes, will oppose a top notch field including Aneroid, Threadneedle, Evergold, Bootless, and Floradora.

Conditions of the race provide that three year olds carry 112 pounds, unless the entry has not won $700 since Oct. 1, in which event there is an 8 pound allowance. This permits War Admiral to carry 104 pounds, 11 less than assigned to Threadneedle and Evergold.

A. A. U. OFFICIAL ADMITS FRICTION OVER NAZI STAND

International Group Calls for Explanation.

New York, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Although officials here and in Europe refused to consider seriously the suggestion that the International Amateur Athletic Federation planned any sort of punitive action against the Amateur Athletic union because of the latter's anti-Nazi stand, an A. A. U. official revealed today there had been some correspondence on the subject.

Some time ago the federation wrote the A. A. U. inquiring why Germany was not included in the itinerary of its touring track and field teams last summer and asked that the A. A. U. change its attitude which banned visits to Germany.

Ask Early Reply.

A reply was requested by Oct. 18 in order that the I. A. A. F. could remove the matter from its agenda before the annual meeting in London next March.

Although the official did not say whether a reply had been sent, he indicated it had not, saying he doubted if anything could be done before the annual A. A. U. meeting in Boston Nov. 13-15.

He also expressed doubt that the I. A. A. F. intended to take punitive action.

In Europe Bo Ekelund of Sweden, secretary of the international body, and Gen. Giorgio Vaccaro, secretary of the Italian Olympic committee, both entered emphatic denials.

'Ridiculous,' Says Ekelund.

Ekelund said reports that he had suggested a ban against the A. A. U. at the suggestion of Italian sports officials was "perfectly ridiculous." Gen. Vaccaro termed them "absolutely false and fantastic."

Jeremiah T. Mahoney, A. A. U. president and leader of the anti-Nazi movement in the A. A. U., could not be reached today. Mahoney led a bitter fight to prevent United States participation in the 1936 Olympics at Berlin. He was defeated on this question, but latter was elected A. A. U. president.

The first rumors of the threatened retaliation originated in Rome. They were to the effect that the letters were instigated by an Italian member of the International federation.

MONTREAL, Oct. 25.—(AP)—The roster of the National Hocky league all-star team that will oppose a combined Maroon-Canadien six in the Howie Morenz benefit game here Nov. 2 was completed tonight as Toronto announced its selections. The Leafs will be represented by Red Horner, defense, and Harvey Jackson and Charlie Conacher, wings.

The Chicago Blackhawks will send Johnny Gottselig and Mush March, wings. The Rangers will present Frank Boucher and Cecil Dillon, center and wing. Defense Man Eddie Shore and Goalie Tiny Thompson will represent Boston.

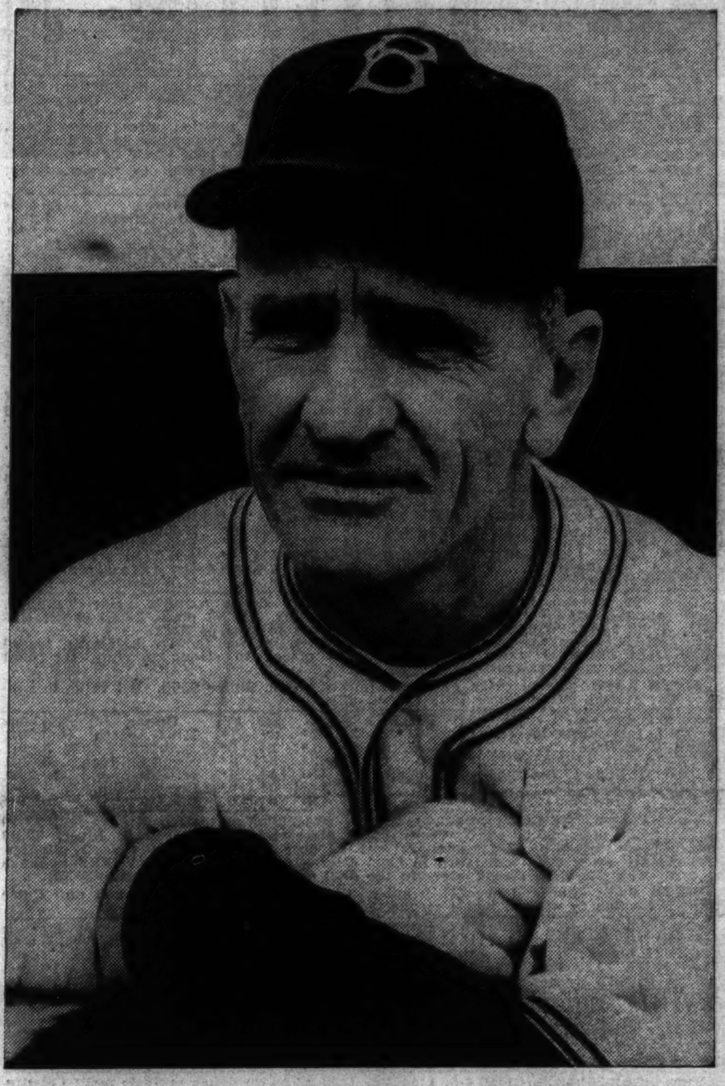
Substitute Tips Quarter Back Off to a Swell Play

Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 25.—(AP)—Maj. Biff Jones rushed a reserve tackle into the Nebraska-Missouri football game at Columbia last Saturday with instructions to use a certain play.

Excited by the competition, the tackle forgot all about the instructions until after the Huskers scored their winning touchdown. Then he rushed to Thurston Phelps, the Nebraska quarter back, with the word.

"O, yes," said Phelps, "that's the play we just scored on."

CAN'T KEEP HIM DOWN



Casey Stengel, dean of National league wisecrackers, was named manager of the Boston Bees yesterday. Casey, who served three years as boss of the Dodgers, was fired at the close of the 1936 season, but his salary went on through 1937. [Acme Photo.]

Bears, Out in Front, Want Five Victories to Stay There

BY GEORGE STRICKLER.

The Bear came over the mountain Sunday. Now his trouble starts. From here on it becomes a matter of maintaining the pace set in Sunday's 28 to 20 triumph over Detroit. Six games remain on the Bears' schedule and victory in five is the only positive insurance against a possible playoff and defeat in the western division race of the National Professional league.

Sunday's game saw the Bears reach the heights predicted for them by Coach George Halas. Detroit offered the final test. The Bears met it like champions. In previous games against inferior opponents and good opponents who had not reached their stride, the Bears were not especially impressive.

The Bears Play Football.

When it was necessary to play football to win Sunday the Bears played it, and today they lead the league and their division by a full game with five victories and no defeats. But the sniping has only started. Beginning Sunday, when they meet a formidable Giant eleven in New York, the Bears must face Green Bay, Detroit, the Cardinals, Brooklyn, and Cleveland.

A poor performance against any one of these opponents might end disastrously. Green Bay, Detroit, New York, and the Cardinals especially are dangerous opponents. The Packers are moving again after a disappointing start, and Detroit can be counted on to play better football at home on Thanksgiving day than it did Sunday when its line was outcharged and outmaneuvered all afternoon.

New York Stands Out in East.

New York is the pick of the eastern division, a young team with plenty of power, good kicking, and an excellent passing attack. Its 21 to 0 victory over Brooklyn Sunday was accomplished without a great deal of effort as Coach Steve Owen preserved his key men for the Bear invasion this week-end.

Football again appears to be the chief interest of the Cardinals. Coach Milan Creighton, starting from scratch, finally has been able to build up a passable passing attack, and this weapon combined with good running backs appears to have solved the early season problem of impotency. The Cardinals passed to one touchdown and plunged to another in beating Pittsburgh 13 to 7.

Green Bay utilized its superb passing attack with a good running offense to smother Cleveland, 35 to 7. The Packers expect to finish the season without another defeat.

Study in Offensive Football.

Sunday's game at Wrigley field offered an interesting study in offensive football. The Bears relied largely on their man in motion attack, an attack which depends entirely upon timing. On this occasion it was timed perfectly. Every time the half back went into motion the Lions hurriedly shifted eight men.

The most vulnerable spot in the Lions' defense was the middle of the line. Jack Manders and Bronko Nagurski plugged through here repeatedly for gains and first downs. Each made ninety yards, Manders in 14 attempts and Nagurski in 15, to pile up 180 of the Bears' 260 yards by rushing.

PITTSBURGH, PA., Oct. 25.—[Special.]—Max Fiske, right half back and passer, was sold to the Chicago Cardinals by the Pittsburgh Pirates of the National Professional league today. Massachusett's Share of Race Betting Is $2,145,098

Boston, Mass., Oct. 25.—(AP)—The commonwealth of Massachusetts' treasury will be enriched by $2,145,098 as the result of wagering this year at the horse and dog racing tracks within the state. The racing commission announced today that the betting for the season totaled $48,916,185. The state's 3½ per cent is expended on old age pensions.

FORMER DODGER PILOT SUCCEEDS BILL M'KECHNIE

Agrees to Terms by Telephone.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 25.—(AP)—The Boston Bees today named Casey Stengel, former manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers, as leader of the club for 1938, succeeding William B. McKechnie.

J. Robert Quinn, president of the Bees, telephoned Stengel at the latter's home in Omaha, Tex., and offered him the job. Stengel accepted. No terms were announced, but Quinn indicated the question of salary and length of contract would be settled when Stengel comes to Boston early next month.

Stengel was idle last summer, although under contract with the Dodgers, from whom he was reputed to have received more money for not managing the club than Burleigh Grimes, the team's pilot, did for finishing sixth.

Three Years with Dodgers.

Stengel managed the Brooklyn club three years, finishing sixth in 1934, fifth in '35 and seventh in '36 after a distinguished playing career with the New York Giants in the early 1920s.

McKechnie, who piloted the Bees to fifth place last year with mediocre material, left Boston to go with the Cincinnati Reds at a substantial increase in salary.

It was the second time Quinn had signed Stengel as manager. In 1934, when Quinn was directing the Brooklyn club, he closed a deal with Casey after the Dodger management had decided to release Max Carey.

Quinn said he had been in doubt about signing Stengel for the Bees until he reached him on the telephone.

Bees Wanted Hartnett.

"I turned down Casey's request for the job the day after the world series," he said, "explaining that I had two others in mind—Donie Bush of Minneapolis and Gabby Hartnett of the Chicago Cubs.

"When I couldn't get either of them I feared Casey might already have taken any one of five minor league offers he's had, including one from Kansas City."

There wasn't any doubt as soon as the telephone connection was made.

"Casey," Quinn asked, "do you want to come with us next year?"

"I'd be delighted to," came the reply.

"Okay, you've got the job."

It Doesn't Matter to Casey.

Casey told Quinn, the latter said, he didn't know until today Bush had turned down the Boston job to remain with Minneapolis and that he "didn't care if 150 guys have turned it down."

Before calling Stengel, Quinn revealed that Hartnett and Bush had been the only two approached, that neither Babe Ruth nor Rabbit Maranville had applied for the post.

P. K. Wrigley, owner of the Chicago Cubs, he said, informed him that Hartnett was not available for any managerial job and that the Cubs' catcher would have a job in the Chicago organization whenever he gave up playing.

Quinn said he had gone over applications from Rogers Hornsby, Roger Peckinpaugh, "and about 150 others," but had come to the conclusion "Casey Stengel is the only man left."

"He may have the reputation of a clown, but I've worked with him for two years; I know he can be as serious as any one can be and he's loyal," Quinn continued.

"Don't sell Stengel short. He's likely to fool a lot of people, and if he wins next summer. . . .

He's a Versatile Leader.

"Casey will make the players hustle, and he's a good man at mixing up his plays. He won't always holler for a hit-and-run play or a bunt, and he's not afraid to try something new.

"I've wanted somebody who knows the National league, and while Tony Lazzeri would make a pretty good manager in a couple of years he doesn't know our league."

Stengel, who is 46 years old, and managed the Toledo Mudhens after his major league playing days, said he had seen the Bees play their first four games last year—all of which they lost, and watched them later in the season.

"I don't think they were lucky to finish fifth and I believe we can do it again, if not finish higher," he declared.

Quinn said the status of Coaches Hank Gowdy and Bob Smith would be settled when Stengel arrives.

LADY BESSIE AND MARFEU WIN AT SPORTSMAN PARK

Quackenbush Brings In Three Winners.

BY FRENCH LANE.

Everybody was in earnest when the final week of the Chicago horse racing season opened at Sportsman's Park yesterday afternoon.

The deadline was much too close for those attempting to recover their season's losses. It was not close enough for the winners. They, too, were jittery, fearing their profits will melt away before the meeting ends on Saturday afternoon.

Favorite players found themselves betting on long shots and losing. The boys and girls who usually shoot at the moon wagered on favorites. They were whipped just as soundly.

Folks like plunger Joe Allen, who seldom looks at anything but a 4 to 5 shot, found themselves betting on Jokester at 6 to 1 only to see Jokester finish last. His race indicated he is the most appropriately named horse in the country.

Favorites Win Features.

In the two best races on the program, the LaGrange purse at a mile and seventy yards and the Harvey purse at seven furlongs, the favorites were handy winners.

Lady Bessie, a daughter of Black Servant, was an easy winner of the LaGrange at a mutuel payoff of $4.40. Never before had she run in such cheap company. As a result she was in complete command of the situation all the way.

Marfeu, with T. P. Martin on his back, won the Harvey purse. His margin of victory over Veeks was small. However, he drove up from behind and possibly could have won by a much longer distance. Black River finished third. He was a hot tip but Jocky Joe Cowley cooked this horse's goose by running him out of strength while he was making the early pace. Marfeu paid $8.40 for a $2 ticket.

Veteran Wins Three Races.

George Quackenbush, veteran rider who has dropped from a big timer to the smaller stables, had one of his big afternoons of the year. He scored three victories. He won on the long shot Clasp in the first race, kicked the long shot Taximan home in the fourth race, then came back to win with the outsider Cabotin in the mile and an eighth sixth race.

ORDERS 2 HAWKS TO PRACTICE ON PENALTY SHOT

Muskegon, Mich., Oct. 25.—[Special.]—Manager Bill Stewart of the Chicago Blackhawks hocky team instructed Johnny Gottselig and Paul Thompson during the morning's practice that he expects them to devote at least 15 minutes a day to practicing the new penalty shot which will be levied this season if a player deliberately fouls an opponent, who, in the judgment of the referee, has a chance to score. Stewart said either Gottselig or Thompson would be called to do the shooting in the event of a penalty shot.

Under the new rule it will be harder for the goalie to stop the shot than it was in the seasons when the player was forced to shoot the puck from a set position in the center of a circle. This season the player may carry the puck. This maneuver requires the utmost in stick handling ability coupled with a hard and accurate shot. Thompson and Gottselig excel in this type of play.

BROWN BOMBERS BATTLE SILVER ARROWS ELEVEN

The Brown Bombers, south side colored eleven, and the Silver Arrows of Cicero will open play in the newly formed Windy City Football league tonight at St. Philip stadium, Kedzie avenue and Van Buren streets. This new league is composed of six independent teams, the Spokes A. C., Berwyn Parrots, Our Lady of Grace, and Alderman Kells, as well as the Brown Bombers and the Silver Arrows. Games will be played every Tuesday and Thursday nights at St. Philip stadium.

Frankie Talaber Defeats Kilonis; Von Schacht Wins

Frankie Talaber won a sixty minute decision over Mike Kilonis last night in the windup of the wrestling show at the White City arena. Friedrich Von Schacht made his White City debut by tossing Red Jones in three minutes and nineteen seconds. Lou Goldberg and Angelo Martini wrestled to a thirty minute draw, and Frank Welger tossed Jerry Lynch in nineteen minutes and fifty-three seconds.

Illinois Women Golfers to Play at Champaign

Champaign, Ill., Oct. 25.—[Special.]—The Champaign County Country club will be host to the Illinois state women's golf tournament next June, it was announced today. Mrs. E. L. Ives, Chicago, chairman of the committee on arrangements, today advised H. M. Moller, president of the local club, of the acceptance of its invitation to hold the annual meet here.

Woods Gives Lee a Beating in 8 Rounds

Woods, however, had several bad moments. In the third round the sturdy Lee landed a terrific right swing to the head which almost floored Woods. Lee weighed 124 pounds to Harvey's 129.

Simington Beats Manriquez.

In the first fight of eight rounds, Everett Simington, Poplar Bluff, Mo., 134 pound boxer, whipped Al Manriquez of Sioux City, Ia. The attendance was 1,202 and receipts were $1,322.

Gene Spencer, south sectional Golden Gloves winner in 1933 and 1934, won a disputed round decision over Sammy Scully, Chicago featherweight who formerly boxed as Sammy Scoglio. It was the rangy Spencer's seventh straight triumph in the professional ranks.

Six Victories For Agnes.

The last examination for south side boxers entered in the seventh annual tournament sponsored by the Catholic Youth organization will be held this afternoon and evening at C. Y. O. center gymnasium, 31 East Congress street. Competition in the south section opens at the 124th Field Artillery armory on Thursday. The 228 boys registered from that center must pass a physical test or forfeit the right to compete. The examinations will be conducted by the C. Y. O. medical staf, of which Dr. James V. Russell is the head.

Kid Irish, Benld, Ill., junior lightweight, yesterday was substituted for Jimmy Christy in a ten round headline bout against Billy Marquart at Marigold Gardens next Monday. . . . A recent dispatch from Canton, O., erroneously reported that Frankie Flynn had stopped Lloyd Pine in a bout there. Pine scored a technical knockout over Flynn.

LIST 5 POSSIBLE SCHMELING FOES FOR BOUT IN U.S.

New York, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Mike and Joe Jacobs got together today to talk over the matter of an opponent for Max Schmeling here in December.

Joe, Schmeling's American representative, called on Mike, of the Twentieth Century Sporting club, after receiving a cablegram from Schmeling. The German heavyweight said he was scheduled to box Ben Foord in Hamburg, Jan. 30, but was perfectly willing to come to this country to fight any time during December.

Mike and Joe finally decided to submit the names of five fighters by cable to Schmeling. They are: Nathan Mann, New Haven; Harry Thomas, Chicago; Al McCoy, Boston; Jimmy Adamick, Detroit, and Isadore Gastanaga, Spain.

Today's activities along the boxing front also saw Fred Windsor, San Francisco promoter, offer Bob Pastor $15,000 or 40 per cent of the receipts to fight Lou Nova, west coast heavyweight, in San Francisco, Nov. 29. Pastor is scheduled to fight in Philadelphia Nov. 8 against an opponent yet to be named.

GAME BIRD FARMS OFFER DIFFICULT, SPORTY SHOOTING

Preserves Draw Interest of Illinois Hunters.

BY BOB BECKER.

The first metallic tags that we have seen issued by the Illinois department of conservation to a game breeder with a license to "raise, kill, sell, and transport" game birds raised in captivity now are being used on the game farm of Dr. Paul B. Magnuson of Dundee, Ill.

We saw these tags the other day when we visited the Magnuson farm. They are much like the ones that Wisconsin distributes to operators of licensed game bird farms and hunting preserves in that state. When a bird [pheasant or other species which under the law may be raised in captivity] has been shot or otherwise killed it immediately is marked with a numbered tag. This indicates that it is a bird raised under a game breeder's permit and is not a wild bird. The tag must stay on the leg of the bird until it is prepared for consumption.

Pioneer in Field.

Dr. Magnuson is a sort of pioneer in this field of game bird breeding in Chicagoland and the hunting of the birds as specified in the regulations of the new Illinois game code. His work in raising pheasants in large numbers and in planting cover and arranging shooting conditions so that birds raised and released provide the sportiest and most difficult shooting represents a trail blazing experiment that will be followed by other sportsmen in the state.

To hunt pheasants behind a pointing dog is in some respects about the easiest shooting that one may get when after the ringnecks. A good dog that knows how to hold his birds commonly will allow a hunter to get too close to the ringneck for a shot requiring much skill.

More Difficult Shooting.

But the man who holds a game breeders permit, raises his ringnecks and then releases them so that they tear down wind over high trees or zigzag through an oak forest, is securing a much more difficult type of bird shooting. On our visit to the Magnuson farm the other day we saw these high flying pheasants rushing through and over tall oaks at top speed because they had a brisk wind behind them.

Sometimes you had just a small opening through the tree tops for a quick shot. At times the birds came out of the woods so high that it took plenty of gun swing, number six shot and accurate timing to drop them . . . a type of pheasant shooting that makes the average marsh hunting of pheasants look easy, especially when the birds are lying close to a pointing dog.

IGNAT AND DIOT ARE PAIRED FOR 6 DAY BIKE RACE

Emile Ignat and Emile Diot, French team, who won the last two six-day races in Chicago, will ride again as a team in the six-day bicycle race which starts in the Stadium a week from Sunday night.

The French stars broke the winning streak of Gustav Kilian and Heinz Vopel, the German riders, a year ago in Chicago. The Germans had won nine straight races until the Frenchmen led them home by two laps. Last March Kilian and Vopel were not in the race, but the French riders won this time over Alvaro Georgetti and Cor Wals, the Italian-Holland team.

Manager Harry Mendel also has announced that Henry O'Brien and Jackie Sheehan will make up the Irish team to compete.

by RICHARD SEIBOLD, Brewmaster

BUT ONLY
for we won't release further supplies until they also are FULLY AGED

● We're mighty proud to invite all our friends to join us in a new treat that we've been planning for over a year.

One reason we're so proud of this MEISTER BRÄU Ale, aged a full year, is that we know you'll recognize instantly a vast difference in the flavor of this as compared with ordinary Ales. It's slightly tangy. It has a rich winey character, typical of Old English Stock Ales—a character utterly different from Ales that taste similar to beer.

There's new delight in store for you when you taste MEISTER BRÄU Ale. We wish we had more of it but only 10,000 cases are fully matured and aged for a year.

Order some of this now while it's available. For we won't release more until it, too, is fully matured. A lot of our friends have already ordered a case or two of this for these cool fall days—and once you taste it you, too, will want a supply of MEISTER BRÄU Ale on hand.

Any dealer who handles MEISTER BRÄU Beer can supply you, but order early as no more can be had until further announcement after these 10,000 cases are gone.

MAROON LUCK IS ALL BAD; MEET OHIO STATE NEXT

177 Pound Line Must Face Buckeyes Saturday.

Fully aware of the thankless job that lies ahead of them, Chicago's Maroons yesterday underwent the first of a week-long series of defensive scrimmages, with the object of slowing up Ohio State's attack at Stagg field Saturday.

The only advantage the Maroons will have over the Buckeyes is that Chicago had no game last Saturday while Ohio was engaged with Northwestern. The Maroons had a double practice Saturday and Coach Shaughnessy expects to drive his boys hard this week.

Ohio has been scouted by Assistant Coach Jay Berwanger, who drilled the freshmen in Buckeye plays used yesterday. Line Coach Herbert Blumer, who was dissatisfied with the work of the forwards against Princeton gave individual work to the linemen.

BUCKEYE REGULARS REST.

Columbus, O., Oct. 25.—[Special.]—Regulars of the Ohio State football team, which Saturday defeated Northwestern, 7 to 0, were excused from practice today.

The remaining team members met a picked freshman squad. In this manner Coach Francis Schmidt has been getting a line on the second team members not experienced enough to see action against the four foes Ohio has met so far this year.

Schmidt said today he would start the regular eleven and keep it in the game until a safe lead is gained. The Buckeyes will leave for Chicago Thursday night.

IOWA DRILLS FOR PURDUE.

Coach Irl Tubbs indicated his chief problems will be to continue working with an offense which has failed to show the necessary drive this year, and to mend the aerial defense which still is faulty.

Failure of Iowa tackles to rush Michigan passers last Saturday contributed to Iowa's inability to stop the Wolverine touchdown drive. Floyd De Heer, who played most of last week's game will be given a trial at regular tackle post and Nead will be alternated with Frank Gallagher.

The Iowa back field will be strengthened for the Purdue invasion by the return of Full Back Glenn Olson and Half Back Floyd Dean, who were injured against Wisconsin. None of the Hawkeyes was injured in the Michigan game.

PURDUE GETS TO WORK.

Lafayette, Ind., Oct. 25.—[Special.]—Purdue's football squad was placed back on a scrimmage diet this afternoon as the Boilermakers sought to develop a scoring punch for the Iowa game here this Saturday.

In this afternoon's extended scrimmage session on both offense and defense, the Boilermaker attack was featured by forwards and laterals, with Cecil Isbell, Lou Brock, and Tony Juska as the outstanding performers.

Don Powell, veteran end, who dislocated his elbow in the Ohio State game, may be able to play against Iowa.

HOOSIERS EYE NEBRASKA.

Bloomington, Ind., Oct. 25.—[Special.]—The Indiana university squad settled down to a hard defensive workout this afternoon as preparations started for the game against Nebraska at Lincoln Saturday.

Capt. Jick Kenderdine's injured ankle was reported on the mend, but whether Jim Sirtosky, star end, and Bill Anderson, pass throwing back, will be ready for the Husker battle remained a question.

HUSKERS STRESS PASSES.

Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 25.—(AP)—All available Nebraska players concentrated on aerial offense today for the coming Indiana game as Coach Biff Jones awaited developments from a long injury list. Full Back Bill Callihan, Tackle Fred Shirey, End Elmer Dohrmann, and Half Backs Jim Mather and Marvin Plock were hurt, but trainers expressed belief all of them would be ready Saturday.

A. A. U. CONSIDERS ABOLITION OF METRIC DISTANCE

New York, Oct. 25.—(AP)—For the third year in succession, the Amateur Athletic union will consider the abolition of metric distances in track events and return to yards and miles when it convenes in its 49th convention at Boston, Nov. 13-15.

The proposal is one of the 76 proposed amendments which appears in the report of Chairman Albert F. Wheltle of the legislation committee, mailed today to the 400 delegates to the convention.

Some progress was made last year by the opponents of the decimal system of measuring when the rules were amended, leaving it optional with the district association.

Other proposed amendments affecting track and field include: Permission for use of starting blocks; elimination of the 200 meter low hurdle race from the championship program; decision that a helpful wind in a straightaway race, broad jump or hop, step and jump is any wind having a velocity of two meters a second or approximately four and a half miles an hour.

Badgers Open Practice for N. U. Battle

Madison, Wis., Oct. 25.—[Special.]—Beaten by Pittsburgh but still undefeated in Big Ten competition, Wisconsin's football team today began preparations for the Northwestern game here Saturday. The Badgers haven't defeated a Wildcat eleven since 1921. Five games have been played in the intervening years.

Plan Scrimmage Today.

Players who participated in the Pitt game were excused this afternoon during a comparatively light workout, but scrimmage against Northwestern plays is scheduled for tomorrow and Wednesday.

Mike Hanley, brother of the former Northwestern coach, Dick Hanley, has been scouting the Wildcats for Stuhldreher this year and will assist the Wisconsin coaching staf for the first three days of this week.

N. U. IS OPTIMISTIC.

Coach Lynn Waldorf said he was pleased with the showing against the Buckeyes. He considered that the Wildcats turned in their best offensive performance of the season. In driving to Ohio's 5 yard line after the second half kickoff, the Purple displayed an offensive punch that has been absent in earlier games.

For the third successive game, the Wildcats had a group of players who performed for the full 60 minutes. The "iron men" against Ohio were Erwin Wegner, center, Bob Voigts, tackle, and Jack Ryan, full back. Bernard Jefferson, half back, Nick Cutlich, tackle, and Mike Calvano, guard, were others who played all but a few minutes of the game.

Squad in Good Shape.

The Wildcats came out of the Ohio game in good physical condition. Fred Vanzo, who sustained a leg injury that forced his retirement in the second quarter, is the only regular whose physical status is doubtful.

Guldahl to Head Staf of Pros at Miami Club

New York, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Ralph Guldahl, United States open golf champion, has been signed to head the professional staf at the Miami-Biltmore Country club at Miami for the 1937-'38 winter season, local offices of the club announced today. Denny Shute, the United States P. G. A. champion, now in South America, was signed some weeks ago.

GOPHERS FEAR IRISH MACS WILL GO MARCHING BY

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 25.—[Special.] — Coach Bernie Bierman, who saw Notre Dame defeat Navy Saturday, today started building the defensive pattern which he hopes will stop the Irish when they meet the Minneosta eleven here next Saturday.

Bierman, impressed by the work of Jack McCarthy and Bunny McCormick of the Notre Dame back field, set out about the task of devising a means of restraining the young men.

John Kulbitski, alternate Gopher center, may not be of any service Saturday. His sprained ankle has not responded to treatment, and the coaches continued to hunt for replacements. Frank Warner, reserve end, injured in scrimmage Friday, was in shape again, as were all the other Gophers.

The largest influx of fans in the history of Minnesota football is anticipated for Saturday's game, which will be witnessed by 64,000, the biggest crowd ever to see a game in the northwest. Twenty-five trains have been chartered. They will come from South Bend, Chicago, Denver, Butte, Mont., and other cities.

SIMONICH PLEASES IRISH.

Notre Dame, Ind., Oct. 25.—[Special.]—Notre Dame's full back problem has cleared a bit as the result of Ed Simonich's return to form in Saturday's Navy game.

He alternated with the first team in that game and again today in a brief drill in which the regulars were given a preliminary look at Minnesota plays—as executed by the reserves—in anticipation of Saturday's game at Minneapolis.

Seven full backs have seen action in four Notre Dame games. The latest starter is Joe Thesing, sophomore who made his college football debut with the first team a week ago against Carnegie Tech.

Simonich apparently has recovered from a gall bladder infection. Joe Ruetz, No. 1 left guard, who missed the Navy game because of injuries, also may be able to take his place with the varsity Saturday.

The regulars were dismissed after a short workout today.

STOCKHOLM ASKS $15,000 DAMAGES FOR DUSTY TRACK

Carl Stockholm, promoter of automobile races, filed suit for $15,000 damages in the Superior court yesterday against the Solvay Sales corporation, 1 North LaSalle street, manufacturers of chemical products. In the bill, drawn by Attorney Harry Guyon, it is charged that the corporation sold Stockholm a preparation to prevent the spread of dust on the dirt track of the Fair Grounds Speedway, River road and North avenue.

The process, according to Stockholm, failed to work, and he went to considerable expense improving the track. He charges that dust kept many spectators away and caused him to lose more than $10,000 in admissions.

Offense to Get Chief Attention at Michigan

Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 25.—[Special.] — Michigan's football team, cheered by its first Big Ten victory in two years against Iowa last Saturday, today looked forward to the game with Illinois at Champaign Saturday.

Coach Harry Kipke had praise for the team against Iowa and gave Right Tackle Bill Smith major credit for excellent play. In addition to blocking Iowa's point after touchdown attempt, Smith was a standout defensively.

Practice plans for the week will emphasize offense, Kipke said.

IT'S ILLINI HOMECOMING.

Champaign, Ill., Oct. 25.—[Special.]—Eager to present Coach Bob Zuppke with a victory in observance of his 25th anniversary, Illinois football players started a busy week of practice today in preparation for Saturday's homecoming game against Michigan.

Michigan's strength was shown by its triumph over Iowa, Coach Zuppke warned, pointing out that the Wolverines were unlucky enough to strike Minnesota at the crest of the Gophers' power and that Northwestern's running attack had been unable to dent the Wolverine line.

Today Zuppke put the Illini through a long workout offensively and defensively. Ken Zimmerman, junior half back, who showed well against the freshmen Saturday, may alternate with Jay Wardley at left half back. The return of Wardley is hoped to improve the passing game to which Zuppke devoted much time today.

GREENLEAF AND ALLEN WIN AS CUE MEET OPENS

Greenleaf, fifteen times world's champion, defeated Joe Diehl, Rockford, Ill., 125 to 89, in the first match, and Allen, title holder in 1915, scored an upset by swamping Andrew Ponzi, Philadelphia, 1934 champion, 125 to 25.

Allen turned in the best performance of the night to defeat Ponzi, although Greenleaf's run of 59 was the high for the two matches. Allen finished with a run of 39 in the twenty-first inning to end the match.

PONZI—0 13 0 3 1 0 0 28 0 1 0 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—47.

ALL ROADS LEAD TO MINNEAPOLIS THIS WEEK-END

mately even power, which are composed largely of veterans, Pitt also has a group of sophomores competent to take some of the burden from the regulars. Benkisn, Dick Cassiano, Emil Naric, and Bill Farkas probably will be the star ball carriers of 1938 and 1939. Now Pitt has Marshall Goldberg. Unless his caliber of play falls off appreciably Goldberg again is headed for national recognition.

Frank Souchak, who plays as well at either end of the scrimmage line, and Left Tackle Tony Matisi would be welcome additions to any football squad.

Pittsburgh's recently announced program for de-emphasis of football did not mention post season contests, such as the Rose Bowl game. It is far too early to consider probable contestants, but California now seems on its way to winning the Pacific coast championship and the right to name its opponent in this post-season game. As many elevens, including those in the Western conference, are opposed to post-season play, if Pitt doesn't win the choice, the team probably must come from the south.

Alabama now is most highly regarded in the Southeastern conference by virtue of Louisiana's defeat Saturday by Vanderbilt, 7 to 6. Vanderbilt is undefeated in the conference but has been beaten by Southern Methodist.

Rockingham Manager to Lease Oriental Park Track

Boston, Mass., Oct. 25.—(AP)—Lou Smith, general manager of Rockingham park, said tonight he would sign a five year contract tomorrow to lease and run Oriental Park race track.

Yale Turns Its Attention to Dartmouth

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 25.—(AP)—Yale had only a light workout today as preparations were begun for Saturday's game with Dartmouth in the Yale bowl. The first team went through a signal drill while the reserves had a short scrimmage against the scrubs. Coach Ducky Pond said he planned heavier workouts through the week.

HARVARD TESTS DEFENSE.

Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 25.—(AP)—Nine Harvard regulars were given a day of rest while the rest of the squad went through a defensive drill. Coach Dick Harlow outlined a man for man pass defense designed for use against Princeton Saturday.

GUNNERS VS. KELLS.

BRAUNINGER WILL JOIN MEDINAH CLUB STAF NOV. 1

President William J. Hammond of Medinah, in making the announcement yesterday, said the veteran coach was obtained as the first step in an expansion program aiming at the major national titles for 1938.

He also was one of the coaches of the American aquatic squad in last year's Olympic games at Berlin. He led every coach in the United States in the number of his protégés on the team.

In addition to being the only coach ever to win a national championship with a mixed team of men and women, Brauninger has developed during his ten years in Chicago such outstanding stars as Adolph Kiefer, Walter Laufer, and Al Green.

McAvoy Stops Hyams in 11th; Keeps Title

WAS FRANK FOXY OR DID HE JUST MISS A SIGNAL?

Yale Captain's Pass May Change Rules.

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 25.—(AP)—Clint Frank, Yale half back, found himself in the spotlight today, the leading man in a football play that threatens to become a new problem for rule makers and officials.

The play occurred late in the third quarter of the Yale-Cornell game Saturday which Yale won, 9 to 0. With the ball on Cornell's 28 yard line, fourth down and ten yards to go, Frank faded back to the 40 yard line and shot a long, high forward pass deep into the end zone without a single Yale player leaving the line of scrimmage.

The question today was whether Yale's brilliant captain had deliberately grounded a forward pass to gain ground, which involves a technicality in the rules. The officials called the play a touchback and gave the ball to Cornell on its 20 yard line, an advance of eight yards for Yale.

Well, Now, What About It?

All inquiries concerning the play were handled by Head Coach Ducky Pond of Yale who said:

"So far as I know, Frank intended that his pass be completed for a touchdown."

There were those, however, who insisted the play had all the earmarks of a deliberately grounded pass, and termed it a smart play on Frank's part.

They pointed out the circumstances that led to the play, the fact that no Yale player left the scrimmage line to attempt to complete the pass, and to an apparent technicality in the rule with emphasis on the interpretation of the word "loss."

Nothing About Gain.

Frank's pass came as Yale was protecting a 3 to 0 lead which it had gained early in the game on Dave Colwell's field goal. By throwing the ball over the end zone, Frank avoided chancing a pass interception or a blocked kick.

The rules provide that anyone who intentionally grounds a forward pass to save "loss" of yardage shall be penalized by the loss of a down for his team and the ball shall be put in play 15 yards back of the spot of the preceding down.

It was pointed out that there is nothing in the rules to penalize deliberate grounding of a pass to gain ground. The fact is that Yale did gain eight yards on the play.

MILLER TRAINING SITE.

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 25.—(AP)—Mike Kelley, president of the Minneapolis American Association Baseball club, said today the club would do its spring training in Daytona Beach, Fla.

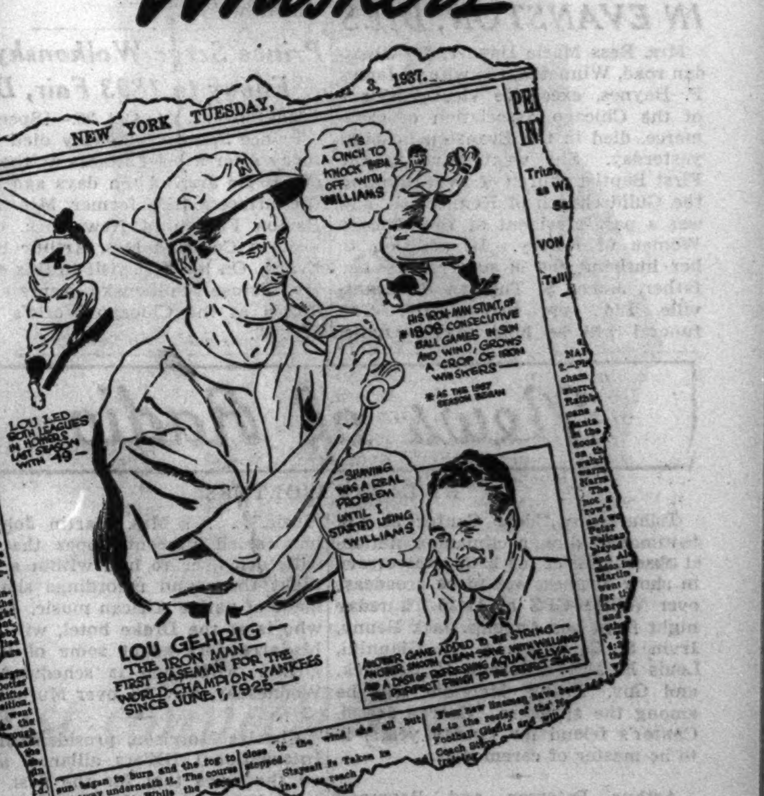
LOU GEHRIG says_ "Williams Softens My Tough Whiskers"



NEW YORK TUESDAY
LOU GEHRIG — THE IRON MAN — FIRST BASEMAN FOR THE WORLD-CHAMPION YANKEES SINCE JUNE 1, 1925—
ANOTHER GAME ADDED TO THE STRING — ANOTHER SMOOTH CLEAN SHAVE WITH WILLIAMS AND A DASH OF REFRESHING AQUA VELVA — THE PERFECT FINISH TO THE PERFECT SHAVE.

LOU GEHRIG finds Williams "Twin-Action" Shaving Cream leaves his tough whiskers limp, wilted . . . easy to shave off

What's the reason? Because Williams Shaving Cream is "twin-action." It enables you to shave off the 40,000 hard, spiny hairs on your face without yanking or scraping your skin.

SECOND, it soaks and softens the tough outer skin on your face—allows your blade edge to reach down and clip off whiskers right at the base.

No longer will shaving menace your chin and your disposition. Gentle pressure of your razor, as it skims lightly over your face, takes off whiskers cleanly, smoothly—without scraping or irritation. Get a tube of Williams today.

AMISH FARMERS OPEN NEW FIGHT ON WPA SCHOOL

Carry Plea to Governor of Pennsylvania.

Harrisburg, Pa., Oct. 25.—(AP)—Bearded Amish tobacco farmers, opposed to giving up their little red school houses for a modern one, started their fight on a new front today.

The controversy has been going on for almost a year, in and out of the court. The "plain people" of south central Pennsylvania objected to a WPA loan for a new consolidated school. They contended the old schools were good enough.

They tried to stop construction of the building with a court writ. They lost. Then they refused to send their children to the new school. Prosecution was threatened.

Leaders Visit State Capitol.

Today, three leaders came to the capitol to appeal to Gov. George H. Earle. Plain black hat in hand, John E. Forry, the spokesman, suggested the state building code prohibits classes in an uncompleted building. Adam E. Myers and Amos S. Fisher, gravely nodded concurrence.

A secretary said the governor was out of town, but would be back tomorrow. He jotted down an appointment for them.

The building, in the center of Pennsylvania's tobacco "garden spot," was opened in September. Thirty Amish boys and girls failed to answer roll call. Many enrolled later, however.

Other Objections Made.

Parents opposed use of buses to haul the children to school every day. Walking to school, as the oldsters did, was more healthful, they insisted.

Mingling with children from nonfarming communities would put their youngsters in too close contact with "the world at large," and might win them away from farm life.

The Amish live much as their ancestors in Germany did 100 years ago. The men wear black flat-topped hats. The women wear small black bonnets. Their dresses are black, without laces or frills.

MAX KARL MEYER, WINNETKA BANK FOUNDER, IS DEAD

Max Karl Meyer, 74 years old, veteran Winnetka banker, died yesterday at his home at 455 Chestnut street in the suburb. He was born in Germany, but was brought here by his parents when he was 10 years old. The family settled in Winnetka. As a youth Mr. Meyer clerked in a store and from 1884 to 1892 was the village postmaster. In 1894 he started a bank and a general store of his own.

The Meyer store remained under his management until 1913, when he retired to devote himself entirely to the bank, which was originally a private institution under his own name. It became the Winnetka Trust and Savings bank in 1917. Mr. Meyer was president at the time of his death.

Surviving is a daughter, Mrs. Blanche Humphrey. Funeral services will be held at 4 p. m. tomorrow in Rosehill cemetery chapel.

MRS. J. P. HAYNES, CHURCH WORKER IN EVANSTON, DIES

Mrs. Bess Marie Haynes, 337 Sheridan road, Winnetka, the wife of James P. Haynes, executive vice president of the Chicago Association of Commerce, died in the Evanston hospital yesterday. She was active in the First Baptist church of Evanston and the Guild church of Kenilworth, and was a past president of the Chicago Women of Rotary. In addition to her husband she is survived by her father, James S. Tupman of Evansville, Ind., and two sisters. The funeral will be held at Evansville.

ANNIE IS OLD ENOUGH- AS TO ESTABLISHING A REASON FOR THE COVERAGE: WARBUCKS' ESTATE WILL PASS TO ANNIE AT HIS DEATH- SHE'D NEED PLENTY OF COVERAGE FOR TAX PURPOSES- THAT WAS THE OSTENSIBLE REASON FOR TAKING OUT THE POLICIES-
DEATH AND ACCIDENT CLAUSES WERE INCLUDED APPARENTLY AS A SECONDARY CONSIDERATION- AND TOO, IT WAS SPLIT AMONG TEN COMPANIES, SO NO ONE POLICY WAS EXCESSIVE- OF COURSE, TOO, THERE HAD TO BE A FAVORABLE REPORT--- BLABBLE HANDLED THAT- DON'T FORGET, MY FRIEND, IN SPITE OF WHAT WE KNOW TO THE CONTRARY, BLABBLE IS PUBLICLY REGARDED AS A RIGHTEOUS, WEALTHY, UPSTANDING PILLAR OF SOCIETY- HE VOUCHED FOR BRITTLEWIT- THAT WAS SUFFICIENT TO PUT IT OVER-

A final accounting of the estate of Miss Jane Addams, founder of Hull house and internationally famous social service leader, was filed in the Probate court clerk's office yesterday by Prof. James Weber Linn, nephew of Miss Addams and executor of the estate.

Miss Addams' farm at Cedarville, Ill., is left to her sister-in-law, Mrs. Laura S. Addams, for use during her lifetime, and is to be shared by Miss Addams' nieces and nephews after Mrs. Addams' death. Miss Addams died on May 21, 1935, at the age of 74 years.

Jacobus, who died on Sept. 19, 1936, in her home at 920 South Linden avenue, Highland Park, left a $402,129 estate, according to an inheritance tax return approved yesterday by Judge Perry L. STOCKS BOUND FORWARD AFTER EARLY RELAPSE

Gains for Day Range Up to 10 Points.

New York, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Stocks bounded 1 to 10 points in today's market after an early sinking spell had landed many issues in new low ground for the year or longer.

The speedy shift from a sharply declining trend to a forward bulge was accomplished in the space of comparatively few minutes. Leaders finished as much as 12 or more points above their low positions established in the opening relapse.

The ticker tape frequently was several minutes behind on both buying and selling flurries. There were quiet intervals, however, when it looked as if another stumble was in the offing. Final prices were not far from the best marks of the day. Transfers amounted to 2,335,920 shares, compared with 2,112,590 last Friday.

Cheerful News Is Scarce.

Stimulating news was scarce for any department. Steels broke at the beginning but came back despite the estimate of the American Iron and Steel Institute that mill operations currently were at only 52.1 per cent of capacity. At that, the drop was less that had been expected in some quarters.

Utilities were resistant in the beginning and were encouraged later by action of the Supreme court in granting a review of the Public Works administration's municipal power program, which had been held constitutional by lower courts in the case instituted by the Duke Power company.

Brokers said a number of large accounts that got out of the market at substantially higher levels started to purchase when prices sank in the first half hour. Some short covering was in evidence and moderate buying orders also came from abroad.

Speculative forces also mulled over gossip having to do with the reported concern of governmental powers over possible disturbance to industry that might follow the further slide of stocks and bonds. Talk was revived of "something" being done to put brakes on selling psychology and thus enliven the dormant capital market. Concrete developments, however, were lacking.

Dealings in Chrysler Confused.

Confused dealings in the first hour centered around Chrysler. A flood of bids and offers swept the exchange after the issue had yielded more than 2 points and it was necessary for the governing committee to suspend trading in the stock for about 45 minutes until the tangle of figures was coordinated sufficiently to negotiate a transfer. The motor issue eventually was traded after the shutdown at 64, up 2¾ points on a block of 8,000 shares. It finished 8⅛ points to the good at 69¾.

Conspicuous on the forward surge were Allied Chemical, up 10⅛ points; Deere, up 9; J. I. Case, up 9½; Coca Cola, up 7; U. S. Steel, up 5¼; General Motors, up 3⅞; Eastman Kodak, up 8½, Bethlehem Steel, up 5⅝; American Telephone, up 5⅝; Montgomery Ward, up 4; Union Pacific, up 5; Santa Fe, up 2¼; N. Y. Central, up 2; U. S. Rubber, up 2¾; American Smelting, up 5¼; General Electric, up 3¼; Westinghouse, up 5; Public Service of New Jersey, up 2¾; Consolidated Edison, up 2⅜.

London Market Irregular.

LONDON, Oct. 25. — [Special.] — Stocks rallied somewhat near the close today after ruling weak during most of the session. Early weakness was attributed to the slump in New York on Saturday and to continued strain in international affairs. The late rally was uneven, and some issues made little or no recoveries from their lows.

RUMOR RESERVE BOARD CHANGE IN MARGIN RULES

New York, Oct. 25.—[Special.]—The continued silence of the board of governors of the federal reserve system on any contemplated changes in the margin requirements for the carrying of securities has had Wall street mystified during the last week. Today, however, the financial district had reports that the board was preparing to lower the requirements for purchases and increase the margin for short sales.

However, late in the afternoon the governors indicated that they would have no ruling at this time. Most observers believe that the reserve officials are holding their rulings in abeyance pending the outcome of the present swings in the market.

Oak Park Sells Funding Bond Issue at Premium

Nine bids, all of par or over, for an issue of $115,000 of funding bonds were opened last night at a meeting of the Oak Park village board, and the bid of the First National bank of Chicago, offering a premium of $405, was accepted. Village President James Howe said the money would be available in about 15 days to pay $70,000 owed to 306 village employés in back salaries. The remaining cash will go toward other village indebtedness.

Dr. Viner Casts Doubt on U. S. Budget Status

Dr. Jacob Viner.

Whether the federal government's budget will be balanced in the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1938, depends upon "imponderables," Dr. Jacob Viner, University of Chicago professor of economics and special advisor to Secretary of Treasury Henry Morgenthau Jr., said yesterday. Dr. Viner spoke on "Federal Finances" before the Hyde Park League of Women Voters at the First Unitarian church, 57th street and Woodlawn avenue.

"The President, the secretary of the treasury and the director of the budget say that the budget will be balanced in 1939," he said. "I believe they intend sincerely to do so. But whether they actually will balance the budget depends upon imponderables. Any statement about the budget for a year which is not yet begun must be conjectural."

Discusses Broader Taxation.

Dr. Viner indicated a belief that the government has taxed the rich as heavily as is expedient, but that it has not appreciably taxed the middle class incomes.

"If there were any real danger in the federal finances, congress could put a stop to that danger by taxing the middle incomes," he said.

The effective pressure upon the government is all in the direction of not balancing the budget, Dr. Viner said.

"If the stock market continues to behave as it has in the last few months," he added, "pressure from business men and bankers will demand that federal expenditures be not cut down too fast."

He called attention to the pressure of agricultural organizations as a factor in continuing an unbalanced budget.

"These organizations," he said, "have power and will exercise it as unscrupulously as any political group."

Analyzes Current Downturn.

On the subject of the recent downtrend of business and security prices, Dr. Viner said:

"The only real source of danger to the federal financial setup now existing is that a large and influential part of the public thinks the federal finances are in danger and psychologically they create the danger they think they see.

"I do not think we are entering a depression now. I will make an amateur half hearted forecast that the year 1938 will be a better year than 1937."

MORGENTHAU UNCERTAIN.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 25.—[Special.]—Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau Jr. today shied away from any budget balancing predictions along the lines hinted by President Roosevelt in recent speeches and letters to members of congress.

The secretary was asked whether he contemplated balancing expenditures and governmental income in the budget for the fiscal year starting next July 1.

"How can I tell?" said Morgenthau. "How does annybody know?" The answer will be given when the President sends his budget message to congress in January, and until then nobody can know."

COURT TO GET PLAN FOR PAYING DEFAULTED BONDS OF 2 THEATERS

Holders of approximately $450,000 of bonds issued against the Senate and Belpark theaters, in default as to interest and principal for about five years, will be paid the full amount of their holdings plus accrued interest under an offer to be filed this morning before Federal Judge Charles E. Woodward on behalf of the Balaban & Katz corporation, the company announced last night.

The petition is being presented in connection with the pending bankruptcy proceedings relating to Lubliner and Trinz Theaters, Inc., all the common stock of which is held by Balaban & Katz.

The petition will state that Balaban & Katz will offer to buy all the assets of Lubliner & Trinz for a consideration that will be sufficient to discharge all claims against the latter concern and two of its subsidiaries, the Senate Building corporation and the Belmont Amusement company. If the sale is approved all outstanding bonds of the two subsidiary corporations, except those already purchased by Balaban & Katz, will be paid in cash at par and accrued interest. The Senate theater is at 3128-46 West Madison street and the Belpark theater at Cicero and Belmont.

FIND INDUSTRIES ARE LESS ACTIVE IN MIDDLE WEST

A decline in industrial activity during September in the seventh federal reserve district was reported yesterday by the Federal Reserve bank of Chicago. A majority of the reporting industrial groups, however, had a larger output than in September, 1936, and sales of most commodities expanded more than seasonally. A slight decline in industrial employment was reported.

Steel output last month averaged about 30 points lower than a year ago and automobile production reached the low point for this year. Building construction, based on contracts awarded, declined with sales of building materials. Packing house commodities rose during the month, but were still below last year and the 1927-'36 average.

Among the companies reporting reduced earnings were Checker Cab Manufacturing, Consolidated Edison of New York, General Foods, and Yale & Towne Manufacturing.

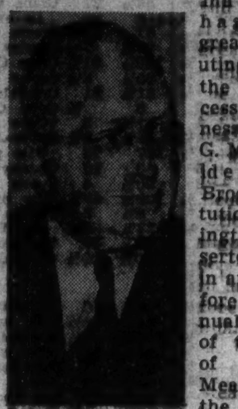
Dr. Moulton Lays Trade Slump to Labor's Pay and Hour Drive



Dr. H. G. Moulton.

Labor's aggressive drive during the first quarter of 1937 for shorter hours and higher wages has been the greatest contributing factor to the current recession in business, Dr. Harold G. Moulton, president of the Brookings Institution of Washington, D. C., asserted yesterday in an address before the 32d annual convention of the Institute of American Meat Packers at the Drake hotel.

Gradual increases in pay during the preceding three years were accompanied by proportional gains in efficiency, he said, but the sharp wage advances of 1937 were wholly unrelated to efficiency.

Price Advance Made Necessary.

"Hence," he asserted, "an advance in prices was necessary if profits were to be maintained. Admidst the stress, confusion, and fear that existed, prices were advanced rapidly and a vicious spiral of rising costs, rising prices, and further increases in costs appeared in prospect, destroying the existing balance and altering the whole course of events."

This change, Moulton said, was augmented by failure of the government to make more than slight improvement in its fiscal operations; checking the commercial inflation movement; increased international tension, and threats of further governmental regulation of business.

Moulton said the fact that this recession began before, rather than after a great period of industrial expansion, indicates a relatively quick period of recovery.

"The need for houses and other durable goods remains a stimulating force," he continued. "In this respect the situation resembles 1921, rather than 1929.

"Agricultural purchasing power appears certain to remain relatively large for some months to come. This, together with high wages for those employed, and continued relief to those out of work, means a much better than ordinary maintenance of ultimate demand than is often the case in the early stages of depression.

Decreases Termed Helpful.

"The recent substantial reduction in raw material prices has been distinctly helpful from the standpoint of manufacturing costs. On the other hand, high wage rates will be more than ordinarily difficult to modify. In such fields as housing construction, high wage rates may well continue to mean a low volume of employment and low annual income."

In general, the labor atmosphere has cleared—the movement to accomplish the millennium overnight checked by its excesses, he said.

"The government's power to influence the situation directly is not great—for interest rates are low and credit abundant, and government outlays for the purpose of stimulating business already large," Moulton added. "A manifestation of a cooperative rather than punitive attitude toward business might be of far reaching importance in restoring confidence for the future. A readjustment of certain phases of the tax structure would also be helpful."

STEEL INDUSTRY AGAIN REDUCES OPERATIONS; NOW AT 52.1 PER CENT

Operations in the steel industry are scheduled this week at 52.1 per cent of theoretical ingot capacity, the American Iron and Steel institute reported yesterday. This is a decrease of 3.7 points or 6.6 per cent from last week. A month ago the industry was operating at 74.4 per cent of capacity.

Operations in the Chicago district were reduced 2 points to 40.9 per cent of capacity. A month ago operations in this district were at 74.4 per cent.

In the corresponding week of 1936 the national ingot production rate was 74.3 per cent, an increase of .1 of a point over the preceding week. In the same week of 1935 the schedule was 51.9 per cent, a gain of .1 point over the week before, and in 1934 the rate was 25 per cent of capacity, an increase of 1.1 points over the preceding week.

MORE JAPANESE GOLD TAKEN FOR SHIPMENT TO U. S.

New York, Oct. 25.—[Special.]—The third of what is understood to be a series of heavy gold engagements in Japan for shipment to this country was revealed today when the federal reserve bank announced that $6,600,000 of the metal had been taken in Japan, the same amount that was engaged on Saturday.

Today's engagement will raise the total amount of gold sent to United States from Japan since March 8 to $100,800,000. The new shipments are the first from Japan in approximately six weeks.

The French franc declined 0.02 cent today in foreign exchange transactions, closing at 3.365 cents. Other European currencies moved in narrow ranges. The British pound gained 1-16th cent to close at $4.95⅛, and the Swiss franc rose 0.005 cent.

COURT DENIES GRAIN EXCHANGE ACT REHEARING

Hands Down Several Business Decisions.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 25.—[Special.]—The Supreme court today denied a request by a group of Chicago grain dealers for a rehearing of litigation challenging the constitutionality of the federal commodity exchange act. This ruling was one of a number affecting business interests handed down by the court today.

The commodity case was brought by the partners of James E. Bennett & Co. and by F. S. Lewis & Co., the Uhlmann Grain company, Bartlett Frazier company, and others against the Chicago Board of Trade, the secretaries of agriculture and commerce, the attorney general of the United States, and various other officials.

Original Finding Upheld.

Today's action reaffirms the Supreme court's original ruling earlier this year to the effect that it would not review the case. The petition for rehearing had been based upon the fact that subsequent to the filing of the original petition last July the secretary of agriculture had issued a series of administrative regulations under the commodity exchange act.

The Duke Power company was granted a Supreme court review of a Circuit court decision which several months ago held the Public Works administration's municipal power program constitutional in the case of a federal loan and grant to Greenwood county, South Carolina, for the building of an electric generating plant. The court advanced the case for argument to Dec. 6, indicating the possibility of a decision early next year.

Buzzard's Roost Plant.

The case concerns a $2,852,000 generating plant at Buzzard's Roost on the Caluda river, which was approved three years ago and has been in litigation ever since. A year ago the Supreme court returned the case to the lower court for reargument be-

Commodities

Commodity prices were mixed yesterday, with upturns in hides, rubber, and cotton futures offset by weakness in metals and irregularity in coffee and sugar. The Dow-Jones commodity futures index at the close stood at 55.99, up .12 point.

Standard and electrolytic copper broke sharply on the London metal exchange, bringing the day's electrowire bar equivalent to 10.83 cents a pound from 11.28 cents on Saturday. Domestic copper was unchanged at 12 cents a pound.

A reduction of a quarter cent a pound was announced for zinc, bringing the price down to 5.75 cents a pound. At the height of the speculative boom last July zinc at East St. Louis sold at 7.50 cents a pound. Yesterday marked the third reduction in October, the price being marked down to 6.25 cents a pound on Oct. 7 and to 6 cents a pound on Oct. 16.

Hides closed .09 to .12 cent higher, the December delivery selling at 12.05 cents a pound, March at 12.40 to 12.50 cents, and June at 12.71 to 12.80 cents. Rubber closed .26 to .31 cent higher, with the October delivery bringing 15.52 cents.

Cottonseed oil, after declining .08 to .11 cent, rallied sharply and closed .02 to .05 cent higher.

Egg futures on the Chicago Mercantile exchange dropped to new low ground for the season, closing off ⅜ to ½ cent at the lowest October level since 1933. Cash eggs were steady.

ANOTHER SLASH IN COTTON CROP ORDERED BY AAA

Will Cut 2,000,000 Acres from 1938 Planting.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 25.—(AP)—The AAA made a 2,000,000 acre reduction today in the cotton crop goal for next year. Approving the 1938 agricultural conservation program, Secretary Wallace fixed its "goal" so far as cotton is concerned at 27,000,000 to 29,000,000 acres. The goal previously had been placed at 29,000,000 to 31,000,000 acres.

Officials of the agricultural adjustment administration said the change was decided upon because of the unusually large cotton crop this year. The goal is to be divided by areas and individual farms, and growers will be required to limit their plantings to their share of it in order to qualify for government benefit payments.

Hope to Cut Cotton Crop.

Authorities estimated that the reduction in the acreage goal would mean about 68,000 bales less cotton, if yields next year averaged the normal amount to 170 pounds an acre.

In view of the government forecast of a 17,500,000-bale crop this year, AAA representatives said, the reduction was necessary to keep acreage "more in line with needs." To prevent the acreage cut from diminishing federal rewards for coöperating growers, the rate of benefit payments was increased from 2 cents a pound to 2.4 cents on the normal yield of each acre.

Officials fixed a potato planting goal for next year of 3,100,000 to 3,300,000 acres, compared with a 1928-1937 annual average of 3,346,000 acres.

How Payments Will Be Based.

In addition to rewards for compliance with acreage limitations on these and other "soil-depleting" crops, payments to coöperating farmers under the 1938 program will be based on acreage in soil-conserving crops, restoration land, non-crop pasture land, commercial orchards and commercial vegetables. Restoration land is plowed acreage returned to grass.

Officials pointed out that the program still is dependent on congressional action, since the actual appropriation for next year's payments has not been made. The next step in placing the program in operation, they said, would be the issuance of regulations for each state or region.

MORGAN'S FIRM DENIES CHARGE OF COAL CONTROL

New York, Oct. 25.—[Special.]—J. P. Morgan & Co. today issued a statement characterizing as "sheer nonsense" the release issued Sunday by the anthracite coal industry commission at Philadelphia charging the Morgan interests and "a group of allied banking institutions" with dominating both anthracite producing companies and anthracite carrying railroads.

"In matters of such magnitude it is unfortunate that the real facts should be passed over and fanciful theories be substituted," the Morgan statement said.

Jackson E. Reynolds, chairman of the First National Bank of New York, named as one of the "allied" institutions, said: "A newspaper states that the author of the report is Maudlin. It seems to me that the report also is accurately described as maudlin."

Prof. James W. Angell of Columbia university, a member of the anthracite coal industry commission, said that the commission's report was written by C. V. Maudlin, managing director of the federal bureau of applied economics, and was not an expression of opinion by the commission, which has not yet acted on the report.

CHARGES FIRMS BOUGHT UP OIL TO RAISE PRICES

Madison, Wis., Oct. 25.—(AP)—Government attorneys sought to prove with the aid of a series of letters today that major oil companies purchased gasoline for which they had no need in a program of buying up small refineries' surplus output in 1935 and 1936 in the midcontinent oil field. The government charges 23 major companies entered into two buying programs as part of a conspiracy to raise and fix gasoline prices in the midwest.

Special Prosecutor Hammond Chaffetz read to the jury eight interoffice letters of Skelly Oil company officials. In one of them W. T. Atkins, Skelly official at Kansas City, wrote to James Nagle of the Tulsa office, who is one of the defendants, that sales of third grade gasoline were falling off and that such gasoline was only 9 per cent of the company's retail business.

On the same day Atkins sent another letter containing the statements "we are buying none for our own requirements" and "in the buying program we are obligated for about 50 to 60 cars of outside material, largely third grade, a month."

FIND CURRENCY EXCHANGES ENJOY THRIVING TRADE

New Business, Product of Depression, Grows.

A relatively new business, the product of the depression years, is steadily expanding in Chicago and many other cities. It is the currency exchange that performs many of the functions that were formerly reserved to banks.

Organized to provide facilities for cashing checks and making change in communities without banking facilities, the currency exchanges have continued to prosper although a number of new banks have been organized. They operate strictly on a fee basis. They are competitors of the banks to some degree, as many banks are now charging fees for services that were formerly rendered free of charge.

Replace Closed Banks.

Many communities in Chicago found themselves without banking facilities as a result of bank liquidations and suspensions during the depression years. The number of banks in Chicago declined from 222 in 1929 to about 55 in 1933. Currency exchanges immediately sprang up.

A number of new banks have replaced those closed, but the currency exchange business has continued to grow. Today there are more than a hundred of them in Chicago and suburbs.

Most of the currency exchanges are operated by companies who control several units. Their business consists of cashing checks, selling money orders and stamps, and accepting payments on utility bills. The fees vary. A charge of 10 to 25 cents is usually made for cashing a pay roll check, depending on the amount of cash involved. Business and personal checks are assessed 10 to 35 cents.

Identification Is Required.

Checks are cashed for persons who can furnish identification. The cashiers have had previous banking experience. Part of the identification is a quick sizing up of the customer. Losses are comparatively small.

At the Randolph street station of the Illinois Central railway a currency exchange has been in operation for the last three months. It is one of eight belonging to the Check Agency and Loan corporation. During that period J. F. Perring, who manages the unit, has cashed 6,500 checks and has had only one bad one. The person passing the "rubber" check showed the cashier a note for $10,000 on a large loop bank as identification. Perring has turned down only fifteen persons. One of them is now in jail, he said.

Make Reserve for Losses.

Perring says the company is not insured against losses on bad checks, except in the case of forgery. It puts aside money each month to take care of "rubber" checks and losses are not deducted from employes' wages.

"But," Perring said, "if you cash three or four in succession that bounce—it's your job."

Stricter identification is required for out of town checks. Drivers' licenses or lodge cards are preferred. Most of the exchange cubicles are built of sheet iron and chromium with bullet proof glass windows. The exchanges use a bank to clear their checks.

WARN NEW TRADE TREATY TO MAKE MANY IDLE IN U. S.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 25.—(AP)—A proposed trade treaty with Czechoslovakia was discussed before a government committee today as a threat to the jobs of thousands of American workers.

Five members of congress joined with representatives of half a dozen industries in warning the committee on reciprocity information that any lowering of tarif barriers would be reflected in reduced payrolls of American industries. Two representatives of agriculture supported the proposed pact.

Representaives Rogers, Bates, and Wigglesworth, Republicans, and Connery, Democrat, all of Massachusetts, asserted industry would suffer severely if barriers against shoes and textile imports are raised. T. J. Needham, speaking for the Rubber Manufacturers' association, told the committee foreign manufacturers have virtually eliminated America from the world market through lower costs and prices.

CORN FUTURES PRICES RISE ON EXPORT BUYING

Wheat Market Cancels Part of Early Gain.

CHICAGO GRAIN FUTURES

	Yesterday.	Saturday.	Yr. ago.
Wheat	$ .97⅝	$ .97¼	$1.15½
Corn	.58⅝	.57⅞	.94¾
Oats	.30¼	.30⅝	.41
Rye	.74⅝	.72¾	.83½
Soy beans	.97	.96½	1.26½

Corn was the market leader in grains yesterday. Reports indicating as much as 250,000 bushels had been sold for export, the first appreciable business in several years, resulted in general buying of futures. Part of the upturn was lost, but closing prices were ¼ to ⅞ cent a bushel higher.

An official report indicating supplies of Argentine carn were nearly exhausted and an early advance of 2 cents a bushel in Buenos Aires, which sent the December delivery in Chicago to a discount of 7 cents under Buenos Aires prices, bolstered hopes that the United States might be able to export large quantities of corn this winter.

Wheat Loses Part of Gain.

Wheat futures advanced 1⅛ cents a bushel in sympathy with firmness in Liverpool and the upturn in securities, but there was only a small foreign demand for hard winters despite the fact Liverpool went to the biggest premium over Chicago so far this season. Profit taking reduced part of the upturn here and the close was only ½ cent a bushel higher. Export sales of North American wheat yesterday were estimated at a million bushels.

Winnipeg closed ⅜ cent lower to 1⅛ cents higher, and Liverpool finished 1⅝ cents lower to 1⅝ cents higher, October showing weakness due to deliveries of 664,000 bushels on futures contracts.

Ignore Damage Reports.

No attention was paid to reports that black rust had been discovered in wheat fields in the eastern part of the province of Cordoba, Argentina. Light rains fell over the weekend in that country which will be beneficial for the new wheat crop.

A decrease of 3,145,000 bushels in the domestic visible supply of wheat brought the total down to 125,057,000 bushels. A year ago stocks were 71,470,000 bushels.

COURT DENIES GRAIN EXCHANGE ACT REHEARING

Hands Down Several Business Decisions.

The Guaranty Trust company of New York and a group of other financial interests and individuals lost in an attempt to avoid answering a bill of complaint filed in a federal District court in Missouri by Guy A. Thompson, trustee of the Missouri Pacific Railroad company. The Supreme court refused to pass upon a decision by the Eighth District Circuit Court of Appeals holding that the District court had jurisdiction.

The Missouri Pacific is being reorganized. In 1930 it contracted with Terminal Shares, Inc., to buy securities costing $16,000,000. Terminal Shares entered into a trust indenture with the Guaranty Trust company pledging the securities for payment of the $16,000,000.

Argues Contract Invalid.

Thompson argued that the purchase contracts were invalid, charging that they were "the result of coercion" by Alleghany corporation, former Van Sweringen holding company. He contended that if he were denied relief he would be deprived of "any actual recovery in a case involving one of the most flagrant modern instances of corporate wrongdoing." Alleghany corporation controled the voting stock of the Missouri Pacific, and the late O. P. and M. J. Van Sweringen controled both Alleghany and Terminal Shares.

Guaranty Trust in its petition argued that if the circuit court ruling was not reversed "your petitioners must appear and answer a bill under protest and litigate the question whether the facts alleged by the plaintif, if proved, establish a lien against the securities which are pledged."

Other Court Rulings.

Thompson's complaint was directed at the Guaranty Trust, the Marine Midland Trust company, of New York, Douglass & Co., Terminal Shares, Inc., the Alleghany corporation, and John P. Murphy, Henry A. Marting and John J. Murray.

The court refused to consider a case involving the constitutionality of the Indiana statute providing for state taxation of the property of municipally owned public utilities. The city of South Bend had charged that the law providing for taxation of its water works deprived it of property without due process of law. The Indiana Supreme court had upheld the law.

Kellogg company, Battle Creek, Mich., cereal manufacturer, was denied a review of a federal circuit court opinion ordering an injunction against it preventing the company from using the words "shredded wheat" and from marketing a breakfast food in the form of "Shredded Wheat," now marketed by the National Biscuit company.

SEPTEMBER RAIL PROFITS DECLINE SHARPLY FROM '36

Gross Income Near Total Last Year.

Net railway operating income of the New York Central railroad and leased lines in September amounted to $3,165,634 after deductions for depreciation and retirements, but before fixed charges, the company announced yesterday. This compared with $4,356,071 on the same basis in the corresponding month last year. Total railway operating revenues amounted to $30,603,439, compared with $30,568,132 a year ago. Railway operating expenses rose to $24,127,363 from $22,781,055 in September, 1936.

The Wabash railroad reported a decline in net operating income for September to $281,000, from $444,750 in the same month in 1936. Gross operating revenues totaled $3,823,950, against $3,845,303 in 1936. Operating expenses in September increased from $2,915,065 in 1936 to $3,038,048 this year.

Northern Pacific Figures.

The Northern Pacific railroad reported a decrease of $124,089 in September net operating income, despite an increase of $66,789 in gross revenues for the month over last year. Net operating income for September totaled $1,932,640, and total operating income was $6,754,459. Net operating income for the nine months ended Sept. 30 amounted to $8,059,283, an increase of $2,356,556 over the same period in 1936.

The Missouri Pacific reported net operating income for September of $877,967, against $981,964 in 1936.

PRICES OF LIVE STOCK DECLINE SHARPLY AGAIN

Some Grades Reach New Lows for 1937.

Another severe decline swept practically all branches of the live stock market yesterday. The break carried some classes of meat animals to new 1937 lows. All except top grades of longfed steers sold substantially under the year's high point, and it was the opinion of the trade that the decline has not yet run its course.

Top slaughter lambs sold at $9.85, lowest since last December and $3.50 under the 1937 high in this branch, a decline of 26 per cent. Hogs topped at $10, a loss of $3.75, or 27 per cent, from the high day. The top for steers at $19.50 was down only 40 cents from the peak, a decline of only 2 per cent.

Other Cattle Lose More.

All other classes of cattle show substantially more loss from the high point of the year, and these were under pressure again yesterday. The bulk of steers met another demoralized trade, declining 25 cents to $1 from last week's low close.

Quality was poorest of the season as farmers, alarmed by the long decline of the markets, unloaded large numbers of grassfed and unfinished steers that had been on feed only a short period. Numerous loads of such kinds cashed at $6.50 to $8.50. Cattle at $9 to $10 carried surprisingly good flesh considering that there was a $19.50 top. The latter price was given for a shipment of 1,270 pound averages. Few others sold above $17, with the bulk at $8.75 to $16.25. Cows and hefers declined unevenly, with the clearance the poorest in months. Calves sold $1 below last Thursday.

Lambs Sharply Lower.

Price cuts of 25 to 50 cents were general in the lamb market. Shippers paid the $9.85 top for natives, but packers bought mostly downwards from $9.75. Good Montana rangers cashed at $9.50. Fed California shorn lambs went at $8.75. Heavy feeders slumped sharply, selling at $9.25 to $9.75. Best light feeders were quoted at $10 to $10.25. Top old ewes were off 50 cents at $4.00.

Soon after a limited order for top hogs had been filled at $10, the market slumped 15 to 35 cents, closing with top grades at $9.70. The day's average was off 20 cents at $9.45.

OMAHA RECEIPTS SET RECORD.

Omaha, Neb., Oct. 25.—[Special.]—Total cattle and calf receipts of 34,838 head at the South Omaha stock yards today broke all records for the exchange's fifty year history. The previous high on Oct. 13, 1924, was 32,144 head. Cause of the heavy run was apparently the cleanup of range cattle from Nebraska sandhills, Wyoming, Colorado, and South Dakota.

Cotton Ginnings This Year Sharply Above 1936 Period

Washington, D. C., Oct. 25.—(AP)—The census bureau reported today that cotton of this year's growth ginned prior to Oct. 18 totaled 11,068,319 running bales, compared with 8,569,476 bales to that date last year, and 6,590,402 bales in 1935.

Interstate Bakeries.

Investors' Guide: Please give me what information you can on Interstate Bakeries.—C. F. G.

Answer: Interstate Bakeries corporation and its subsidiaries own and operate 22 baking plants in Chicago, Cincinnati, Omaha, Kansas City, Los Angeles, San Diego, and 11 other cities in Illinois, Ohio, Michigan, Iowa, Missouri, Nebraska, and California.

Stockholders are to vote Nov. 8 on a recapitalization plan by which Interstate and its subsidiaries would be merged. Schulze stockholders vote Oct. 29. The plan is designed to effect tax savings, simplify corporate structure, release working capital for expanding Schulze business, and permit resumption of preferred dividends.

Interstate proposes to assume $2,778,200 of subsidiary bonds and mortgages. It would issue 70,890 shares of $5 dividend preferred and 307,377 shares of $1 par common in exchange for subsidiary and parent company stocks outstanding. The new company would be fifth largest in the industry.

Rates of exchange proposed: 1.4 new preferred shares and 2 new common shares for each Schulze preferred share; 3 new preferred shares for each 5 Schulze $3 preference shares; 1 new common share for each 2 Schulze common; 1.4 new preferred shares and 1 new common share for each Interstate preferred share; 1 new share for each old share of Interstate common stock. All Western Bakeries stock is owned by Interstate.

The recapitalization would wipe out preferred dividend arrears and permit payment of dividends on the new preferred, and common, if justified by earnings. The company has announced its intention to begin preferred payments as soon as recapitalization is effected.

Consolidated net income was $146,000 before subsidiary preferred dividends in the 36 weeks ended Sept. 11, 1936. This would have been equal to $2.06 a share on proposed new preferred.

Figures before subsidiary dividends showed net income of $125,000 in 1936 and losses of $215,000, $232,000, $260,000, and $320,000 in the preceding four years. Sales volume runs more than $16,000,000 a year, but profit margins have not been satisfactory.

No dividends have been paid on present stocks since 1931.

If the recapitalization is approved, stocks still should be considered highly speculative although the preferred will be in a fair position if earnings continue to improve.

SECURITY TRADE IN SEPTEMBER IS OVER 1¾ BILLION

Washington, D. C., Oct. 25.—(AP)—Sales on all registered securities exchanges totaled $1,761,098,549 during September, an increase of 37.9 per cent over August but a drop of 6.4 per cent from September, last year.

Of the total stock sales, including rights and warrants, had a value of $1,601,793,211 in September, an increase of 43.1 per cent over August. The stock sales aggregated 65,761,719 shares, or 70.5 per cent, over the August total.

The sharper increase in the number of shares than in the value of stocks sold reflected a depreciation of values last month.

Day By Day Story of the Experimental Farms

Lespedeza Pasture

October 25, 1937.

COREAN lespedeza seeded in an alfalfa meadow at the Tribune's Wheaton farm last spring continues to furnish more pasture than the lambs can graze. More than 200 lambs were turned into the field nearly two months ago, and the lespedeza now is higher than it was then. Although there have been some heavy frosts, the plants apparently have not been injured. Many of them are six to eight inches tall. They averaged about four inches when the lambs were turned in.

The lespedeza originally was intended for hay. The seed was sown in the alfalfa at the rate of sixteen pounds to the acre after many of the alfalfa plants had been winter killed. The farm manager thought the lespedeza might get high enough to furnish some hay by the time the second crop of alfalfa was ready to harvest. Grasshoppers damaged both the alfalfa and the lespedeza after the first cutting of hay was removed, and it was decided to pasture the field instead of trying to get a second crop of hay.

Expected to Reseed.

Late summer rains revived the lespedeza plants, and they made rapid growth for several weeks. Most of them now are ripening and turning a reddish brown color. There is a good stand over most of the field of fourteen and a half acres, and the plants are expected to mature plenty of seed to insure a crop next year.

This annual variety of lespedeza does not get high enough to furnish much pasture in this region until near the middle of summer, but from then until cold weather it seems to provide as much grazing per acre as any pasture crop grown. It also fits well into the pasture program by filling in the gap from midsummer to early fall when bluegrass usually is dried up.

A small plot seeded in a test field at the farm in the spring of 1935 has produced an abundant crop of seeds for the third consecutive season. Even during the drouth of 1936 the crop made a good showing. The plants were clipped that year when mature, and the seeds threshed out, but enough shattered on the ground to give a thick stand again last spring.

Makes Ranker Growth.

Harbin lespedeza, an early strain of Corean, also was seeded in the test field in the spring of 1935 and has done well each year since. The Harbin usually makes a ranker growth than the Coreans and matures earlier in the fall. It probably would not be as satisfactory as Corean for late fall pasture becaues of its early maturity. Harbin never has been tried on a field basis at the Wheaton place.

Sericea, a perennial lespedeza, was sown at the same time the annual varieties were planted. Roots of these plants lived through one winter in good shape and produced a heavy crop of plants the second year. Last winter, however, most of the roots died and only a few scattered plants grew in the plot this year, indicating that this variety may produce no more than two good crops in this climate without being reseeded.

COTTON

Cotton markets were unsettled yesterday, heavy hedging sales and pressure from Europe and India causing an early decline, but later there was buying based on the strength in securities. The best prices were not maintained, with the close on the Chicago Board of Trade .06 cent lower to .04 cent higher. Other American markets were unchanged to .06 cent a pound lower.

Announcement was made yesterday Japan would restrict imports of cotton to 280,000 bales per month, although larger amounts could be purchased in case of an increase in exports of textiles.

The census bureau reported 11,068,000 bales of cotton ginned from Aug. 1 to Oct. 18, compared with 8,569,000 bales during the same period in 1936. Spot cotton closed unchanged, with New Orleans, 8.20 cents; New York, 8.35 cents, and Galveston and Houston at 8 cents a pound. Prices follow:

Corporate Management.

Good management is essential to any successful company; without it few companies can endure for long. Because a corporation is large, because its products are nationally advertised, because they are widely known and on sale everywhere, does not mean that securities of that concern are a good investment.

Many times, of course, stock of such a concern is a good investment. It is not gross business that counts, however, but net income available for stockholders.

A company might be doing a tremendous business but it must earn enough to pay for depreciation, interest on bonds, and other charges, and have enough left to pay dividends to stockholders for its stock to be a good investment.

A small company, efficiently managed, may offer greater investment opportunity than a large concern which is not operated economically. Knowledge of the character and management of a company is a prime requisite in the purchase of securities.
